

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2009 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

<http://www.archive.org/details/southerncolumns362coll>

SOUTHERN COLUMNS

SEP 18 '84
McKELTUM LIBRARY
Southern Missionary College
College, Tennessee 37315

The Magazine of Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists

Volume 36, No. 2, 1984

New Academic Dean
William Allen

Concert Band Tours Caribbean

95th ANNIVERSARY
HOMECOMING
Graysville, Tennessee, SDA Church
October 26 & 27

The Graysville, Tennessee, SDA Church will celebrate the 95th anniversary of its founding by a homecoming for the Graysville Church and School on October 26 and 27.

The Friday night and Sabbath meetings will feature Elder Robert Pierson as speaker.

All Graysville alumni and friends are invited.

The SC Alumni Association is preparing graduation pins for those nurses who graduated from Florida Hospital's program before 1958 and who took their pre-nursing classes at Southern College.

Please correspond with the Division of Nursing, Southern College, P.O. Box 370, Collegedale, Tennessee 37315, if you are interested in obtaining a pin.

Alumni President's Message

Homecoming: A Taste of Heaven

The most pleasant, and I may add, the most time consuming work of your Alumni Executive Committee is planning for Homecoming. We sit down with the lists of honor classes and reminisce over the names and our associations with them. "Do you remember ...?" "Were you there the time ...?" "What ever happened to ...?" "It was the first year I was here ...!" and ad infinitum.

Homecoming means something different to each of us. For me, I am at home. I went through 16 years of fun and "torture" in these schools! To others Homecoming is a trip back, a returning to the past ... a seeking for se through the empty halls and strange surroundings. Seeing the young and changing faces of students and knowing that it is we who are the strangers, like Rip Van Winkle, we feel obscure. Then when we meet a teacher or classmate, we thrill because the past lives again.

Just recently at Homecoming, an ancient face approached me, one of my favorite teachers. "Do you remember the school year that I was sick for two weeks?" I asked. "Thought I would never pass!" She laid a wizened little hand upon my arm and said, "Oh, had you only known. There was no danger of failing ... I wouldn't have put up with you two years in a row, dear. Such lovely friends. Such pleasant memories.

We walk about the beautiful campus and try to decide where old Talge Hall stood. See the blazing colors of leaves upon the hills? Fall is in the air. It even goes a out and rains on better years.

Yes, Homecoming is a wonderful experience, a small taste of heaven in advance. But someone is always missing. Were you there? Mark your calendar and make plans to be with us on November 2-4. To use the 1982 World's Fair slogan ... You've got to be there.

John W. Henson III
John W. Henson III, '54

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

I enjoyed reading Ben McArthur's survey of the issue surrounding the nuclear armament debate. One approach not mentioned is the use of non-nuclear defensive weapons like those in President Reagan's "High Frontier" proposal. A major goal of High Frontier is to reduce the likelihood of a nuclear first strike on the U.S. by reducing the effectiveness of the first strike itself. A Department of Defense project concluded that this was feasible back in 1962! So much for thoughtful strategic defense still consists largely of threats of retaliation and very little in the way of concrete and steel to shield against nuclear attack. For more information you might want to write to High Frontier, 1010 Vermont Avenue, Suite 1000, Washington, DC 20005. In general, I feel we should "quench the fiery darts" of the enemy, not return fire.

Sincerely,
Wayne Salha
Physics,
Huntsville, AL

SOUTHERN COLUMNS

The official magazine of Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists, published by the Alumni Association to provide news and information to former students and to the Southern Union family.

Southern College Alumni Association
Collegedale, Tennessee 37315
(615) 238-2026

Office hours: Weekdays 8 a.m. - 5 p.m.
Fridays 8 a.m. - 12 noon

FORGIVE US. Your name may be on more than one mailing list. If you receive more than one SOUTHERN COLUMNS, won't you please pass the extra copy on to a friend? You may also write to us at the address listed above. Thank you.

Alumni Association Officers 1984-1986

JOHN WM. HENSON III, '54	President
DR. ROBERT LORREN, '57	President-Elect
SUSAN BOYD MILLER, '63	Past President

Executive Committee Members

EVONNE KUTZNER CROOK, '79	ED NEAL, '70
LOIS HILDERBRANDT MOORE, '72	DR. ROBERT LORREN, '57
NELSON THORESEN, '74	SUSAN BOYD MILLER, '63
JOHN WM. HENSON III, '54

The College

JOHN WAGNER	President
WILLIAM ALLEN	Vice President for Academic Administration
RICHARD REINER	Vice President for Finance
EVERETT SCHLISNER	Vice President for Student Services
JACK McCLARTY	Vice President for Development and Alumni Relations
RON BARROW	Vice President for Admissions and College Relations
WILLIAM TAYLOR	Director of Alumni Relations
KENNETH R. DAVIS	Associate Director of Alumni Relations
VINITA SAUDER	Director of Public Relations

Staff of SOUTHERN COLUMNS

VINITA SAUDER	Editor
WENDY RIPLEY, KEN ROZELL, DORIS BURDICK	News Writers
PETE PRINS	Photographer
CHERIE SMITH	Secretary
ROBIN HALVORSEN	Circulation Manager

SOUTHERN COLUMNS Editorial Board

KENNETH R. DAVIS, Chairman	KENNETH SPEARS
WILLIAM TAYLOR	FRANCES ANDREWS
VINITA SAUDER	RON BARROW
ROBIN HALVORSEN	JOHN WM. HENSON III
EVERETT SCHLISNER	JACK McCLARTY

POSTMASTER — SOUTHERN COLUMNS is published quarterly by Southern College. Second class postage paid at Collegedale, Tenn.
POSTMASTERS: Send Form 3579 to SOUTHERN COLUMNS, Collegedale, TN 37315. (USPS 420-400)

COPYRIGHT — The entire contents of SOUTHERN COLUMNS is copyrighted by Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists, © 1984.

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

In the issue of SOUTHERN COLUMNS for the first quarter of '84, volume 36, was a response to the editor from a Clifford Bailey of Springfield, Ohio, concerning an article in the previous issue, volume 35. The article responded to was that of Ruthi Shafer who presently holds the title to world powerlifting championships. Ruthi, a working woman and graduate of Southern College, is the daughter of a Seventh-day Adventist minister. Mr. Bailey referred to Ruthi as a "Samson-like woman with bulging muscles who ought to turn off even a most lecherous man." He also admitted to being accused of being a "woman hater" over the years since he has been an Adventist since the year 1938. Mr. Bailey's bold statements and opinionated attitudes were prejudiced and hypocritical of the Christian principles of love and acceptance that we espouse in Christ Jesus. Most especially were his statements cruel and humiliating to one who is his sister in Christ and of the same faith and teaching as he. I am sure his hurtful words would bring tears to Ruthi and her parents, as well as to Jesus Himself, Who denied no one and ministered to all as the persons they are.

Mr. Bailey also stated that we "ought not to compete with the world for what the world values," citing that the Olympics were in style even in the Apostle Paul's day, but that Paul did not participate. I am sure Ruthi does not see herself competing for worldly value, as much as she feels she is just making use of her strength and ability and keeping in good health and shape. We live in a world of diversities among men and women, and those diversities of themselves are not of themselves bad or wrong. They are only seen that way by closed, prejudiced, and rigid minds that espouse everything to be right or wrong by their own clouded view. Thank our Father in heaven that over the years even the Adventist church has had to grow and evolve in its awareness of people and their diversities. Not all women, even Christian women at that, are all a bunch of thinly, frail, and milky-white saplings who have never done anything more than fold a Communion cloth during the celebration of our Lord's ordinances. If Mr. Bailey is such a perfect specimen of what a man, and a Christian man at that, ought to be, then let him cast the first stone at Ruthi Shafer.

I was just as surprised to read Ruthi's article and to see her picture in the COLUMNS; but not for the reasons of Mr. Bailey, but because I was shocked that an Adventist periodical could print something that for face value appeared so liberal to the traditional Adventist conservatism.

In Jesus Christ our Lord,
George Reed

Corrections for the "Those Who Gave" donor list will be printed in the following edition. Please send your corrections to the editor.

DESTINY group members, left to right: (First Row) Leanne Langham, Isaac Cruz, Justine Child, Obed Cruz, Deanna Welosuk; (Second Row) Chip Conerly, Jill Penrod, David Smith, Jeannie Leatherman, Kevin Rice; (Back Row) Josette Alexis, Heide Gustafsun, Mark Wede, Elize Wessels.

DESTINY:

Acting on Principle

by Wendy Ripley and Doris Burdick

As the actors leave the stage after another performance, they don't go to dressing rooms to remove costumes and theater makeup. Instead, they go into the audience to talk and listen to those in their audience. Sometimes they even go outside together to sing with them in the moonlight.

But this is not just another performance with regular actors. These actors are dedicated young Christians from SC who share their Christ through what is called Destiny.

Destiny is a religious drama group created to use Christian drama as a medium to relate the message in a new and unique way. The "theater" may be a junior Sabbath School room, a small church, an academy chapel at vesper time. The "curtain call" may be leading out in discussions or games, maybe a time of singing, or just a chat back in the dorm.

Born four years ago, Destiny was brought into being by Frank Roman, then a student at Southern College. He and other students wanted to find a way to share how they felt about Christ with large audiences, using a vehicle that would appeal to people with a wide variety of interests and of all ages. Until this past school year, the group was entirely operated and organized by the students. David Smith, assistant professor of English, joined the group in the fall as faculty advisor. His reaction is very positive. "By the end of the year we all sensed tremendous potential and growth," he says of Destiny.

In addition to plays and skits, presentations incorporate reader theater, mime, musical selections (both vocal and instrumental), and personal testimonies. "We were fortunate this year to have so much musical talent in our group to complement the acting," states Smith. At times some things are performed impromptu, but generally scripts are adapted and thoroughly rehearsed. "We have a regular weekly practice time," says Smith. While the student director does most of the coaching, Smith is always on hand to share his contagious enthusiasm.

The group is composed of 15 students, selected from 50 who auditioned in the fall. To audition, the student is given two scenes of a religious nature and is asked to read the material with feeling. The student auditions for the student director, faculty advisor, and drama consultant of Destiny. They look for acting talent, articulation, gestures, and stage presence.

An interview allows the director and advisor to see the personal side of the student. If any come with starry illusions, the budding actor may gently learn that anti-self-glorification describes the talent search. The interview uncovers helpful information about previous drama experience the student may have had (though that is not a prerequisite), his class load, and spiritual commitment.

Under the Campus Ministry umbrella, the 1983-84 group performed for Highland Academy, Mount Pisgah Academy, Collegedale Academy, and the Ooltewah, McDonald Road, and Athens churches. A Marriage Enrichment Seminar was itself enriched by a Destiny presentation. Of several home performances, "The New Jerusalem Express" was the major production. Just before Christmas the play was presented to student peers as a Friday night vesper program.

"We've had to turn down so many offers because of lack of funds and scheduling limitations," says Justine Child, student director. "But we have been accepted with enthusiasm and open arms and hearts wherever we have gone," she continues. This is not surprising when you see the commitment and the enormous amount of enthusiasm that the students have for the group.

Coming from differing backgrounds and with fields of study ranging from pre-med and nursing to theology, English, and business, the group has really blossomed this year. "I have grown closer to God, and through Him, closer to the other students and learned how to really work as a group towards a common goal, glorifying Christ," said a member of this year's group.

This fall the group will continue

Photos by Pete Prins
and Darwin
White

under the direction of Kevin Rice, a pre-med junior who will assume the role of student director. Kevin, in his second year of Destiny, remembers how inspired he was by Destiny's visit to the academy he attended. He decided then that when he arrived at college he wanted to be a part of Destiny.

"We've already acquired a number of new scripts," Smith stated. "Hopefully next year we'll have an even greater sense of mission." In that case, Destiny members will continue to seek fulfillment of their slogan, "Our deepest desire is to know God's destiny for man." ■

The Caribbean Welcomes SC Concert Band

The Southern College Concert Band, directed by Patricia Silver, recently returned from a two-week tour of Puerto Rico, Jamaica, and Haiti.

Traveling by bus the night of May 6 to the International Airport in Miami, the band caught Capitol Airlines flight 231 for San Juan, Puerto Rico. Representatives of Bella Vista Hospital met the band members at the airport, loaded the group of 61 on two school buses, and traveled for three hours to the western end of the island. There the band performed as part of the celebrations for the 30th anniversary of the hospital.

Bella Vista Hospital, located in Mayaguez—a part of the island most tourists don't visit—served as hosts for the SC Concert Band. The hospital, along with community friends, housed and fed members of the band for the five-day visit.

Beautiful palm trees, beaches, tropical plants and trees, and pineapple fields abounded. Sunbathing, swimming, snorkeling, diving, wind-surfing, and water skiing were enjoyable sidelights of the trip for the students. Shopping, eating different foods, and visiting with friends and relatives were also part of the fun. The students had earned the relaxation, too. Fund-raising—from selling doughnuts and family portraits to writing letters and selling "fleas"—had been squeezed in with regular classwork and band rehearsals. Each student in the band was asked to raise $235. A contribution from McKee Baking Company also helped make the trip possible.

Thursday night the band performed for faculty and students at Antillian College. The concert was followed by a special trip to Phosphorescent Bay for a boat ride out to see the phosphorescent effects in the water. Early Friday morning band members left for the airport in San Juan where they boarded Air Jamaica, arriving in Kingston, Jamaica, around 5:30 p.m.

Transporting, feeding, and housing the group were the first items of business in Jamaica. Small ensemble groups had to practice for special music assignments at many different churches in Kingston. Saturday night, May 14, a large concert was hosted by Andrews Memorial Hospital in Stephanie Hall in honor of the 40th anniversary of the hospital. Featured soloists in this concert were Jerry Clark and Lloyd Harder in Severson and McDunn's "Concerto for Trumpet and Trombone" and Pal Kalmansson in Lieb's "Concertino Basso." A trumpet sextet and the percussion section were featured in "Trumpercussion" and the clarinet section served as soloists in "Clarinets Allegro."

Photos by Bob Silver

Sunday included swimming in the warm waters of the Caribbean and climbing the falls at Dunn's River Falls—one of the most lovely spots to visit in Jamaica. An interesting island tour by bus was enjoyed on the trip to West Indies College where the band performed an additional concert for faculty and students of this sister college.

The visit to Haiti, that third world country of magic and voodoo, was an unforgettable part of the tour. Members of the band were guests of Institut Adventiste Franco-Haitien, located on the edge of Port-au-Prince.

The order and beauty of this campus attracts attention to the beautiful message Adventists are called to give to the world. In a land filled with voodoo influence, Haitian Adventists well know the meaning of Deut. 31:6 — "Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them; for the Lord thy God, he it is that doth go with them; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee."

The SC Concert Band performed in "L'Auditorium Sainte Trinite" in downtown Port-au-Prince to a large capacity audience. During the concert the lights suddenly went out in one of the city's nightly blackouts. Fortunately, the school had its own generators and within 10 minutes enough light was available to continue the concert.

It was fun matching wits with the ever-present salesman who had appointed himself as guide through the famous Iron Market and downtown Port-au-Prince. An hour-and-a-half drive through the countryside, with beautiful mountains on one side and the waters of the Caribbean on the other, brought the group to a beach with excellent snorkeling.

Many health problems are to be guarded against in one's stay on the island of Haiti. SAWS (now known as Adventist Development and Relief Agency) has a full-time office and a warehouse of food in Haiti—again, trying to relieve the needs of needy people. Members of the band visited a clinic for the blind, deaf, and amputees to see something of the program being conducted for these people. Everywhere the needs were great!

Members of the band will not soon forget the parade of young people on the campus of Institut Franco-Haitien. There they saw students preparing themselves for a better life. It was an interesting experience to talk with the students and workers. All these contacts will not soon be forgotten by the Southern College students who had the opportunity to visit this nearby mission field.

Members of the Southern College Concert Band, returned to the United States on May 18. After spending Sabbath in the Orlando area, they arrived on the SC campus on May 20. Memories of the trip will be another part of those happenings which the students won't soon forget as a part of their educational experience at Southern College.

"Plans are nebulous at this point, but I hope the band can make other trips in the future," says Mrs. Silver. "I think trips like this are a good educational opportunity for the kids as well as a fun thing—and certainly they are good advertising for the school." ■

Photos

(Top left) The SC Concert Band performs for the 30th anniversary of Bella Vista Hospital in Puerto Rico

(Far left bottom) Street scene in Puerto Rico

(Bottom left) Band members board an Air Jamaica flight

(Bottom right) The chapel of Institut Adventiste Franco-Haitien, where the band performed an outside concert

(Top right) An Adventist marching band on Haiti, joined by the SC Concert Band

Second largest class in history

256 Seniors Swell Alumni Ranks

Two hundred and fifty-six seniors grasped their diplomas and walked away as graduates of Southern College on Sunday, May 6.

Members of the second largest graduating class in Southern College history were awarded 152 bachelor degrees, 114 associate degrees, and four one-year diplomas.

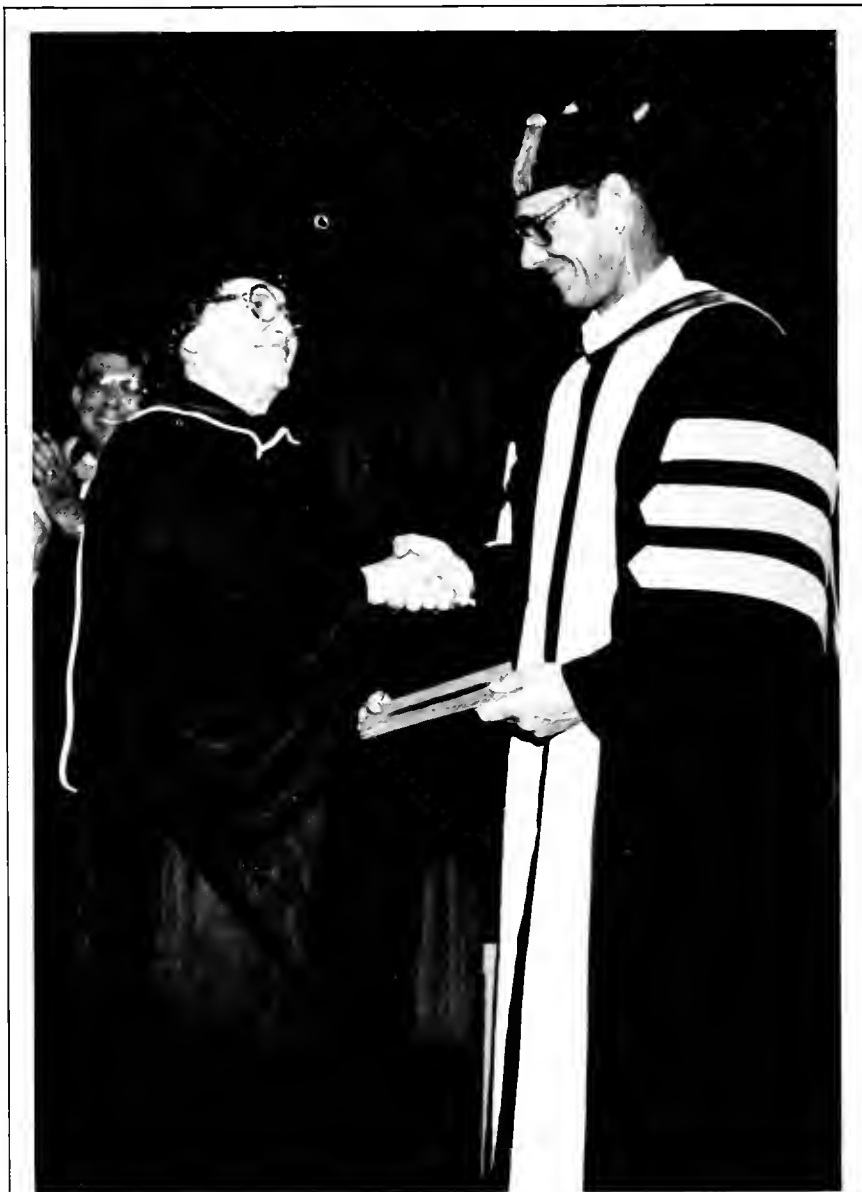

Weekend ceremonies, held in the Physical Education Center, were opened with the service of consecration on Friday evening. Peggy Bennett, associate librarian at Southern College, spoke on "1984 and Other Startling Realities."

"There are many rapid changes and confusions in our world today," Miss Bennett stated. "The substance of survival is merely coping with change." She urged the class of 1984 to avoid allowing the stress and strain of everyday living to annihilate their value system. "Look beyond the tensions and perplexities of our time and view with 20/20 vision the eternal realities."

Dr. Jan Paulsen, president of the Northern European Division, gave Saturday's baccalaureate service, "Weeding in God's Garden." Elder Paulsen urged the graduates to be open and generous with people who had shortcomings without doing away with the difference between right and wrong. "Christ said, 'Don't go weeding in my garden,'" Dr. Paulsen emphasized. "He didn't say that my conclusions about a person's spiritual life are incorrect. He said that he would take care of it himself when the time was right."

The weekend climaxed on Sunday at the commencement with Dr. Ted Mercer's speech, "Three Principles to Live By" and the conferring of diplomas on the seniors. Dr. Mercer stressed the necessity of adhering to the principles of faith, hope, and love in order to lead full, successful, and happy lives. "I encourage you to use hope like an anchor to tie down your life's problems," the president of Bryan College said.

Among those who earned bachelor's degrees, seven graduated summa cum laude (3.90-4.00 G.P.A.). This scholastic excellence was achieved by Peggy Brandenburg, Chris Hale, Laurie McKee, Carole Potter, Carolyn Schoonover, Lori Selby and June Sherman.

Mrs. Ruth King McKee receives honorary diploma from Southern Junior College.

An honorary diploma was conferred on Mrs. Ruth King McKee, who attended Southern Junior College from 1924 to 1926 and is now the vice president for purchasing and receiving at McKee Baking Company. Mrs. McKee has been directly responsible for employing thousands of college students at the bakery and has provided dozens of students with worthy student scholarships.

Dr. John Wagner, president of the college, introduced Richard A. Brock, president of Richmar, Inc., during the service. The newly constructed humanities building will be named Richard Brock Hall in his honor. Brock successfully raised $1 million toward the construction of the college's new fine arts complex. ■

"Don't miss Alumni Homecoming November 2-4 with Mark Dalton, '74, giving Friday evening
vespers, Joe Crews,
'44,

Joe
Crews

presenting both Sabbath morning services,
Karen Oswald Nelson, '74, providing

Sabbath evening meditations, and me as special guest on Saturday night, November 3!

This year's honor classes are 1934, 1944,

1959, and

1974. I'll be looking for you all!"

Mark
Dalton

Karen Oswald
Nelson

ry Clower,
ntry humorist

New academic dean

William Allen Joins Administrative Teamby Ken Rozell

Dr. William M. Allen, professor of chemistry at the La Sierra campus of Loma Linda University, will join the Southern College administrative team as the new vice president for academic administration in August. Dr. Allen will succeed the retiring Dr. Cyril Futch, who served as academic dean from 1971 to 1978 and again from 1982 to 1984.

According to Dr. John Wagner, president of Southern College, the hiring of Dr. Allen was the culmination of months of work by a search committee set up by the college. "We are very pleased to have Dr. Allen join our administrative team," Dr. Wagner said. "He is a creative, people-oriented educator and has a desire and interest in academic excellence."

"I am very interested in developing an academic master plan."

Although this is the first time Dr. Allen has served as an academic dean, he is no stranger to administrative positions. During his 16 years at La Sierra, Dr. Allen served as chairman of the Division of Natural Sciences for four years. He was in charge of 40 faculty members from seven different areas of study, including biology, paleobiology, chemistry, physics, mathematics, computing, and geological earth history.

In addition to his duties at the college, Dr. Allen also serves as a consultant to the Geoscience Research Institute and is a curator of minerals for the World Museum of Natural History.

Prior to teaching at La Sierra, Dr. Allen taught for two years at Andrews University as an instructor and assistant professor of chemistry. He received his bachelor of arts degree at La Sierra and then went on to the University of Maryland to earn his Ph.D. in organic chemistry.

Dr. William M. Allen

While attending graduate school, he met and married Laurentine Clayton, who was a student at Columbia Union College at the time. Laurentine has served as treasurer of Takoma Academy and has taught secretarial classes. Now, however, she has chosen to stay home with the Allen's two children. Barbara, age 16, will be a junior in academy next year. Gregory is 12 and will be starting grade six in the fall.

When he is not working on campus, Bill Allen may be involved with one of the many recreational pursuits he enjoys. Several summers ago, he spent the summer cycling in England and Wales. He also spent one summer cycling down the West Coast from Seattle to Southern California. In addition, Dr. Allen enjoys virtually every sport—basketball, baseball, golf, and racquetball—although he says he hasn’t played as much racquetball since he got his bifocals. “With my new glasses,” he says, “my eyes can’t focus as fast. I end up playing more by feel than by sight!”

“We are constantly seeing a changing environment. . . . Colleges need to be leading the changes.”

When Bill Allen came to Collegedale to interview for the academic dean position, he hadn’t been on the Southern College campus for 16 or 17 years. “I was very, very impressed with the buildings on the campus,” he said. “I was overwhelmed with the quality of the teaching facilities at Southern College.”

“We need to strengthen our academic program and position ourselves so students get the maximum benefit for the next 40 years of their careers.”

But even more importantly, Dr. Allen was impressed by the people at SC. “When I first arrived on campus,” he recalled, “I felt perfectly at ease with both the faculty and the administration. The people were very friendly. I’m going to feel right at home here at Southern College.”

Dr. Allen says he is very interested in long-range planning in his new role as academic dean. “I am very interested in developing an academic master plan,” he emphasized. “Too many times administrators are so caught up with putting out brush fires in the day-to-day routine that they do not look ahead. It will be one of my priorities to focus on looking ahead and seeing the wider picture.”

“We are constantly seeing a changing environment in the world today. Colleges need to be leading the changes,” Dr. Allen said, “and be very adaptable to changes in the future. We need to strengthen our academic program and position ourselves so the students can get the maximum educational benefits not just for the next 15-20 years, but for the 40 years of their career.”

Dr. Allen summarized his philosophy by explaining the way he hopes to prepare Southern College’s academic program for the future. “I don’t plan any heavy or fast changes,” he said. “I think it is more of a continuous fine tuning. But it will have to be a cooperative effort: I don’t claim to have all the answers. But by the faculty and administration working together, we can pool our expertise for the common good of Southern College. ■

Parting again

Cyril Futcher Takes Second Retirement

It isn’t often that a person retires from the same job twice. But Dr. Cyril Futcher, vice president for academic administration, is doing just that. Dr. Futcher came to Southern College in 1962 as director of admissions and records. Nine years later, he was named academic dean, a post he held until his first retirement in 1978 after 47 years of denominational work.

Despite the fact he and his wife were enjoying retirement, Dr. Futcher agreed to temporarily return to his academic post in 1982. The one-semester assignment turned into a two-year job, but Dr. Futcher continued his faithful service.

At the 1984 commencement service, Dr. John Wagner, president of Southern College, asked Dr. Futcher and his wife Gladys to come up to the podium. “Today we are honoring two very dedicated people,” Dr. Wagner said, “who have given many years of dedicated service to the church.” Dr.

Wagner outlined their record of service and then, before presenting the Futchers with a scrapbook of tribute letters from SC faculty, staff, and students, he read some of the comments.

“You have served the college with distinction and I thank you for that.” “Your outstanding Christian example and natural kindness to everyone is absolutely unmatched.” “You are one of the few people I know who puts the interests of others above his own.” “You have been a blessing to the faculty and students and your influence will be felt for many years to come.”

In his closing remarks, Dr. Wagner said, “We love you. We will miss you and we wish you God’s abundant blessings.”

After Dr. Futcher’s retirement, he and his wife plan a trip to England to visit with family and friends. He and his wife will continue to live in Collegedale. ■

87-Year-Old Mountain Climber Hulda Crooks Visits SC

by Wendy Ripley

Southern College was privileged and delighted to have 87-year-old mountaineer Hulda Crooks visit the campus last semester, spreading her enthusiasm for good health among students and faculty.

Hulda Crooks, often dubbed "The Old Lady of the Mountain," has climbed 86 Southern California peaks since age 60. While visiting the campus, Mrs. Crooks shared her secrets of good health and long life during a series of worship talks.

Mrs. Crooks was born in Western Canada in May of 1896. Her father was a farmer and she grew up the old-fashioned way, performing vigorous physical work as a daily routine. At age 18, because of her interest in the Seventh-day Adventist message, she and her brother left home. Away from home, she soon realized how unimportant formal learning had been on the farm and knew that she needed more than her fifth grade level of knowledge. And so she began the long climb from the sixth grade to a bachelor of science degree in a small, Canadian schoolhouse. She eventually obtained her degree, but at the expense of her health. For the next 25 years she suffered the results of overworking and straining her body.

After obtaining her education, Mrs. Crooks says, "I wasn't worth much. I was nervous, anemic, and perpetually tired."

Determined to regain good health, Hulda evaluated her lifestyle, made sure that her vegetarian diet was adequate and set herself on a regular exercise program along with working in her garden and walking whenever she could. To help cope with life's stresses, she also began cultivating a spirit of gratitude for the many blessings of life. "Above all, I reached out for a closer fellowship with my Creator to enrich myself mentally and spiritually," she says.

Hulda Crooks

Later in life, Mrs. Crooks, having always loved the outdoors, began climbing mountains at the suggestion of her husband, Dr. Samuel A. Crooks. Although he could not accompany her because of a heart condition, she enthusiastically hiked numerous peaks surrounding their California home. When her husband died in 1950, she increased her exercise program and at age 66 first climbed Mt. Whitney, the tallest mountain in the continental United States. Since then, scaling the 14,495 foot mountain has become a yearly challenge.

She first climbed Mt. Whitney at age 66, began jogging at 70, took long backpack trips at 75, and at 81 began to tackle 268 peaks.

Her backpack testifies to the peaks she has conquered.

At 70, she began jogging and found that it greatly increased her ability to climb. At 75 she started taking long backpack trips of a week or more and the next year crossed the Sierra Nevada Range from Sequoia to Whitney Portal, an 80-mile trip. Two years later, at age 78, she completed the 212-mile John Muir Trail. Not ready for the rocking chair at 81, she started working on the Sierra Club's registered list of 268 peaks in Southern California.

Hulda attributes her amazing health and strength to following the basic principles of regularity in her diet, exercise, and sleep. She exercises daily, goes to sleep early, and eats two well balanced meals a day. "Everybody works best on a regular schedule," she says. "It allows the body to function rhythmically."

Along with conquering mountain peaks, Hulda Crooks continues to work on a part-time voluntary basis for the School of Health, Loma Linda University. While working there, she has co-authored numerous scientific papers in the area of nutrition and health with Dr. Mervyn Hardinge before officially retiring after 32 years at the age of 78.

If continued to be blessed with good health, Mrs. Crooks believes she will climb Mt. Whitney again next year. ■

Those Who Walked These Halls

1920's

Rose (Meister) Allen, '21, resides in Deer Lodge, Tennessee. She enjoys the company of her step-daughter and son-in-law, June and Robert Beckett, her closest neighbors. Although retired, Rose keeps busy working on her garden, her lawn, her house, and activities in her church. She also keeps in touch with her brother and his wife, Adam and Lucile Meister, who live in Beersheba Springs, Tennessee.

Thelma (Jones) Belew, '26, is living in Trezevant, Tennessee. She enjoys retirement, finally having time for favorite activities such as gardening, fishing, reading, and 'just living.' Her daughter, Betty Carole Belew Grozy, ('66 graduate), works with Senior Citizens Columbus, Ohio, and attends the Westerville, Ohio, church.

Wüber Bishop, '23, and Helen Bishop, '25, make their home in Cleveland, Tennessee. Their children, Wilber Bishop Jr., D.D.S., Carolyn Bishop Hoover, M.D., Joseph Bishop, M.D., and Leeta Bishop Johnson, have given their parents the joy of 11 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Maurine (Shaw) Boyd, '27, now lives in Angwin, California. Currently retired, she formerly served 19 years as a second-grade teacher for the Unified School District of St. Helena, California. After 27 months of S.O.S. teaching in Hong Kong, she returned in 1977 to do volunteer and church duties for her home church.

Miriam (Bruce) Boyd, '26, calls Camden, South Carolina, her home. In retirement, she recently took time out for an enviable activity--traveling. Miriam had a wonderful time touring India, Australia, New Zealand, and Fiji from October through February. She especially enjoyed spending much of her time with friends in Australia and visiting an old fashioned, 'tent' campmeeting in Auckland, N.Z. She is currently back in Camden, where she is personal ministries leader and communications secretary for her church.

Charlie Boykin, '28, and his wife, Helen (Watts) Boykin, '29, are now retired after 37 years of service in India and South Africa. Three years ago they went to Okinawa on an S.O.S. (Sustentation Overseas Service) basis to fulfill an enjoyable assignment. All three of their children attended SMC. Recently, Charlie and Helen visited their son, William Boykin, and his family in Zambia, Africa, at the Riverside Farm Institute. In between travels, Charlie and Helen live in Candler, North Carolina.

Maude Brooke, '23, is enjoying living near our church's headquarters in Takoma Park, Maryland. For the past few years she has done volunteer work at the Washington Adventist Hospital, where she was the assistant director of patient services for 40 years before she retired. Maude's life is still very interesting and full of opportunities, as she keeps busy working and spending much enjoyed time with her niece, Jane Summerour, (also attended SC), who lives not far from her.

Jesse Cowdrick, '25, resides in Collegedale. Although retired, he is currently a Sabbath School superintendent and member of the church board and other various committees at the Collegedale Church. Jesse reports that he recently enjoyed a visit from his oldest grandson, Raymond Bankes, who stopped by on his first cross country flight since receiving his pilot's license. His oldest granddaughter, Donna Helmich, recently finished dentistry at Loma Linda University and opened a practice in Sacramento.

Harry P. Cowley, who attended SMC from 1925-26, went on to receive his R.N. from the Orlando Sanitarium and Hospital in 1929. He also married Gaynelle Allen in 1929, and together they worked with Dr. John Harvey for 10 years in Miami Battle Creek. After this, they owned and operated a beautiful treatment department in the Hotel Roanoke. Harry and Gaynelle are retired in Roanoke, Virginia.

Electronic Text

We are pleased to have received such an overwhelming response to our request for information from alumni and former students. We are also pleased to announce that this section was electronically generated by computer and transferred by floppy disk directly to the typesetting equipment at The College Press. In the future, we hope to produce the entire issue of the SOUTHERN COLUMNS in this manner.

M.O. Dart, M.D., '25, writes that he is still practicing medicine in Englewood, Colorado.

Bertha (Statham) English, '27, is currently retired and makes her home in Mobile, Alabama.

Nellie Ferree, '28, lives in Winter Park, Florida. Nellie has spent most of her life in service in the educational field. She spent 21 years in the Far East as director of elementary teacher education during the years 1947-1960. She then became the associate educational secretary for nine years, from 1960 to 1968. With these and other jobs, Nellie has earned an impressive record of 47 years in the educational field as both a teacher and a supervisor. She is currently retired and spends six months in North Carolina and six months in Florida, which she calls an 'excellent combination.'

Cecil and Lucile Graves, '22 live in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee. For them, being retired does not mean being idle. They keep busy doing 'whatever needs to be done' in their church and keeping up with their relatives, who are 'scattered from Orlando, to new Jersey, to Africa.'

Mamie (Songer) Hughes, '29, resides in Keene, Texas. Before retirement, she and late husband successfully owned and operated a small bakery in Keene for about 27 years. They had one son, Leroy Hughes, who is now married with four daughters. Two of them have married and blessed her with three great-grandchildren.

Donald W. Hunter, '24, lives in Riverside, California. After retiring from the General Conference as associate secretary, he is now the General Conference representative at Loma Linda.

Donald has been married 55 years as of June, with one of the results being two daughters, eight grandchildren, three great-grandchildren, and two more expected by November. Besides an ever expanding family tree, he will complete 60 years of denominational work in May.

Masie (White) Jameson, '23, makes her home in Collegedale. She is retired and spends most of her time taking care of her home. Elaine writes that she is looking forward to spending time with her oldest daughter, Elaine, who has recently moved back to Collegedale. Her other daughter, Carolyn, with her husband Dick Fisher, returned to Collegedale five years ago. Masie enjoys the time she spends with her children, four grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Irene (Tolhurst) Kreigsmann, '23, calls Davie, Florida, her home. In retirement, she spends a lot of time working in her garden, and reports that her flowers are blooming beautifully. Irene keeps in touch with some other alumni with regular visits every summer to North Carolina. They all enjoy spending time with one another and reminiscing about things like helping build the corncrib and the boy's dorm at SMC.

Alfred V. McClure, '28, is a retired pastor and conference president who now lives in Highland, California.

Warner E. McClure, '24, resides in Loma Linda. He has four children: Warner M. McClure, Marjorie Nell Eggers, Marilyn Lucille Plata, and Arden Nelson McClure. He received his B.A. at Andrews University in '27, his M.A. at the University of Michigan in '33, and his Ed.D. at Michigan State University in '52. During and after his academic career he has served the denomination in a number of positions, including principal at Graysville Academy, assistant president of Andrews University, Malamulo Mission director, president of Helderberg College, principal of Forest Lake Academy, and more. Warner is now retired from a very full career.

Horton McLennan, '28, lives in Phoenix, Arizona. He and his wife, Helen, are very busy people! He is the director of music for the Phoenix Central Church and for the 'Melodears,' a ladies sextet. He also produces the annual Phoenix area 'singspiration.' Together, Horton and Helen spend time water skiing on nearby lakes during warm weather, playing tennis and badminton, teaching Sabbath School class and aquatics, and taking an active part in church activities.

Ruth (Johnston) Lippart Newell, '20, is now living in Portland, Tennessee. She has retired from her career as a registered nurse. Ruth has two daughters and one son, (deceased). After her first husband passed away, she married T.W. Newell in 1972.

R.L. and Martha (Montgomery) Odom, '24, live in Gentry, Arkansas. He is still writing and doing occasional preaching. She is Sabbath School superintendent of the adult divisions and they both teach Sabbath School classes. They have two sons-- Bob, who is the eldest and lives in Arkansas, and John, who lives in Chattanooga.

W.B. Randall, '26, is a retired C.P.A. living in Palos Verdes Peninsula, California.

Velma Richards, '29, lives in Orlando. Velma graduated with her R.N. from Florida Hospital. She now has no family since her husband passed away. She and her brother, who lives in Portsmouth, Virginia, are the only children left from a family of nine.

Jean (Wingate) Schill, '25, lives in Hendersonville, North Carolina. In retirement, she says she is 'always doing something--teaching Sabbath School class, going places, entertaining,' and extends an invitation to all her classmates to come and visit. Besides a brother who lives in Riverside, California, she has no family. Her husband, 'a gentleman and a scholar,' passed away in 1975.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Vesta (Webster) Seek, '29, makes her home in Edinburg, Virginia. She is currently retired after 33 1/2 years in elementary education. She and her husband, a church elder and retired police lieutenant, are keeping busy on their farm. She is a Sabbath School coordinator and a story teller for 'Dial-A-Message.' They have three children--Carl, a minister in Hagerstown, Maryland; Christine, in charge of telecommunication at the G.C.; and Shirley, a homemaker and swimming instructor.

William H. and Evelyn Shephard, '26, reside in Riverside, California. They moved to Riverside in 1971 to be near their daughter and six grandchildren. Since then, another grandson has been added to the family. William and Evelyn are currently retired.

Minnie Lee (Matthews) Ward, '24, lives in Keene, Texas. She is currently retired and has three children and seven great-grandchildren. Minnie writes that she is now 85 years old, lives by herself, and goes to church every week.

Mary (Farley) Willis, '23, is a successful author and recently had two books published: 'As it was on Pa's Farm,' by the Pacific Press Publishing Association, and 'People of That Book,' by the Review and Herald Publishing Association.

Cecil L. Woods, Ph.D., '21, now lives in Angwin, California. He has 48 years of experience in teaching and was a missionary in China for seven years. He has been active in the Pacific Union College Church by serving as the treasurer since 1968. Cecil is the proud father and grandfather of three daughters, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. He must have started a tradition, because some of his grandchildren have also served as missionaries and student missions participants.

Viola (McNett) Young, '28, lives in Mt. Vernon, Ohio. She is a retired R.N. from occupational health nursing, but keeps busy with her church, housekeeping, and Christian services. She and her husband, a semi-retired chiropractor who helps children with dyslexia, have enjoyed a lasting marriage of 47 years. Her daughter, Mary K. Myers, a graduate of the CUC nursing program, has four children, one who is enrolled at Walla Walla College in the nursing program. Her son, J. Kenneth, lives in Columbus, Ohio, and has two children.

1930's

Bruce T. Benjamin, '33, currently calls Boring, Oregon, his home. Bruce is a retired physician and surgeon. He has seven children who are all married and scattered from, 'San Bernadino to Portland.' His children blessed him with 19 grandchildren.

Robert N. Bowen, '39, makes his home in Harrison, Tennessee, and is a retired auditor. Robert is active in the Hixson church through his service as treasurer.

J. Gordon Burdick, '36, lives in Marble Falls, Texas. He is a semi-retired medical director who still does occasional consultations, in toxicology for chemical companies and refiners. He enjoys his three children and nine grandchildren, but would enjoy them more if they weren't scattered 'from Illinois to Idaho.' Two of his children are practicing medicine, and one is a patent counselor for Winchester.

James R. Chambers, '36, resides in College Place, Washington, where he is a consultant for Bionostics, Inc. He and his wife both retired in 1980, after James had completed 37 years of teaching chemistry, 20 of which were spent at Walla Walla College. They enjoy living in the Northwest, their 'corner' of the world, where they can be close to their son who has his dental practice in the Portland area. The Chambers fill their time with gardening, church work, and connections with scientific societies.

Mary R. Cowdrick, '38, writes that she retired from S.P.A. in 1975 and lives in Madison, Tennessee.

Ivan T. Crowder, '37, is retired in Galax, Virginia. He and his wife, Lorraine, just finished a year in Okinawa on S.O.S. (Sustentation Overseas Service), where he served as pastor of the English Church and Servicemen's Center.

Dorothy (Sheddan) Culbert, '31, lives in Mammoth Spring, Arkansas, and is retired from the Michigan Conference, where she served as treasurer of Grand Ledge Academy. She is now the treasurer for Arkansas-Louisiana Business and Professional Advisory, Inc. The remainder of her time is spent visiting her four children, all married, and her five grandchildren. She says, 'It keeps us going to visit them in Minnesota, Florida, California, and Oklahoma.'

Archa O. Dart, '32, makes his home in South Daytona, Florida. He is a retired minister who, with his wife, keeps busy helping people through such services as Family Life Seminars in churches and weeks of prayer in church schools. He has three children: Charles, a minister in Oregon; Keith, an optometrist in Colorado; and Virginia Collins, a teacher at Spring Valley Academy, Ohio.

Arthur Brooks Davis, '38, retired in May, 1980, and resides in Hampton, Virginia. He and his wife enjoy traveling immensely, and that is how they spend most of their time. When they're not in Plant City, Florida, for the winter, they will probably be on their way to visit one of their daughters and their families in either Bristol, Tennessee, or Exton, Pennsylvania.

Albert L. Dickerson, '31, calls Ooltewah, Tennessee, his home. He is currently retired and is the assistant treasurer and an elder for the Apison Church. Albert has spent 50 years in the ministry. His daughter and her family (Elder and Mrs. Richard Gates), have spent many years in mission service in South America.

Gerald O. Dunham, '32, lives in Portland, Tennessee, is a C.P.A., and owns a C.P.A. firm in Gallatin, Tennessee. He has two children: Gerald, Jr., who is a graduate of SMC and works for the firm; and Donna Crandell, who is also a graduate of SMC and works as a radiologist in Russellville, Alabama.

J. Thomas Hall, '34, resides in Fairview, Oregon, and is enjoying retirement in the 'Oregon liquid sunshine.' He says there are two doctors and two pastors in his neighborhood who are also 'Collegedale boys' and make him proud of SMC.

Forest Halvorsen, '39, makes his home in Ed-more, Michigan, where he is an elementary church school teacher. In 1941, he and Anna Mae Smalley 'tied the knot,' and now have six children and six grandchildren.

Joseph C. Hayward, '30, is a retired physician in Bonita, California. He and his wife, Marjorie (Skeoch), have two children: Bruce, who is in San Diego, California; and Sharon Jon Wilson, who lives in Newport Beach, California. They also have three grandchildren, all members of the North Park Church.

Mazie A. Herin, '37, lives in Fletcher, North Carolina. She is currently retired, and has been doing volunteer work at Fletcher Hospital which she finds very challenging. This last year she helped to develop a thrift shop to be run by the hospital auxiliary. She is enjoying retirement but says 'life has never been busier.'

Virginia Hibbard, '36, calls Redlands, California, her home. She is a retired school nurse and writes that her granddaughter, Theresa Dorsey, made the dean's list first semester with A's in pre-med at Texas A&M.

Dr. J. W. Hickman, '36, is a dentist/developer in Longwood, Florida. He has a son and daughter at Forest Lake Academy, a daughter with the Visiting Nurses Association of Orlando, and a son who is the manager of the I-4 Industrial Park.

Vera Fay Lester, '36, currently lives in Healdsburg, California. She has spent many years in service at Rio Lindo Academy. When the school opened in 1962, she was the registrar. She served for 17 years in this capacity before retiring in 1979. She now does volunteer work at the academy as an assistant librarian and French teacher.

Vesta M. Lester, '38, makes her home in Apopka, Florida. She is a retired school teacher with 34 years of experience in teaching.

Irad C. Levering, '37, lives in Deer Lodge, Tennessee, and he says he is 'supposed to be' retired, but hasn't much time for that yet. He is now the public relations and religious liberty representative for the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference to both the Kentucky and Tennessee legislatures when they are in session. He and his wife, Thelma, work together on whatever has to be done, including filling in at different churches for months at a time between regular pastors. Irad says that pretty soon he and Thelma may decide to 'really' retire and that he hopes to see every one from his class at the '87 alumni homecoming.

Lillie Mae Lord, '32, makes her home in Orlando, Florida. She retired in 1973 and is currently in the American Health Care Center in Orlando recovering from a stroke she had in February.

Lucile (Ward) Lukat, '37, resides in Stapleton, Alabama. She writes that her husband, Robert T. Lukat, passed away in 1979. She keeps busy and enjoys her children and grandchildren. She spends much of her time traveling extensively and really enjoys it.

Ione (Iogram) McAllister, '32, presently lives in Collegedale. She has spent 30 years in denominational work and is now retired from her post as an executive secretary. She keeps up her skills while helping with secretarial work at her church as a volunteer. She and Robert Kirk McAllister took their vows in 1933 and now have two sons: Robert M. McAllister of Calimesa, California; and Merwyn McAllister of Ft. Wayne, Indiana. They also have six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Thatchers Visit Home

On May 25, the three Thatcher children returned "home" to visit their childhood farm site, now the campus of Southern College. Pictured above are: Jason Thatcher, Evadne Thatcher Smith, and Paul Thatcher.

Since the college moved to the Thatcher plantation in 1916, two buildings on campus are a reminder of our Thatcher heritage: Thatcher Hall (women's residence) and "The Doll House," Evadne's playhouse about 80 years ago.

Opal Lucille Miller, '32, is retired in Collegedale. She is active in the church, raises flowers, feeds wild birds, does oil paintings, sews, and just had the privilege of a visit from her friends who live in Florence, Italy. She says, "I am well and happy and look for Christ's soon Coming."

George T. Mills, M.D., '38, calls Memphis, Tennessee, his home. He is a physician and surgeon with 35 years experience. He and his wife, Fay (Vaughn) Mills, have four children: Joan Mills, an SMC graduate now in Boston; Robert Charles Mills, another SMC graduate now practicing radiology; G. Tom Mills, Jr., a teacher, and Carolyn Mills, who recently received her master's in music at Boston University.

Walter M. Ost, M.D., '32, presently lives in Deltona, Florida. His wife, Genevieve, taught in communications at SMC from 1966-1982. They have both retired and are living the "good life" in "beautiful" Deltona, "feeding and watching birds in our back yard."

Florence Riles, '31, is retired in Acworth, Georgia, and does visitation for her home church. She has three sons and one daughter.

Elenora (McAlpine) Robinson, '38, presently lives in Eutaw, Alabama. She is a homemaker, and has been married to a retired International Harvester dealer for 38 years. She has two married daughters with two children each and they all live in Eutaw, so she has been able to watch her grandchildren grow up. She and her husband stay busy and enjoy traveling, fishing, and camping.

Martha (Brown) Shain, '36, calls Hot Springs,

Arkansas, her home. She is retired and is the church treasurer of the Bonnerdale Church. Her husband, Martin C. Shain, has retired after 32 years as pastor and department secretary. They have one son, Martin B. Shain, and three great-grandchildren.

H. Raymond Sheldon, '31, is now a professor emeritus in chemistry for the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University. He served at Loma Linda from 1948-1981.

Albert C. Smith, '35, now lives in Shreveport, Louisiana. He is retired from the Louisiana Division of Employment Security and is now pastor of the Mansfield Church. His wife is a nurse who works in surgery at Schumbert Medical Center in Shreveport. They have two daughters, Sharon and Carolyn. Sharon married Bill Fitts, and together they served as missionaries in Nigeria, he as head of the English department and she as a teacher and acting registrar. Sharon and Bill and their son, Stephen, are now at Texas A&M University where Bill teaches and is finishing his Ph.D. Carolyn married Mark Miller, and they served as student missionaries to Pakistan. After college they also served as missionaries in Beirut. Carolyn and Mark now live in Keene, Texas.

E. Lewell Smith, '36, lives in Jacksonville, Florida, and is retired from Florida Junior College at Jacksonville. He serves as the chairman of the Board for the elders of the Jacksonville First Church. His wife, Gladys (Leitner), attended Southern Junior College in 1933-1935, and is now a retired music teacher, serving as organist and church clerk. Their son, Lewell, Jr., attended SMC from 1953 to 1955 and is now a dentist in Sacramento, California. Their daughter, Reni Butler, attended SMC and now lives in Marietta, Georgia.

Margaret D. Taylor, '36, resides in Mobile, Alabama, where she works as a secretary for her husband who is a food broker. She is a former church school teacher and is still very active in church music. Her daughter, Sylvia T. Stanford, is living and working there in Mobile as a school librarian for the public middle school. She too is a graduate of SMC. Her son, Jeff Taylor, has three girls, and works for McKee Bakery in Collegedale.

Mary (Lucas) Turner, '34, calls Elmer, Montana, her home. She is a retired registered dietitian. She says she has had "no grandchildren, no trip, no operation, just happy retirement at home on the farm."

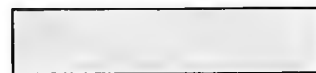

Frederick "Ted" Webster, '34, is now retired in Deltona, Florida. His sister, Vesta (Webster) Seek also attended SMC and lives in Edinburg, Virginia.

M. Eulalia White, '30, has retired from teaching in the nursing department at Andrews University and lives in Berrien Springs. Last year she returned from six months in Australia and points between. She visited a number of relatives while there and found information about family members who served in Australia in the early days of Adventism there, particularly at Avondale College. She says her grandnephew and niece, David and Linda Wente, graduated from SC in 1983.

N. B. White, '33, presently lives in Jacksonville, Florida, where he is now retired but keeping busy maintaining his home and doing church work. He and his wife, Marijane (Spivey), have lived in Jacksonville for 45 years. They have two sons, Norman and Terry, and a daughter, Karen, who also attended SJC.

Lynne (Suddath) Wiederkehr, '38, makes her home in Harrington, Delaware. Lynne is a retired teacher and now serves as church clerk. Her husband is a farmer, so she reports that they take their vacations in January and February. She says sometimes they visit her sister in Colorado, but usually you'll find them down south for their vacations.

Elizabeth (Neece) Willingham, '32, calls Charlotte, North Carolina, her home. She has retired from secretarial work, and has two daughters, seven grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

1940's

Olive (Rogers) Braley, '47, who taught for eight years in SC's music department, is living in Glendale, California. She is still going strong giving private studies in piano, voice, and speech. She is also giving concerts and church programs with her husband, Brad Braley. They have had a very happy marriage, 39 years in duration.

Esther (Kephart) Bruce, '46, currently makes her home in Silver Spring, Maryland. She is the director of secretarial services for the General Conference and is responsible for a secretarial pool and the word processing system, etc. Her husband is the assistant treasurer for the General Conference. Esther has three children, six granddaughters, and one grandson.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Elsie (Landon) Buck, '41, presently lives in Berrien Springs, Michigan. She is a music teacher at St. Joseph Public Schools and an adjunct professor in music education at Andrews University. She is also a member of the Board of Trustees at Andrews University, is a past chairman of the Southwest Michigan National Guild of Piano Teachers, and authored an article in the February Music Journal. Elsie has three children: Pat Dominguez, who attended SC as a freshman and now has her Ph.D., is married to Frank, a professor at the University of Carolina, Chapel Hill, where she is a bibliographer in the university library; Edwin L. Buck and family are living in Michigan; and Elizabeth and her husband, Dave Zumbunnen, are in Washington D.C.

Alta D. Burch, '40, resides in Orlando, Florida. Alta has been a chaplain at Florida Hospital since 1967. His wife, Tralee, is an R.N. and works for a general surgeon. Their son is in marketing with Burdine's Department Store and their daughter is a receptionist and secretary for a radio station at the University of Central Florida.

Alan F. Bush, '45, presently lives in Lansing, Michigan. Alan's career is dentistry. He married Thetis Webster in Collegedale in 1945, and they now have two daughters, Pam and Janelle. Pam (Bush) Steen has three children and Janelle (Bush) Burke has two children and lives in St. Louis. Alan and Thetis greatly enjoy their five grandchildren.

Marilynn (Estelle) Byrd, '43, lives in Arden, North Carolina. She is the secretary-registrar for Fletcher Hospital School of Nursing. Marilyn enjoys her seven-month-old grandson and her son, who is married and is the associate pastor of the San Bernadino Church in Carolina.

Charles L. Cannon, '49, makes his home in Rutherford, North Carolina. He is working as a physical therapist on contract with the Public Health District, while his wife is working as an R.N. Charles writes that he wishes to correct the error of someone who addressed him as an M.D. He said it's flattering, but a small error! He has four children: Stephen, a medical graduate in residency in Daytona; Scott, a third-year medical student at Loma Linda University; Cynthia, a physical therapist graduate working in Glendale, California; and Christopher, a second-year college student at Pacific Union College.

Manuel M. Carballa, '49, calls Takoma Park, Maryland, his home. He is retired as the vice president of finance for Gencon Risk Management Service, but still works part time. In July he moved to Deltona, Florida, where his daughter, Maggy, also resides. He lost his oldest daughter, Miriam, in February, 1983, to cancer of the neck. Miriam's children are all in college.

Quinnette (Maxwell) Carlson, '40, joined her husband, Mervyn, in early retirement in Belmont, California, after 33 years of elementary teaching. For four years she continued with substitute teaching. They are active in the Burlingame Church and in a sailing club, and are enjoying their grandchildren, Chris 13, and Stephanie, 11.

Frieda Clark, '40, is living in Takoma Park, Maryland. She is just now recuperating from surgery in the nursing home. She retired from denominational work in 1953, and worked seven years in a doctor's office. She has no immediate family in her area. Her brothers and sisters are scattered throughout the country.

Georgette (Damon) Collier, '44, is retired in Hopland, California. She graduated as a secretary, and most of the 30 years her husband was in pastoral-evangelistic work, she did his secretarial work and did not work anywhere else. She has one son, one daughter, and four grandsons. The Colliers just finished moving to their new country home about 100 miles north of San Francisco, a lifelong dream of of theirs since they were married. They want to live in the country and continue working for the Lord in research and writing.

Mary Frances (Linderman) Cox, '43, lives in Knoxville, Tennessee. She resigned in 1980 from her job as T.V.A. law librarian, and now considers "every day a holiday." Her son, Frank L. Cox, Jr., lives and works in Los Angeles.

Joe Crews, '46, is presently living in Myersville, Maryland. He is the director and speaker for Amazing Facts Radio-TV Ministries. His wife, Lu Ann (Tunison) Crews, is also an alumnus of SJC, from 1941. They have two sons, both married, and two grandchildren. His youngest son, Dennis, is his assistant at Amazing Facts and his other son, Larry, just finished ministerial training at CUC.

Bobra Crosby, '49, is an accountant at Sovex Natural Foods, Inc. in Ooltewah.

Phyllis England, '47, lives in Deer Lodge, Tennessee. She is a housewife and is quite active in the Meister Memorial Church. Her husband is retired. Their son, Marty, is the manager of the cafe at the Omni International Hotel in Atlanta while their daughter, Sharon, and her family live in Morganton, North Carolina. Their daughter, Trisha, is working as a secretary for the Carolina Conference.

Lucy (Helton) Hails, student '46, is currently living in Angwin, California. Lucy is a homemaker with two grown children and one grandchild.

Thomas E. Hansen, '49, resides in Ardmore, Oklahoma. He is a chaplain at Ardmore Adventist Medical Center and the pastor of the Davis Church. His wife, Paula Hansen, is the director of the Kinderland-Church Daycare. Thomas and Paula have four sons: Dan, Mark, Bryan, and Tracy. They also have three grandchildren including twins Jason and Justin (one year old), and Kelli Lynn (two years).

B. Page Haskell, '47, is presently living in Burleson, Texas. Page is the assistant treasurer of the Southwestern Union Conference. Page's daughter, Cheryl, will graduate from nursing at SAC this spring.

Hoyt Hendershot, '41, is retired after 36 years in pastoral and departmental work in Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee. He and his wife, Hazel, are really enjoying retirement at their home near Calhoun, Georgia. Their son, Lewis, is the director of youth ministries in Florida and their daughter, Valerie, is a dental hygienist, married to Larry McKinny, and lives in Atlanta.

June (Snide) Hooper, '42, is residing in Collegedale. She says she is retired, at least temporarily. June still keeps busy with church work and babysitting her adopted grandchildren.

Edgar R. Howard, '43, now lives in Pueblo, Colorado. His challenging job of school psychologist involves the evaluation of children with problems interfering with school progress, and conferring with teachers, parents, and others. His first grandchild, Melissa, was born to his son, Phil, and wife, Debby (Worley) Howard, in Sandpoint, Indiana, where Phil is teaching.

Elvine Jones, '43, is living in Fort Meyers, Florida. She is currently retired and living with her sister who, she reports, is the oldest but is still working. Elvine keeps busy "keeping" house, working in the yard, visiting friends, and working on hobbies. She says her time is well spent but passes too swiftly.

John E. Keplinger, '43, is the manager of the SDA Servicemen's Center in Frankfurt, Germany. He and his wife, Nellie, visited the U.S. in May and June for a six-week furlough. Afterwards, they returned to Germany to stay at least two more years.

Victor and Alice Mae (Perkins) Kimber, '47, are now in Sanford, Florida. They are both retired and were S.O.S. (Sustentation Overseas Service) workers to Bethel College, Butterworth, Transkei, Africa, in 1979 and 1980. In 1980 and 1981, they volunteered to serve at the Nebraska Mission of SDA's for Indians. Their one daughter lives in Conroe, Texas.

Neva (Sell) and J. B. Kinder, '48, reside in Dayton, Ohio. They have four children and five grandchildren.

Dr. Gunter W. Koch, '45, is living in Bangor, Michigan. He has had a dental practice in Bangor for 32 years, which he established after serving four years with the U.S. Army. His wife, Erna Mae, graduated from EMC with a B.A. in business and accounting. She likes to take time out for hobbies like music and skiing in Colorado. Gunter and Erna Mae have one daughter, Ruth Jo Anne, a senior OB/GYN resident at Loma Linda University Hospital.

Nellie Jane (Smith) Macdonald, '40, retired in Wheaton, Illinois, after teaching 39 years in every grade at one time or other from first through college classes. Her husband, Ralph E. Macdonald died in 1974 after almost 20 years in denominational work.

M. Evelyn (Huxtable) McClure, '41, makes her home in Loma Linda, California. She writes that she was born while her father was a student at SMC. Evelyn's father, T. R. Huxtable, helped move the school from Graysville.

Lois McKee, '43, teaches office management at Loma Linda University.

Pauline (Merron) McMaster, is a '42 alumna by virtue of earning her diploma in nursing at the Florida Hospital campus. She works part time as an R.N. on the staff at Alliance Nursing Center near her home in Pierson, Florida. Her husband manages an L.P. gas company in New Smyrna Beach. Her son, Michael McMaster, attended SC in 1972-73. Her daughter is an R.N. at Fisk Memorial Hospital in New Smyrna Beach.

Margarita (Dietel) Merriman, '46, is chairman of the music department at Atlantic Union College. Her husband, Houston, is a sales representative for Eusey Press. Their children are Harold, now in graduate school, and Merri Lynn, a junior at AUC.

Miriam G. (Moore) Miracle, '43, is retired in Loma Linda, California. She helps collect clothing for Community Services and her husband, Gene, gives musical assistance to a country church in the area.

Warren Oakes, '49, is enjoying country living in north Georgia. He and his wife, Virginia, retired in Young Harris. For 15 years he was director of personnel at Florida Hospital and his wife was on the nursing staff.

Jean Elaine (Kuster) Ott, '49, has been an underwriter for the General Conference Insurance Department for the last 13 years. Previously she worked in the Florida Conference office for 21 years. She and her husband, Roger, reside in Laurel, Maryland.

Frederick C. Petty, '41, is a retired minister in Altamonte Springs, Florida. His wife, Mary (Hudak) Petty, is still teaching at Forest Lake Elementary Educational Center. Their son, Frederick C., Jr., is moving to Dallas, Texas, from the University of Iowa where he was doing psychiatric research. Daughter Sharon is married to Larry Wolcott, who teaches 5th grade at FLEEC. Sharon is employed at Florida Hospital. Their sons are 8 and 6.

Evan W. Richards, Sr., '48, retired in Bryant, Alabama, after 32 years with Florida Hospital and Adventist health systems. His wife, Ruth, had completed 17 years as emergency department director at Florida Hospital. Now gardening and travel occupy much of their time.

Max L. Ritchie, '47, pastors the Loveland, Colorado, church. His wife, the former Catherine Farrell, was from Dayton, Tennessee. Their two married daughters, Mary Anne and Catherine, are both nurses.

Robert Roach, '48, is now living in Loma Linda, California.

Richard Sloan, '53, and his wife, Thyra (Bowen) Sloan, '42, live in Collegedale. He drives an 18-wheeler tank truck for Polysar Latex Co. She retired last May after 38 years of elementary teaching, 25 of them at Spalding School in Collegedale. Of Richard's 25 trophies for jogging, earned over the last eight years, he is most pleased with the one from the Augusta Marathon.

Elouise (Wynn) Smith, '44, lives in Asheville, North Carolina, with her husband, Warren, who is medical director at American Enka. They just returned from a Maranatha project in Brazil, combined with a tour in Peru. Their son, Carlton, and his wife, Valerie, live in Centerville, Ohio. She and daughter Nancy work at Kettering Medical Center, and Carlton has an auto body shop.

Hazel (Brooks) Snide, '42, is retired in Takoma Park, Maryland. She continues to help in Community Services.

Joseph A. Soule, '48, pastors the Florida Living Church in Forest City, Florida. His wife, Helen, an SC student in 1942-43, works at Florida Hospital. Their son Larry works there as a physical therapist. Son John is a medical technologist at Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park, Florida.

JoAnn (Perkins) Stevens, '46, is associate librarian at Loma Linda University. Her daughter, Cathy Throssell, teaches in the LLU School of Health. Another daughter, Dana, is at Andrews University.

Alvin J. Stewart, '41, and his wife, Alice, are retired in Coalmont, Tennessee. Of his 38 years of church work, 20 of them were in the Inter-American Division. Their son teaches art at Union College. Through the years Alvin has continued to play the horn and now plays for the SC band again. Their daughter works in Orlando.

Ervin B. Stewart, '48, is now a research chemist for the East Tennessee State University Medical School, after retiring from a laboratory directorship in 1978. His son, Rick, just received his Ph.D. in music education from the University of Miami. He also has two daughters and five grandchildren.

Lyle Marle (Wallace) Stockdale, '45, writes from Loma Linda, California, of her new interest—the computer. She uses it to assist her physician husband with billing and taxes. Three of their four children are married. One son is a dentist, one is in business, and their daughter is a nurse. Their youngest son is in dental school.

Mary (Loveland) Tanner, '48, says she keeps in touch with six of her 16 nursing classmates. (One is deceased, to her knowledge.) She would love to hear from any of the other nine. Her address is: 1992 McDade Rd., Hephzibah, Georgia 30815. She is on the nursing staff of the V.A. Hospital in Augusta. Married 33 years, she has four children and three grandchildren. Music is her hobby.

Grace M. (Schneider) Turner, '47, is a homemaker in Collegedale, where she also cares for her aged mother. Her son Russell is in Florida. Another son, John, married with three children, lives in Vermont. Her daughter, Bonnie, married Lewis Miles and they have two children.

Paul and Ruth (Risetter) Watson, '50 and '49, make their home in Knoxville, Tennessee. Paul is an M.D. who practices at Park West Hospital in Knoxville and is also a member of the American Academy of Family Physicians. Ruth is finishing five years as an elementary school teacher at Little Creek School in Knoxville. The Watson's have three children: Linda who is studying respiratory therapy at Roane State Community College; Jim (SMC 1982), president of the sophomore class of medicine at Loma Linda; and Cindy, who is just finishing Little Creek School in May.

Donald Leroy West, Sr., '42, retired in Collegedale from McKee Baking Company as personnel director in December, 1978. He keeps very busy with the church, the Kiwanis Club, attending to his older sister, and his hobby, antique automobiles. His wife is the supervisor of nurses at the Hamilton County Nursing Home. Their son Don, Jr., owns and operates a 30-bed rest home in Hendersonville, North Carolina, with his wife and two sons. His daughter, Arlene, married Terence Fletcher and they now live in Shreveport, Louisiana, with their two children, David and Christy. Terence is the treasurer of the conference while Arlene teaches nursing at the university. Shirley, their youngest daughter, and her husband, Richard Wodzinski, are living in Collegedale. Richard is the postman and Shirley is a nurse at Erlanger Hospital. Shirley and Richard have two children: Robyn and Ryan.

Ben D. Wheeler, '49, and his wife, Ann Wheeler, '46, are living in Walhalla, South Carolina. Ben is the pastor of the Salem-Westminster-Anderson churches and is presently involved with running health programs and a Revelation Seminar. Both of their sons have finished college. David at Walla Walla and Carroll at their own alma mater. Ben reports that George Pearson, builder of SMC, and Don Rima are some of their members.

Ira F. Wheeler, '41 is living in Manchester, Kentucky. He is in private practice as a physician and is also on the staff at Memorial Hospital. He also serves on the hospitals' Committee of 100. His wife, Leomia, has her B.S. in nursing. Of their three children, two of them took her lead, got their B.S., and are living near Collegedale and Chattanooga. The other is an instrument flight instructor in Riverside, California.

Betty Jane (Bottomley) Wood, '49, resides in Altamonte Springs, Florida. Betty is a secretary and bookkeeper for Dr. Robert T. Hoover and Economy Health Food Sales. Their son, Dr. Michael N. Wood, a surgery resident at Loma Linda, has a son, H. Lee Wood, who is in real estate in Chattanooga.

Robert H. Wood, '47, is the secretary of the Texas Conference and lives in Keene, Texas. His wife, Doris, keeps busy working in auditing for the conference. They have four children: David, graduate of SMC in '69 and now living in Atlanta; Louann, a librarian at Cedar Lake Academy; Mark, who is living in Antonio, Texas; and Tim, who is living in Keene.

Verna Ruth (Wade) Wood, '49, lives in Keene, Texas, and works in Ft. Worth as a nurse at Huguley Memorial Hospital. Verna has three children: a daughter, Lisa Perry, who is now a wife, mother, and homemaker with two children; a son, Carlo, who is still living at home and attending college; and another daughter, Tami Zambrano, a registered nurse at Knapp Memorial Hospital in Wallace, Texas, where her husband, Rene, teaches biology at Valley Grande Academy.

Philip Young, '49, is a retired minister and lives in Bemidji, Minnesota. Philip reports that he and wife, Louise (Dalton) Young, are still going strong. They have one son who is married and is living in Lincoln, Nebraska.

Freda Carolyn Zeigler, student '68 and '69, is a housewife and gardener, happily fitting in at Southern College. Freda says she has a close-knit family who spends time together working on stories for a 'Heritage' book of her early days in Quebec, Canada, for her granddaughter. She also writes that she is spending some of her time working with the health screening van and is really enjoying it. Her husband is a retired SC teacher.

Dr. Leland Hale Zollinger, '47, is a public school administrator in Hendersonville, North Carolina. His son, Robert, works for Adventist Hospital Systems. His daughter-in-law, Joan, is a church school teacher in the Florida Conference.

1950's

James T. Alexander, '55, is an ophthalmologist in Ukiah, California.

Elder R. H. (Bob) Ammons, '55, has been the senior pastor of the Omaha Memorial Church in Omaha, Nebraska, since 1980. His wife, Frances (Motley) Ammons, is another graduate of SMC, '54. She works full time in the Bergan-Mercy Hospital. Rob, their son, is the last of the family to graduate from SMC, ('79). Their daughter, Anita, graduated from Union College in 1983, and their granddaughter is only two.

Dick Arthur, '58, is currently living in Alvarado, Texas. He attended the SC alumni meeting at Southwestern Adventist College last January. Dick is a teacher in the language field.

Richard E. Arthur, '58, began working in the field of EEG, (electroencephalography) in 1965. He has spent eight years at Hinsdale Hospital, until 1972, when he went to Ft. Worth hospitals for 11 years. His oldest son, Dan, is an R.N. and has been working in Tillamook, Oregon, for nearly three years.

Bernice E. Baker, '54, is a retired teacher living in Sandy, Oregon. She writes that she celebrated her 78th birthday last October and is still finding for herself. Mr. Baker passed away in 1976.

David H. Bauer, '56, is presently living in Berrien Springs, Michigan. He is the vice president for development and public relations at Andrews

Those Who Walked These Halls

University. His wife, Marilyn, edits science textbooks for elementary schools. They have one son, Randy, who is a sophomore business major at Andrews University.

Mary (Neal) Boals, student '51, passed away in Dyersburg, Tennessee, in December, 1982.

Bradford W. Braley, '56, makes his home in Glendale, California. He has been the organist and elder at the Los Angeles Church for 29 years, and plays at all the area churches. Bradford helped install the pipe organ at SMC 40 years ago, when he also fell in love with and married his 'southern belle,' Olive R. (Balson) Braley. He also writes that he 'loves Collegedale.'

Koy T. Brown, '53, is a semi-retired realtor and real estate developer in Napa, California. He is an elder in the local church. His wife, Ina, works for the Napa County superintendent of schools.

Bob Burchard, '59, and his wife, Ann, '55, live in Manchester, Kentucky, where he is president of Memorial Hospital and she is a housewife. This summer they and their daughter, Beth, are in Hong Kong, where Bob is relief administrator at Hong Kong Adventist Hospital. They served there from 1970 to 1979.

Cliff Burgeson, '58, is vocal instrumental teacher at Incirlik Air Base in Adana, Turkey. He is also organist and choir director at the base chapel. He has been teaching for the Department of Defense school system since 1962 and this has taken him to Germany, Libya, the Philippines, and Turkey.

Mary, '58, and Eugene Burke, '59, and their daughters, Cherie, '83, and Lisa, '83, live in Collegedale. Mary is librarian at Spalding Elementary School and graduated from Peabody Teacher's College recently with her M.L.S. Gene teaches grade 6 at West Side Elementary School. Cherie works at McKee Library and McKee's bakery canteen. Lisa is secretary-receptionist at Collegedale Credit Union.

Nobel A. Carlson, '54, retired last January and moved to Groveland Academy in Florida. There he teaches part time. His wife, Hildur, does some counseling. Son Dennis is a pastor in Puyallup, Washington. Kevin and Gregory are in business in the Orlando area. Gary is farm manager at Little Creek Academy in Tennessee. Their sons have given them a grandson and four grandchildren.

Normalou (Sanborn) Coble, '55, and her husband, Gaynor, celebrated their second wedding anniversary on February 29. They live in St. Petersburg, Florida. Occasionally they visit the children and two grandchildren living in Indiana. She continues to work in social and economic services for H.R.S. Her husband recently received his 30-year pin from the Bay Pines V.A. nursing department.

Carolyn (Hoofard) Cooper, '58, devotes her time to her family, art work, and church and community work. Her husband, Jerry, is quality control manager at Mercury Marine in Stillwater, Oklahoma. Their daughter, Kim, 14, loves to play soccer. Their son, Sean, is 11, and is artistic like his mother. Their address is Wagoner, Oklahoma, but they live in the country and especially enjoy observing waterfowl.

Roy W. Crawford, '53, and his wife, Delores (Whiteneck) Crawford, former student, are retired in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee. They garden in the summer and travel in the winter. They enjoy helping with the local church and volunteering at Scott Memorial Hospital. They also enjoy passing out literature during their travels.

John H. Culp, Jr., M.D., '57, is a gynecologist living in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Marie Culvey, '53, lives in Hyattsville, Maryland, and does home nursing in the District of Columbia and nearby Maryland.

Chester H. Damron, '57, is campus chaplain at Andrews University. He and his wife live in Berrien Springs. Their oldest son, Don, and his wife, Elise, made them grandparents for the first time in November, 1983. 'It's a boy, Casey Allen, and are we proud of him!'

Charles DeArk, Sr., '50, has retired from teaching school. He is now living in Pegram, Tennessee, and attends the First Church in Nashville.

Homer Dever, '57, and his wife, Arlene, '55, have been teaching church school at Dunlap, Tennessee, for 12 years. Their oldest daughter, Lorna, has been teaching at Malamulo, Malawi, Africa, but returned in July. Their daughter Beth is married and on the staff at Laurelbrook Academy in Tennessee. Their youngest was a junior at Southwestern Adventist College last semester.

Maurice A. Dunn, '50, lives in Vinita, Oklahoma, with his wife of 55 years. He is Sabbath School superintendent and an elder in the Ketchum Church.

Peter Durichek, Jr., '57, is living in Mansfield, Texas. He just finished 25 years of teaching. He taught third and fourth grades at Burton Junior Academy. His wife, Violet, passed away in January of this year and was buried at Keene. Their son is married and lives in Houston. Their daughter, Donna, is an R.N. and plans to get married in July.

P. William Dysinger, M.D., M.P.H., '51, is chairman of the department of international health and director of preventive medicine specialty training at Loma Linda Medical Center. He is currently president of the Adventist International Medical Society. He and his wife, Yvonne Minchin, live in Yucaipa, California. She works as a public health nurse and is completing requirements for the M.P.H. degree. Their oldest son, Edwin, is married and he and his wife are also completing public health degrees, preparatory to mission service. Wayne is a sophomore medical student at Loma Linda, and John is a college sophomore who has been attending Newbold College in England this past year.

Robert East, '54, is a minister in the Toms River-Collingwood Park, New Jersey, district. He is also health and temperance coordinator for the New Jersey Conference. His wife, Marie, '52, retired in June from teaching at the Lake Nelson SDA School.

Dolly (Darbo) Fillman, '53, is a homemaker and land developer in Collegedale. Her husband, Don, is a dentist with an office in Ringgold. They still have 14-year-old twins at home, Katie and Kim. Dolly is social chairman for the college church, and as such, organizes tours to promote friendship and provides a shopping shuttle service.

Welcome Alumni

During the Georgia-Cumberland camp meeting, May 23-26, the college provided alumni and friends with lemonade and Little Debbie cookies. Serving refreshments, while visiting with alumni and friends, are from left: Ruth Neeland Jacobs, Nellah Keith, Edythe Stephenson Cothren, and Fred Cothren.

Dozens of alumni signed the alumni register, reviewed former annuals, updated names and addresses, and talked about the "good 'ole days."

R. Dale Fisher, '51, lives in a country area south of Corona, California, and is owner-manager of Anacapa Company, dealing with manufacturing and rural country living rentals. The Fishers have three grown children. He is a member of several hospital boards and belongs to A.S.I.

Mike Foxworth, '70, lives in Moberly, Missouri, where he has a director of development and public relations for four years. His wife, Dee Dee (Little), is formerly from Denver. Their daughters are Suzanne, 10, and Andrea, 7.

Forrest LaVerne Fuller, M.D., '50, and his wife, Norma (Meyer) Fuller, former student, live in Bonita, California. Their four older children are all married, and they have six grandchildren. Their adopted twins, 14 years old, are still at home. Dr. Fuller is an OB/GYN physician in private practice at Paradise Valley Hospital in San Diego.

George Gager, '56, is manager of the Alabama-Mississippi Book Center in Montgomery, Alabama. Son Darryl is in optical school and daughter Tonya Tahillia attends Bass Memorial Academy in Mississippi.

Paul D. Gates, '59, is pastor of the Grand Haven and Wright churches in Michigan. His wife, Evelyn, also a former student, owns and operates a religious gift shop, Heavenly Treasures, in Grand Haven. Their son Clayton manufactures western wear in Fort Worth, Texas. Marla Kay is married to a pastor, Vincent Dandrea, and she tutors students with reading problems at Andrews University. Carolyn is majoring in secretarial science and music at Andrews, and writes and composes music.

Lola Genton, '54, has been enjoying teaching the lower grades in Lakeland, Florida, for seven years. She helps with the Pathfinder Club and is Sabbath School pianist and church organist.

Obed Graham, '54, is ministerial secretary of the Florida Conference. His wife, Coretta, '54, is office secretary in a nursing home near their residence in Winter Springs. Their son Chester is a physical therapist at Florida Hospital, and daughter Karen is an oncology nurse with V.N.A. Cindy and Randy are still at home.

Robert W. Grant, D.D.S., attended SC from 1952-54. He lives in Taylorsville, North Carolina. Son Robert, Jr., is an optician in Morganton, North Carolina. Son Richard is a dental lab technician in Galax, Virginia. Dale is an optometrist in Memphis, Tennessee. Alan is a first year dental student in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, and Lynne just finished high school.

Elaine (Higdon) Grove, '52, teaches English at Highland View Academy. She lives in Hagerstown, Maryland. She recently directed the senior play, 'Father Knows Best.' Son Tim is a junior at Columbia Union College. Daughter Sonja is married to Terry Parker, and they have two children. Daughter Tammy was a sophomore at Highland this past year.

David B. Hall, '57, lives in Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where he practices as a C.P.A. and is involved with data processing and financial counseling.

Kenneth Harding, '53, is pastor of the Hempstead, New York, church on Long Island. His wife, Eva, is secretary for the personal ministries and Sabbath School departments of the Greater New York Conference. Son Kenneth pastors two churches in Alabama. Brian owns a glass installation business in Charlotte, North Carolina, and John manages the walk-in clinic connected with Punta Gorda Hospital in Port Charlotte, Florida.

John Harlan, '53, retired as administrative assistant to the president of a division of ABC, Jacksonville, Florida. He and his wife live in Monteagle, Tennessee, and are active in the Monteagle Church. They frequently give musical programs in area churches.

Patricia (Thames) Harris, '53, was married on April 28 to Everett Greene. She is continuing to work as a registered nurse at Florida Hospital. Mr. Greene has been with Martin Marietta for 26 years.

Larry Hawkins, '54 and his wife, Gwen, former pre-nursing student, live on a four-acre farm near Walla Walla, Washington. He is a physician and staff anesthesiologist at Walla Walla General Hospital. He is president of Pacific Leadership Center, North, a self-supporting 1-12 grade school. He also has a 2,500 tape lending library. The Hawkins have four boys.

Ronald A. Haupt, M.D., '58, lives with his wife, Faye, on a 30-acre farm in Ashe County, North Carolina. He is emergency physician for Watauga County Hospital in Boone. They also have a Christmas tree nursery. Daughter Stephanie lives in Atlanta where she works as an L.P.N. and model. Son Stephen is studying auto body repair.

Wilfred S. Henderson, '54, is self employed in Carrollton, Georgia. He provides a carbide saw and tool grinding service for the woodworking industry. The Hendersons lived in Collegedale for many years and he operated a cabinet shop. Their three children all graduated from SC. He writes that they 'are grateful to our church and Christian education.'

John Wm. Henson, III, '54, is superintendent at Starkey Printing Company in Chattanooga. His family consists of Audrey, his wife, who is director of nursing at Life Care; Brenda, who is in management with Nabisco in Los Angeles; John W., M.D., who is interning at Loma Linda; and Shandelle, a sophomore at SC.

Charles W. Holland, '51, is living in Placerville, California. He is a retired teacher and is in the process of building his own home. He is also doing some substitute teaching 'on the side.' He has one son, Brian, in his third year of college in science health.

Emery Floyd Hoyt, '52, lives in Grand Junction, Colorado. He is currently retired after teaching church school for five years and special education for 22 years. His wife, Eva, also retired, was a dental assistant for 22 years. Emery says he spends a lot of time serving as church treasurer and an elder, besides his hobbies, such as gardening, camping, and fishing. Emery and Eva have two children and six grandchildren.

Howard Huenergardi, '57, makes his home in Ceres, California. He is presently an orthopedic surgeon, practicing in Modesto where he is the chief of surgery at the Modesto City Hospital. His oldest son, Jim, attended SC this last year, which is why Howard was here recently during the weekend of the spring band concert.

Winnie S. Hughes, '53, has retired from teaching in Menard, Texas. She spends time helping her husband who, though in retirement, still pastors their small church. Before retirement her husband, Claude D. Hughes, was a teacher and an R.N. who graduated from Orlando. Their daughter, La Verne (Hughes) Northrop, also graduated from SC, from the secretarial course.

Robert S. Ingram, '58, has lived in Berrien Springs, Michigan, for eight years. He is currently the credit manager for Andrews University. He and his wife, Glenna, who also attended SMC, recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Their three children have all attended the university.

William E. Ingram, '56, is presently living in Riverside, California. He is a dentist who takes time out to be active in many church and community activities. He and his wife, Jeanne, have two daughters: Karen, who is attending college; and Sandy, who is in academy.

Jamie Jacobs, '51, has just moved from Brunswick, Maine, and is now living in South Pittsburg, Tennessee.

James and Mable (Mitchell) Joiner, both '53 graduates, are living in Beltsville, Maryland. James is the editor and treasurer for the General Conference Youth Department, while Mable is a children's supplies buyer for the Potomac Adventist Book Center. They have two married daughters who both attended SMC. James and Mable write that they are enjoying their work and plan to visit SC in May when they come down for Mable's family reunion. The reunion promises to be more like an alumni meeting. They expect to have 19 SC graduates, 10 Collegedale Academy graduates, and 15 others who attended SC there.

William E. Jones, '52, is living in Berrien Springs, Michigan. He is currently an A.S.I. executive secretary and loss control director for the Lake Union Conference since 1978. His wife, Pat (Hoover) Jones, and he have two daughters: Penny, a sophomore at Andrews University; and Tammy, a sophomore at Andrews Academy.

Chet and Annie (Phillips) Jordan, '53, are living in Grey Gull, Wyoming. Chet is a chaplain and health educator, while Annie is a director of nurses. They have two married daughters living in Denver, one son graduating from the local high school, and one son who attended Mt. Ellis Academy. Annie's mother is also currently living with them.

Jule (Ausherman) Kellogg, '59 is a homemaker and business manager of her husband's Plastic Surgery Center. They are living in Salinas, California. Jule taught public school for 11 years, received her master's degree in education in 1971, and retired from teaching in 1967 when she married Donald Kellogg. They have four children: Mark, 24, a PUC graduate; Beth, married; Matt, 21, a senior at PUC; and D.J., who is 31, who Jule says is 'either keeping me young or wearing me out!'

Richard C. Kenfield, M.D., '59, is living in Yorba Linda, California. He graduated from Loma Linda University in 1963 and now has his own private practice in general internal medicine. Richard's daughter, Kimberly Ann Kenfield, is a nursing student at Loma Linda University.

Don E. Kenyon, '52 calls Charlotte, North Carolina, his home. Don is presently the personal ministries-Sabbath School director for the Carolina Conference. His wife, Ginger (Larcom) Kenyon, is a former teacher and school principal and is presently Don's secretary in the conference office. They have two sons: Don Kenyon, III, is living in New York State and is married; and Robert Wayne Kenyon, who is married and lives in Chattanooga.

C. Burton Keppler, '53, and Dorthy V. Keppler, '51, are living in Jonesboro, Tennessee. Burt is presently an anesthesiologist, while Dottie is a homemaker. They have raised two children and are in the process of raising their other two: Brenda Rooman, married and has a son born on Valentine's Day, '84; Susan Cross, married with three children: Karen, 15 years old and a sophomore at Mt. Pisgah Academy; and Ben, 14 years of age, just completed ninth grade by the Home Study Institute.

Those Who Walked These Halls

E. Francis Killen, '57, is living in Mocksville, North Carolina. He is an administrator for Franny Rest Home, Inc., a church elder, and a salesman for Knapp Shoes, Petrolon Products, and Rawleigh Products. As if that's not enough to keep him busy, he is also engaged in a continuing education program for business.

Chauncey F. Laubach, '51, resides in Avon Park, Florida. Chauncey is retired and spends a lot of time as a part-time literature evangelist.

Robert LeBard, '58, lives in Santa Cruz, where he is the principal at V.H.M. Junior Academy in Santa Cruz. His son, Rob, teaches Bible and history at Santa View Academy, and is a graduate of Andrews University. Their daughter, Karen, is also a graduate of Andrews University and teaches art and history while her husband, Kerry, graduated in June from Loma Linda Dental School. Robert's other daughter, Bridget, is now a senior at Monterey Bay Academy.

Hugh and Ida Lee Leggett, '52, are now living in Madison, Tennessee. Hugh is executive secretary for the Kentucky-Tennessee Conference.

James C. Lynn, '57, makes his home in Apopka, Florida. James has been teaching mathematics at Forest Lake Academy for 18 years. He and his wife, Jeanne (Graves) Lynne, have three children.

Jack Martz, '53, is living in Old Hickory, Tennessee. He is a retired minister, giving Bible studies and holding one or two evangelistic meetings per year. He is also a volunteer chaplain at Madison Hospital.

Robert L. Mathews, '50, is a resident of Spring Hill, Florida. Robert is the pastor of the Homosassa-Hernando churches.

Eugene K. McClellan, '52, is a pathologist at the V.A. Medical Center in Tomah, Wisconsin, where he serves as the chief of laboratory services.

Ed and Ramona McCoun, '59 and '60, are living in Dallas, Texas. Ed is a pastor in the Texas Conference and Ramona completed her master's in public health in May, 1983.

James McKinney, '55, makes his home in Greeneville, Tennessee. James writes that he recently visited John Mark McKinney at Loma Linda University where he is a freshman medical student.

Frank and Nancy (Mathews) McMillan, '55, are now living in Apopka, Florida. His wife is a two-year graduate from SC, and is a legal secretary and interior designer. He is an attorney for the Florida Conference in Orlando. Their daughter, Rhonda, is a graduate of SC and teaches grades five through eight in Dalton, Georgia. Their son is a graduate of Forest Lake Academy and is working locally.

Robert C. McMillan, '53, and Betty Jo (Boyton) McMillan, '51, currently live in Adelphi, Maryland. Bob is a research physicist at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia, and Betty is a retired teacher, now enjoying being a housewife again. They have four children: Charles, a married physicist in California; Sally, married and works in the education department of the General Conference; and Susan and Cynthia, twins who are both freshmen at Columbia Union College and living at home.

Jerry Medanich, '54, is a resident of Portland, Tennessee, and has been the president of Highland Hospital since 1979. They recently moved the hospital to a site in the town of Portland in 1983. His daughter, Sharon, is an SMC graduate living in Shriver, Louisiana, and his daughter, Cheryl, is married to Gene Tary and lives in Apopka, Florida. Cheryl has two sons: Gene Tary, III, age 4; and Charles, age 1.

Bill E. Morrison, '50, is an engineer for the California Department of Water Resources. He is now living in Citrus Heights, California. His oldest daughter, Lynne Sanders, teaches in Baker, Oregon. His daughter, Susan, is a nurse at Community Hospital, Loma Linda. His daughter, Sharyl L. Morrison, is now a third-year dental student. Their son Bruce is finishing academy.

Robert E. Northrop, '53, and his wife Laverne (Hughes) Northrop, '53, are living in Loma Linda since their return from Chile where he was treasurer and auditor of the Chile Union. Now he is a trust accountant with the Loma Linda University Foundation where she also works as a department secretary. Their two daughters are both married. One son is married and just graduated from college. The other is a sophomore. 'Wish we could get back to homecoming. May God bless all.'

John N. Oliver, D.D.S., '55, of Columbus, North Carolina, has been in private dental practice for 25 years. His wife, Odila, assists him. They have three grown children: Cheryl Wilson is the wife of the Augusta, Georgia, pastor; Becky is at Nosoca Pines Ranch, the Carolina Conference youth camp; and John is doing radio and commercial advertising in Columbia, South Carolina.

Oluf Edwin Olsen, M.D., '54, has been in the private practice of ophthalmology in Orlando since 1964. All three of the Olsen children work with computers.

Carol (Smith) Palsgrove, '56, is receptionist and dental assistant for her husband, John E. Palsgrove, D.D.S., student '54 to '56, in Avon Park, Florida. They have lived there since 1962. Their son, Michael, is a senior nursing student at SC. Their daughter, Diane, is an academy junior.

Lester Park, '52, is Bible teacher and associate pastor at Monterey Bay Academy, Watsonville, California. Daughter Kathryn was a junior at SC this past year, majoring in music education. Lon Dennis is in management at L.L.U. Medical Center. Son Ted is in computer services with T.R.W.

Leslie D. Pendleton, '59, is assistant treasurer of the Carolina Conference and lives in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Ruby (Lynn) Phalen, '53, is secretary at the General Conference Youth Department, with specific responsibilities for maintaining contact with SDA military personnel. Her two daughters are Jackie, 14, and Janice, 12.

Charles L. Pierce, D.M.A., '51, chairs the music department and the division of fine arts at Canadian Union College. His wife, Beatrice (Ralls) Pierce, is secretary to the college president. Their son, Charles, '72, is vice president of the hospital association in Hackettstown, New Jersey. Their daughter, Cheryl, '76, is employed at Florida Hospital.

Romayne (Godwin) Pratt, '59, loves being a full-time homemaker in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. She is also active in church work.

Jimmy Rhodes, '59, owns Lansford Piano and Organ Company in Chattanooga. The Rhodes have three children: Deborah, who just graduated from Collegedale Academy; Jimmy, who finished his first year of school; and Rondi, 6, at home.

Donald Lawrence Rima, II, '56, is a systems analyst with Sonitral Corporation. He lives in Pine Castle, Florida.

Ron Rodgers, '57, and his wife, Denise, former student, have moved from Maitland, Florida, to Orlando, where he is pastoring the South Orlando Church. She is now assistant dean of nurses on the Orlando campus. Bonnie, their younger daughter, plans to finish her associate in office administration at SC in December.

Bob Romans, '59, lives in Stockton, California. He teaches band in seven schools for the Lodi Unified School District. Son Mark graduated from college in 1983. Matt will finish pre-med in 1985, and Beth is married.

Joya Lynn-Schoen, M.D., '57, is a physician doing general family practice, preventive medicine and nutrition, and chelation therapy in Orlando. Her parents and brother, Ken Lynn, '56, live in Groveland, Florida.

Walter L. Schwab, '50, lives in Orlando, Florida. He and his wife are celebrating their 42nd anniversary in August. Members of the Orlando Central Church, he is an elder and his wife is head deaconess. They have one son.

Richard H. Shepard, '55, is Sabbath School and personal ministries director for the Florida Conference. He has been married to the former Elaine Dickson, R.N., for 26 years. They live in Altamonte Springs. Their daughters are Verlene Marie, 17, and Evelyn Darlene, 15.

Jeanene (Hurst) Skelton, student '55-'56, now lives in Marietta, Georgia.

Carol Jean (Whidden) Smith, M.D., '54, is chief of disability evaluations and a captain in the U.S. Coast Guard at headquarters in Washington, D.C. She and her three teenage daughters live in Silver Spring, Maryland, and are active in the Spencerville Church. In her spare time she heads up a 24-hour medical/dental family practice called Life Ring, Inc., in Silver Spring.

Vernon Sparks, M.D., '58, is a physician at two emergency clinics in Knoxville, Tennessee. His wife is a nurse. They have four children. Brenda, the older daughter, just received her A.S. nursing degree at SC. Brian, their older son, was a freshman at SC.

Elmyra (Conger) Stover, '54, cares for a 20-unit apartment complex in Loveland, Colorado. Her husband resides in the Sierra Vista nursing facility there as a result of a paralyzing stroke. She continues to care for their home and grow a garden each year.

William J. Strickland, student '48 to '53, is vice principal of Shenandoah Valley Academy, New Market, Virginia. His wife, the former Jean Quackenbush, was a student in '50 to '51. They have a son, David, a daughter, Jan, and a granddaughter.

V.W. Stuyvesant, '52, is a pathologist at Madison Hospital in Tennessee.

W. Shaen Sutherland, M.D., '52, is practicing in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee. Three of his children are SC graduates: Christopher, '75; Heather Butterfield, '76; and Yolanda Elkins, '72. Another child, Corby Shaen, also attended SC.

Layton R. Sutton, M.D., '52, is in private practice at Ardmore Adventist Hospital in Oklahoma. He is also plant physician for the Uniroyal Tire Plant in Ardmore, and chief of staff at the Oklahoma Veterans Center. His wife, Jan, is a piano teacher and church organist. Son Tim is married and is a TV repairman. Shawn, 16, and Jesse, 7, are students. Daughter, Deborah, is 18 months old.

J. William Taylor, student '58 to '59, is an engineer with Southern Bell. He lives in Pineville, North Carolina, and is happily married. He and his wife have six children ages 8 to 23.

John Thurber, '56, is youth and family life director for the Mid-America Union and lives in Lincoln, Nebraska. Son Mic is pastoring in San Diego. Son Gary is pastoring in Kent, Washington. Daughter Sherry lives in Charlotte, North Carolina. He writes, "The Lord has been gracious to our family and we are happy in our work for Him."

Elle (Zervos) Timberman, '52, lives in Zellwood, Florida, and as an R.N., is team leader in the neonatal center at Florida Hospital. Her husband, Norm, is a retired chemist. Their three sons all live in Forest City, Florida. John is a radio-TV engineer; Mark is a manager in advertising; and Kenneth was a college senior this past year.

Joel O. Tompkins, '55, is president of the Mid-America Union and resides in Lincoln, Nebraska. His son, Joel D., attended SC in '77 to '79. He works for Adventist Health Systems in Colorado and is married to Kellie Higgins. His daughter, Susan, is a nurse and married Arn Schnell. They have a young son.

Fay Seaga Tortello, '51, lives in Kingston, Jamaica.

Paul and Melba (Culpepper) Tullock attended SC in '53 to '55. She is a full-time charge nurse at a nursing home in Jefferson, Texas, and he is involved with the manufacturing of broom and mop handles. Their two sons, Robby and Mike, live at home.

Drew M. Turlington, '51, retired in 1981. He taught for 21 years at SC. Now he is elder of the Brandon Church and lives in Tampa, Florida. He helped construct a new youth activities building. His wife, Rita, had major surgery in 1982 and 1983, and he spent three weeks in the hospital in January, but he says they are both fine now and "we are looking for our Lord's soon return."

Kenneth Vance, '56, retired in 1976. He had been purchasing agent for Paradise Valley Hospital for 19 years. He still lives in National City, California. Still single, he does a lot of traveling and enjoys life.

Relious LeRoy Walden, '53, lives in Glendale, California, and is vice president of finance for the Southern California Conference. His wife, Beverly (Smith) Walden, is secretary for the Glendale Church. Their three grown children are David, Lisa Butler, and Neal.

W.D. (Bitt) Wampler, '51, has been president of the Iowa-Missouri Conference since November, 1981. His wife, Betty (Grounds) Wampler, attended SC for two years. Their older son, Jim, '78, is Bible teacher at Ozark Academy. Their daughter, Debbie Haas, also attended SC before taking physical therapy at Loma Linda University. She is employed at Shawnee Mission Hospital in Kansas City. Son Gary was a freshman at Union College this past year.

Wally Welch, '52, is director of internal auditing at Florida Hospital. His wife, JoAnne, is patient relations director there. Their daughter, Sherrie Longacre, is a special care R.N. at the same hospital. Son, Steve, '77, is assistant manager of the Adventist Book Center in the Florida Conference.

Lyone (Jensen) Wetmore, '56, was married on February 29 aboard the Golden Odyssey in the South China Sea. Prior to that event, she was an interior designer for the last 20 years. The Wetmores live in Newport Beach, California.

Ronald Whicker, student '57 to '59, and his wife, Linda Whicker, student '58 to '59, live in Kernersville, North Carolina. Ron is in real estate development, currently office condominiums and apartments. Linda has been a real estate agent for the past 14 years. Their son, Mark, is a junior at SC, and Leigh, just graduated from Mount Pisgah Academy, looks forward to attending SC as a freshman this fall.

Barbara (Wash) Wilder, '57, appeared this spring in Who's Who in American Nursing. She is a nurse consultant program specialist with HealthCare Finance Administration and travels the eight southeastern states. She has an adopted son in the army at Fort Knox and an adopted daughter in California, married to a navy man. The last five years she has worked on three Indian reservations as a psychiatric nurse clinician.

Barbara (Phillips) Williams, student '54, owns Williams-Burg Colonial Crafts, a quilt shop in Bristol, Virginia. She is married and has three children.

Donald W. Wilson, '59, is president of Pittsburg State University in Pittsburg, Kansas.

Fred Wilson, '54, and his wife, Barbara, '54, live in Altamonte Springs, Florida. He pastors the Kress Memorial Church there, and she is secretary of the communication department for the Florida Conference. Their daughter Rheeta is taking nursing at SC.

Elden R. Wilson, '54, is principal and teacher at the Duluth SDA Elementary School in Duluth, Georgia. His wife, Thelma, also teaches at the school. Their three children are married and have given them 10 grandchildren.

Richard A. Young, '59, is self-employed, operating a heavy-equipment company in Longwood, Florida. He is married to the former Phyllis Flesher. A daughter, Sharon, was a freshman at SC this past year. They have two other daughters, Debbie and Cindy, who are married, and a son, Keith, who works in the family business.

Thomas C. Young, Jr., student '56 to '57, lives in Washington, Georgia, and is plant manager for Hollander Home Fashions in nearby Tignall. He has three married sons and a fourth son who is beginning college.

Virginia Freda (McCall) Zollinger, '50, is supervisor of nursing at Fletcher Hospital in North Carolina. Her husband is LeLand Zollinger.

1960's

Jerry and Elizabeth (Travis) Albritton, '65, live in Newbury Park, California. Jerry is a band and choir director, and a keyboard instructor at Newbury Park Adventist Academy. Elizabeth is a secretary to the syndication director and producer for Faith For Today. They have one daughter, Wendy, 16, who is a junior at Newbury Park Adventist Academy and plays the viola in the conference string band and snare drums in the academy band. Their son, Joel, 14, is an eighth grader at Conejo Adventist Elementary School and plays the trumpet in the academy band.

Barbara (Hoar) Arena, '64, is living in Hicksville, New York. She is currently a computationalist of financial systems for International Paper Co. She has two sons: John, 13, and Timothy, 9. Barbara recently enjoyed a business trip to Mobile because there was also time to visit some old friends.

Audrey (Klaus) Beale, '63, resides in Dayton, Tennessee. Audrey is currently retired after 30 years of teaching in SDA elementary schools, 20 of them in Jacksonville, Florida. Her two children are both married and have families of their own. Esther, her daughter, lives in New Jersey, and James is in Tennessee.

Barbara (Foster) Beall, '62, now lives in Silver Spring, Maryland. She is the principal of Calverton Elementary School in Beltsville, Maryland.

John D. Bevis, '63, makes his home in Lakewood, Colorado. John is the pastor of the Denver First Seventh Day Baptist Church. His wife, Hope, is the assistant professor of nursing at the University of Colorado. They have one daughter, Laura, 15.

Ramona (Starr) Bivens, '69, is presently living in Wytheville, Virginia. She is a kindergarten teacher in public school and is currently working to obtain her master's degree in elementary administration and supervision. Ramona and her husband have three children, all girls, from 2 to 14 years of age. The Bivens are members of the Wytheville Church where Ramona also teaches the youth class, and along with her oldest daughter, is a member of the choir.

Kenneth and Judith Blanton, '63, live in Bloomfield, Kentucky. Ken and Judy are currently in the process of setting up a nonprofit organization called Blanton & Blanton, which will serve their community by offering marriage and family counseling, growth programs, and enrichment seminars to ministers and other workers and their families. They and their two children, Richard, 17, and Mark, 16, have formed a mixed quartet and enjoy singing at various churches and community programs.

Myra (Potts) Blasingame, '66, calls Florence, Alabama, her home. She is a part-time bank teller and a full-time mother and housewife. Her husband is an attorney with the firm of Potts, Young & Blasingame.

Jim Boyle, '66, makes his home in Madison, Tennessee. Jim has been the president of Madison Hospital since July, 1983. His wife, Darleen (Bradwell) Boyle, is working at Madison Hospital in nutritional support. They have two children: Jamie, 13, and Lorri, 11.

Doug Breadahl, '62, is living in North Fork, California. He is currently a civil engineer/land surveyor and made the California Who's Who in 1983. Doug writes that he is single and happy.

John and Astrid Bridges, '61, have "settled" in Cumberland Center, Maine. John is Sabbath School, personal ministries, and communications director for the New England Conference. Astrid spends her time working as an R.N. at Parkview Memorial Hospital in Brunswick and with their children: Leonard, Julie, and Monte, who are all attending either Pine Tree Academy or elementary school.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Linda (Wagner) Brinkerhoff, '69, is living in Paradise, California. She is a homemaker, on the school board, involved in Sabbath School, community auxiliary, and a women's Bible prayer group. Her husband's field is internal medicine. They have a daughter, 5, and a son, almost 2. She writes that they're enjoying 'Paradise' a little ahead of the rest of us.

Sandra (Edwards) Brown, '67, has made her home in Mobile, Alabama, where she is the head nurse at Providence Hospital. She and her husband, Ken, '67, have two children: Todd, 13, and Theresa, 12. Ken is teaching science at a local junior high.

James R. Bryant, '68, makes his home in Tullahoma, Tennessee. He is a C.P.A., and the senior partner in Bryant & Magoon C.P.A.'s in Tullahoma. His wife, Beth, '68, was the first woman to be elected alderman in Tullahoma. They have two children: a son Jamie, 12, and a daughter Melissa, 10.

Kenneth, '59, and T. Ann (Cunningham) Burke, '60, are living in Yucaipa, California, where Ken is a professor of nutrition and dietetics at Loma Linda University.

Virginia (Fowler) Burnham, '62, is living in Malawi, Africa. She is doing secretarial work for her husband, Dr. Gilbert Burnham. She has her B.S. in nursing and her M.A. in mother and child nursing.

Dr. Amy (Turner) Bushnell, '60, resides in St. Augustine, Florida, where she is a historian for the Historic St. Augustine Preservation Board. She spends her time writing, giving public lectures, and consulting, designing, and directing research. Her daughter, Catherine McCants, is a sophomore at North Carolina State in textile design while her other daughter, Colleen McCants, is going into college next year at the University of Florida in chemical engineering. Amy is currently working on a book about the governorship of Florida from 1565-1702, to go with her previous book on the Florida treasury.

Gerry Cahalo, '66, lives in Lake Elsinore, California. He is a physician in the field of internal medicine and family practice. He just opened his new office in Lake Elsinore last year after moving from Madison, Tennessee. Gerry has one son named Jerry, 12.

Julie (Wak) Cagle, '64, makes her home in Keene, Texas. She and her husband, Terry Cagle, have two daughters: Lisa, 16, and Dena, 12. They've lived in Keene 13 years. Terry owns a Pontiac-Buick franchise and a van conversion company and Julie is a homemaker, bookkeeper for her husband, part-time R.N., and owns a furniture store.

Troy L. Caddell, student '63, resides in Brent, Alabama, where he is currently retired.

Judith (Vining) Campbell, '69, lives in Naples, Florida. Judith teaches in the church school in Naples where her husband, Kirk, also teaches. They have three children: Shelley, 12; Wendy, 11; and Hart, 4. She and Kirk are both attending summer school at SC this summer.

Joyce Jean (Bohannon) Carlile, student '65 to '68, makes her home in Broken Arrow, Oklahoma. She is working part time as a dental receptionist. She is married to a dentist and they have four children: Scott, 13; Shane, 9; Stephanie, 3; and Stephen Jeremy, born in August, 1983.

Marlene (Mayhew) Carlson, student '64 to '67, does accounting for a medical group in Orlando, Florida. Her husband, Rodney, manages Princeton Optical Center. Marlene is involved in church choral work. They have two boys, Chris and Chad.

Roy Caughron, '64, is ministerial and stewardship secretary for the Georgia-Cumberland Conference. His wife is Marilyn (Richards) Caughron, '63. Daughter Debbie graduated from academy this year. They also have a 5-year-old, Julie.

Rosalind (Murphy) Chastain, student six summers between 1928 and 1962, retired this year after 36 years of teaching in the Alabama-Mississippi Conference, most recently at Bass Memorial Academy. The academy library has been named in her honor. She has written a book depicting Adventist history in the pioneer community of Talawah, Mississippi.

Faye (Devroy) Chilson, '69, is a health service nurse on the La Sierra Campus of Loma Linda University. Her husband is a biology professor on the same campus. Their children are: Adam, 11; Amie, 7; and Aarika, 4.

Willard J. Clapp, '66, is engineering group manager for McKee Baking Company. He is responsible for design, purchase, installation, and testing of production and related equipment. His wife, Iris, has worked for the SC library 21 years. Son Lloyd, is purchasing agent for McKee Baking Company's Plant 3. Son Gene, '78, is senior photographer for Commercial Graphics Company in Houston, Texas.

D. Glenn Clark, '67, lives in Hendersonville, North Carolina, and has been teaching building trades at Lakeview High School. In November, 1983, he married. His wife, Karylee, has a son, Jonathan, 12. Glenn says he's building houses this summer as a new job.

Michael D. Clark, '66, owns Clark Distributing Company and lives in Madison, Tennessee. His wife, Daisy (Welch) Clark, '66, is employed at Madison Hospital. Daughters are Kelley, 15, and Krisi, 13.

Gary Cockrell, '67, is science and math teacher for grades 7 to 10 in the SDA junior academy in Leeds, Alabama. His wife, Karen, teaches grades 3 and 4. Their daughters are Deanna, 10, and Kari, 2.

Jack J. Combs, Jr., '65, is a manager for the Social Security Administration in Nashville. He lives in Goodlettsville, Tennessee, and belongs to the Boulevard Church in Nashville. Daughter Michelle Sherrill, former student, and her husband Mike live in Maggie Valley, North Carolina. Jackie Combs is a student at SC.

Richard H. Coston, '65, has been pastor of the Maplewood Academy Church, Hutchinson, Minnesota, for about seven years. Prior to that he pastored in the Florida Conference. His oldest son, Howard, just graduated from the Medical University of South Carolina. Son Dan, student '77 to '79, manages property in Pryor, Oklahoma. Son Bruce, '83, has finished his first year of veterinary medicine at the University of Minnesota.

J. Wayne Coulter, '66, is president of the Mountain View Conference and lives in Williamstown, West Virginia. The Coulters have two children, Christy, 12, and Todd, 9.

Don Crane, '60, and his wife, Diane (Ludlam) Crane, former student, live in Silver Spring, Maryland. Their son, Dave, has been serving in Nepal as a student missionary and plans to return to SC this fall as a junior. Their daughter will be a junior in academy.

Ben E. (Gene) Crawford, '61, is a nursing home administrator in Calhoun, Georgia. His wife, Joyce (Lansford) Crawford, former student, also works in nursing home administration. Daughter Cynthia works as secretary for a medical group in Atlanta. Cathy is in nurses training.

Jim Culpepper, '62, lives in Moberly, Missouri, and is administrator of Moberly Regional Medical Center, an Adventist Health System hospital. Son Greg, '84, just graduated from SC. Daughter Lori graduated from Moberly Junior College Nursing School in May.

Nolan B. Darnell, '66 and his wife, Margaret (Davis) Darnell, '63, live in Arden, North Carolina, their ninth year in the Asheville area. He is teaching residential carpentry and cabinetmaking at Asheville-Buncombe Technical College. Margaret teaches first grade in Fletcher. Their sons are Loren, 12, and David, 10.

Mary Belle DeArk, student '67 to '68, is a nurse living in Pegram, Tennessee. She has charge of the skilled wing at a nursing home.

Wolfgang G. Decker, student '68 to '69, is vice president and credit policy division manager for American Bank in Baton Rouge. He is married and has two daughters.

Dwayne Dickerson, '61, lives in Grand Ledge, Michigan, and has had his own company for eight years. Dwayne Dickerson deSIGNS. He designs, letters, constructs, and displays signs of various materials. His wife, Jean, works in the personal ministries department of the Michigan Conference. Their son, Lyndel, is completing his Ph.D. in chemistry at Ohio State. DaNette is in California, Nita in college in Nebraska, and Joretta at Grand Ledge Academy in Michigan.

Albert Dittes, '67, directs development and public relations at Highland Hospital, Portland, Tennessee. His wife, Patricia (Mooney) Dittes, '68, finished her M.P.H. in 1983 and is director of nursing in Sunbelt's Home Health Agency in Madison. Children are Julie, 11, and Jim, 13.

Mary Dreos, '69, is a bookkeeper in Phoenix, Arizona.

Beverly (Boyle) Duckett, '68, works with her husband of 15 years, Harold, in their own company, Interior Associates, Inc., an interior architecture firm in Knoxville. They are busy with work, church work, Terrace House Adventist Student Center, and life in general.

Karen (White) Eby, student '64 to '65, lives in Loma Linda. Her husband, William, is a physician and pathology researcher. They have three sons and a daughter, ages 7 to 13.

Janet Edwards, '69, is a foster parent operating an emergency shelter home for the county. Her husband, Fred, plans to retire in June, 1985. Their three daughters have families, giving them eight grandchildren in all.

James E. Erwin, D.Min., '68, pastors the Valdosta, Georgia, church. He and his wife, Andrea, have two daughters, Kristin and Michelle.

Loren Fardulis, '70, and his wife, Cindy (Snell) Fardulis, '68, have lived at Broadview Academy, LaFox, Illinois, since 1977. He is boys' dean and she works as an R.N. at Geneva Community Hospital's obstetrical department. Loren has an M.A. degree in counseling and student development. Their children are Scott, 12, and Amy, 10.

Henry Farr, Ed.D., '69, is curriculum director in the education department of the Georgia-Cumberland Conference. He was ordained as a minister in 1979. His wife, Shirley, is a nurse. Their daughter, Esther, was a freshman at SC this past year. Ray, their son, was an academy freshman.

Lloyd (Buddy) Fisher, '66, is living in Loma Linda, California.

Elwood M. Foote, '60, and his wife, Faye, are retired in Ringgold, Georgia. He taught school for 13 years. He is local elder and Sabbath School superintendent in the Center Grove Church and his wife is church organist.

Peter Douglas Forshee, student '64, lives in Hagerstown, Indiana, and is a pressman. He married JoAnn Brittain in 1965 and they have a son, Charles Douglas, born in 1968, and a daughter, Annette Marie, born in 1970.

Gladys (Lawless) Fowler, '66, lives in Aiken, South Carolina. She keeps busy in a small church and is enjoying watching the Fowler girls grow: Kim, 7 and Kelli, 5.

John W. Fowler, '64, has been president of the Ohio Conference since 1980. He and his wife, Kay, live near Mt. Vernon, Ohio. Their son, Mark, '80, is a pastor in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference and is married to Yolanda Harris. They have a daughter, Carissa Kay, 1. The Fowlers' oldest daughter, Melonie, and her husband, Lyndon Shipowick, are both SC graduates. They reside in Portland, Oregon, and have a baby, Adam Jon. The Fowlers' youngest daughter, Marcia, will be an academy senior and plans to take nursing in college. Guess where!

Harold E. Frey, student '64 to '69, is executive chef for St. Helena Hospital and Health Center. He lives in Napa, California.

Glenn A. Fuller, '62, is vice president and corporate secretary for McKee Baking Company. He is married to the former Jeannine Holley, and their children are: Kimberly, Gary, Janelle, and Desiree.

Reita Johanna Faye (Suggs) Gannon, former student '60, is employed at FloLo Electric Company in Franklin Park, Illinois, as an information systems operator. Her husband, Pete, is a retired U.S. Navy chief who is currently a service representative for Desser Industries.

Julius M. Garner, M.D., '61, and his wife, Beverly Schmidt Garner, '60, live in Longwood, Florida. He is medical director for Centra Care Emergency Medical Clinics, and she worked part time until January as a medical secretary. Both of their sons, Jeff, 21, and Kent, 18, are attending college.

LaVoy Thomas Garner, '64, and his wife, Donna Faltin Garner, '62, live in Collegedale. He is a literature evangelist.

Marybeth (Watkins) Gessek, student '65 to '66, has lived in Gaston, Oregon, for the past five years, with her husband, Glen, who pastors the 'lovely country church of 300 members' there. Before that, they were in Kansas for eight years. She has done substitute teaching, but mostly has helped with church work and mothered their sons, Todd, 14, and Chad, 10.

Tom Gibbs, '68, is in his last year of OB/GYN residency at Albert Einstein Medical Center, Philadelphia. He says, 'I still have two children, one dog, two cats, and my same wife, Joe Ann!'

Jean (Lofland) Gill, '64, is a housewife and mother of four in Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Rogene Goodge, '63, has been working at Little Creek Academy since her graduation. She is currently office manager and registrar.

Lucille P. Graham, '62, teaches first grade in Ringgold, Georgia. Last year was her 21st year in Catoosa County. Her husband is retired and she will also soon retire. They live in Collegedale. Their three sons include a program analyst, an optometrist, and a dentist. Their daughter teaches private music lessons. All are married and have children, 10 in all.

Norman Gray, student '68 to '69, directs a physical therapy department and lives in Marietta, Georgia. He says he enjoys his profession immensely. Daughter, Kimherly, is 15.

Joe Green, '62, is manager of the Georgia-Cumberland Adventist Book Center. The main store is in Decatur, Georgia, and a branch is in Collegedale.

John F. Greene, '65, and his wife, Ava Ruth (Anderson) Greene, former student, live in Belton, Texas. He is director of anatomic pathology for a clinic in Temple, Texas.

Jerry Hagan, student '65 to '68, has his own building firm in Collegedale. He and his wife, Peggy (Soper), have two boys, Mark, 8, and Michael, 4.

Lloyd E. Hallock, '69, and his wife, Dora Pons, '69, live in Papillion, Nebraska. He pastors the Golden Hills Church in Bellevue. Dora just received her M.S. degree in nursing and has applied to teach in the college of nursing at the University of Nebraska.

Minon A. Hamm, '66, is enjoying her work and home in Lincoln, Nebraska. She coordinates the college-wide writing program at Union College.

Kathy Ann Harrison, student '69 to '70, was killed instantly in a tragic rappelling accident in December, 1980. She was an R.N. and had gone back to North Texas State University to take counselling.

Sandra (Elliott) Haynes, '62, lives in Roseburg, Oregon. She recently took some graduate studies to update her teaching credentials. Her husband, Ed, is an electrical contractor. Their daughter, Kim, just graduated from academy, and Kevin will be in eighth grade. She and Ed are youth leaders at the Roseburg Church.

Rebecca (Stanley) Hedges, '66, is a housewife in Hendersonville, North Carolina.

Ralph M. Hendershot, '62, writes, 'During the school year I am the guidance counselor for 800 7th and 8th graders at Ringgold Junior High, which should explain the chronic haggard appearance! During the summer I work with All Seasons Travel in East Ridge.' He says his specialty is honeymoons for anyone but himself! His real specialties are Hawaii and Europe. He lives in Collegedale.

Connie (Bryant) Hickman, '63, lives in Blue Springs, Missouri, with her husband, Terry, and two sons, 12 and 13, but works as an executive secretary at Shawnee Mission Medical Center in Kansas. They are active in their local church. A nephew, Joe Robertson, '83, is a recent SC graduate.

Dwight L. Hilderbrandt, Jr., '63, and his wife, Dolores (Crittenden) Hilderbrandt, '62, live in Whites Creek, Tennessee.

Charles F. Hindman, '69, is pastor of the Raleigh First Church in North Carolina, and is busy with new church building plans. His wife, Linda (Miller) Hindman, '68, is a surgical staff nurse at Wake County Medical Center. Their children are Brian, almost 11, and Kriston, almost 10.

Geraldine (Donak) Hollis, '63, is a public health nurse in Luray, Virginia. She and her son, now 11, visited Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Hungary last October.

Jerry Hoyle, '66, is a psychologist in the psychiatry department of the School of Medicine, Loma Linda University. His wife, Sharon (Clark) is a nurse in the emergency department at the L.L.U. Medical Center. They have five children and live in Redlands, California.

Mary Ruth (Selbert) Hughes, '61, is managing a business on Vashon Island, Washington, but plans to go back to nursing next year. Her two daughters will both be in college.

Those Who Walked These Halls

John (Jack) Jansen, '63, has finished his 12th year at Forest Lake Academy in Florida. He is vice principal for student affairs. His wife, Stephanie (Humphries), '63, is a secretary for Adventist Health SystemsUnbelt. Their sons are Erik, 13, and Brett, 11.

Margie Sue (Temples) Jennings, '62, is chairman of the nursing department at Columbia Union College. Her husband, Jerry, is the assistant investment manager for the General Conference. They live in Takoma Park, Maryland.

David G. Jewett, '67, is an OB/GYN physician at Madison Hospital. He and his wife, Paula, '67, live in Hendersonville, Tennessee.

Don R. Keele, Sr., '60, is principal of Campion Academy in Loveland, Colorado. His wife, Della, is administrative secretary at the academy. Daughter Pam is the wife of John Cress, '77, Adventist chaplain on the campus of Arizona State University. Donnie Keele, '81, will be Bible teacher and chaplain at Sunnydale Academy in Missouri, moving from Valley Grande Academy. Son Rusty is in college and daughter Michelle is in academy.

Linda L. (Robison) Kehn, '65, is the mother of two boys, Matthew, 7, and Jonathan, 5. She is working toward an associate degree in business data processing in Warren, Michigan.

Roger S. King, '60, and Jolena (Taylor) King, '61, reside in Collegedale. He is a dentist at the Collegedale Medical Center, and she is a secretary at Collegedale Casework. They are both active in the Ooltewah Church. Son Steve, 21, is taking electronics engineering at UTC and David, 18, plans to attend SC this fall. 'We would love to see people from our 'era' when they are in the vicinity.'

Suzanne (Johnson) Kinzer, '61, has just finished her master's degree in education, emphasis in business education. She lives in Loma Linda, California. Her husband was killed in an airplane accident in 1982. Her children are 9 and 14. She is part-time secretary to the financial vice president at Loma Linda Community Hospital.

Arne A. Klingstrand, '60, is a retired minister in Loma Linda, California. The family came to the U.S. from Sweden in 1956. Daughter Gunhild and son Alf went to church school in Collegedale while their father got his B.A. Arne's wife, Lisa, worked in the bakery. He had worked in Sweden for 15 years, and subsequently pastored in Chicago for five years and New York City for 12 years.

Ed Knight, '69, and his wife, Carol (Schneider), '69, live in Youngstown, Ohio. Ed is a businessman in the computer field and Carol teaches gifted third graders in a public school. Liesl is 11 and Andy is 9. Both have played piano solos in programs this past year.

Bruce Kopitzke, '63, is science teacher at Gem State Academy, Caldwell, Idaho. His wife, Myrna, is librarian and history teacher. Son Rob, 20, is in college; Karman, 18, just finished academy; and Rick, 16, is still attending Gem State Academy.

Robert L. Kriigel, '60, retired in 1983 from teaching physical science in Pontiac, Michigan, public schools. He had earned his M.A. in 1970 from Andrews University, 30 in 1972 from Oakland University. His son, Kim Kriigel, is principal of Richmond Junior Academy in Virginia.

Carolyn (Luce) Kujawa, '60, married in 1981. Her husband is a computer analyst. She is completing her doctoral dissertation at the University of Maryland and is director of the learning center and associate professor of English at Columbia Union College. They live in Gambrills, Maryland.

Fred H. Kuykendall, student '65 to '68, is president of K & K Oil Co., Inc., oil and gasoline distributor, in Fort Smith, Arkansas. His wife is Angela Denise. Daughter Andrea Denise is 3, and son Fred Henry, II, is a year old.

Phyllis (Bryant) Labrenz, '68, teaches second graders at Madison Campus Elementary School in Tennessee. Her husband, Walter Labrenz, is manager of Madison Academy rental properties and maintenance. Their children are William, 8, and Heather, 10.

N. Thomas (Tom Norwood) Larsen, student '66 to '67, teaches industrial education at Lodi Academy in California. He and his wife, Jeanne (O'Neill) Larsen, have three children: Karen, 3; Kevin, 6; and Kendall, 8. The Larsens worked at the SDA Agricultural School in Brazil for nine years.

Carolyn (Bever) Lennart, student '69, is now an L.P.N. working in a progressive coronary care unit at Masonic Hospital in Chicago. She married Laslo Lennart, a respiratory therapist at the SDA hospital in Glendale Heights in 1973, and they have a son, Steven, born in 1979.

Judy (Smith) Leeper, student '57 to '60, teaches grades 1 and 2 in Pomona, California. Her husband, Jim, '60, is executive vice president of Versitron Industries. A son and daughter just graduated from Loma Linda—he from accounting, and she from x-ray. Another son will be in 6th grade.

Arthur Lesko, '68, is minister of religious education and associate pastor of the La Sierra Collegiate Church in Riverside, California. His wife, Lennette Lesko, '67, is an accountant for the Southeastern California Conference Association. Their children are Angela, 14, and Todd, 9.

Linda (Stringer) Lockwitz, '69, is an emergency room nurse working in St. Joseph, Michigan. Her husband, Ed, a self-employed building contractor, was involved in an auto accident last April and had cervical fractures. But after six months out of commission, 'by God's grace he's now back to work and doing fine.' Their three girls are: Kristin, 8; Karin, 6; and Karmin, 3.

Marin G. Lowman, '66, is director of personal ministries, Sabbath School, communications, and religious liberty for the Dakota Conference. His wife, Donette, works as a dental assistant. Tamara is 13, and Brian, 12. They live in Pierre, South Dakota.

Judy (Hooper) Lucas, student '63, has remarried since the death of Frank C. Gamble, also a former student. He was teaching at Mile High Academy in Colorado at the time of his death. Judy now lives in Bradenton, Florida, and has a daughter, 8.

Ron Malloch, 66, and his wife, Joan, have two children. He will be teaching at the Ringgold SDA Church School this coming year. They live in Collegedale.

Donald Maples, 66, is a semi-retired painter and carpenter in Morganton, North Carolina. He retired from teaching in 1973. He and his wife, Edith, former student, enjoyed six weeks in Europe last October and November. They belong to the SDA Outdoor Club and go camping once a month.

Nancy A. Marsh, '68, is an anesthetist at White

Memorial Medical Center. She and her daughters, Jana, 15, and Julie, 8, reside in La Canada, California. She was in the Inter-American Division for several years.

Weldon Dale Martin, '51, and his wife, Betty Jean, '60, are back in the Southern Union after many years. He is principal and teacher of grades 5 to 8 at Lexington Junior Academy. She teaches grades 9 and 10. They live in Georgetown, Kentucky, and are 'looking forward to visiting SC next August.'

Kathleen (Johnson) Martin, 69, lives in Jackson, Mississippi, where her primary role is mothering Paul, 6, and Elizabeth, 2. She has a part-time job in auto parts warehousing.

Richard Martin, '63, and Lynne (Price) Martin, '61, participate in church activities in Campbell, California. Richard has been 8th grade teacher and vice principal at West Valley SDA School in Campbell for four years. Lynne is a medical office manager. Their son, Kevin, is in college.

Daryl (Andersen) Mayberry, '66, travels occasionally with her husband, Dwight, who is educational superintendent for the Kansas-Nebraska Conference. Their offspring are Douglas, 12, and Doreen, 11. She has her own business, 4-D Enterprises, selling sprouts to area restaurants.

Terry McComb, '63, has taken a sabbatical from full-time pastoring to develop a 'Rest and Recovery Retreat' where people can learn a new life style. He lives in Polebridge, Montana. He is also an announcer for KALS on Sundays. The McCombs have four sons.

Ed McCoun, '59, and his wife, Ramona, '60, live in Nacogdoches, Texas. He pastors the church in 'the oldest city in Texas,' and is involved in campus ministries at Steven F. Austin University. He has begun doctoral work in church growth. Ramona got her master's in public health last year from Loma Linda University (with honors). Daughter Cheryl Jenks plans to make them grandparents this summer. Son Terry is in college.

David McFaddin, '60, and his wife, Pat, are living in Farmington, Missouri. They write, 'We have two children, Mark, 17, who was recently nominated to the National Honor Society and Boys State, and Lynne, 15, a child of consolation.' Pat is church organist and active in community affairs. David is a medical missionary to the greater St. Louis area where he has been in practice as a primary care physician for the past 15 years.

Thomas R. McFarland, M.D., '67, and his wife, Ina, '66, and their children, Troy Allen, 14; Terri Ina, 13, and Traci Suzanne, 8, live in Purvis, Mississippi. Tom is a family physician, and enjoys golf, Sabbath School teaching, and helping with Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking programs. Ina is studying accounting at the University of Southern Mississippi and helps with the Pathfinder Club. The children enjoy music and camping.

Julianne Louise (Peeke) Melnick, student '63 to '64, lives in Clarksburg, Maryland. Her husband is a physician in internal medicine at Shady Grove Adventist Hospital in Gaithersburg. Their children are: Todd, 13; Ryan, 10; and Mindy, 5. Now a homemaker, Julianne worked in public health nursing while living in Loma Linda. The Melnicks served in Penang, Malaysia, 1974-76.

A. Ruth Mercer, '69, is a nurse anesthetist at the Williamsport, Pennsylvania, hospital.

Don Miller, '69, pastors the Ellijay Church in Georgia. He and his wife, Melinda, are parents of Heather, 6, and Donnie, 3.

Jeanne (Pettis) Miller, '61, teaches grades 1 to 3 near Hemet, California, as well as being church organist and general Sabbath School superintendent. Her husband, Verne, student '63 to '65, is a literature evangelist. Their children are: Holly, grade 9; Anita, grade 10; and David, grade 11.

Marshall G. Mitchell, '66, has been teaching for 17 years—in two schools but on four campuses. For nine years he taught grades 5 and 6 in Birmingham, Alabama, then was principal of Floral Crest School at Bryant, Alabama, for four years. He then returned to the Birmingham School on a new campus at Pell City, and now has returned to Floral Crest's new campus in Bryant.

Larry Mixon, '64, taught school for 25 years. He sang with Robert Shaw and sang professionally for a year. Presently he tunes pianos for Case Brothers. Son Mike is married and became a parent in January. Lonnie has two sons. Son Marty, former student, is marrying Gina Green, nursing student, in August. Son Myron is an SC student.

S. Dianne Mizelle, '69, is an operating room nurse living in Altamonte Springs and a member of the open heart team at Florida Hospital in Orlando.

Thomas J. Mostert, Jr., '63, is president of the Southeastern California Conference. His wife, Pauline (James), is secretary to the director of the nursing school at Loma Linda University. Two daughters are nurses and married. The third just finished academy and plans to be a nurse.

David R. Moulton, '65, and Janelle (Walker) Moulton, '64, live in Madison, Tennessee. David is an internal auditor for the U.S. Army, Ft. Campbell, Kentucky. Janelle is a medical transcriptionist at Baptist Hospital in Nashville. Their children are Kenneth, 17, and Bryan, 11.

Sylvia (Sellers) Moyer, '64, has 55 piano students in Oneonta, Alabama, where she lives alone in her new underground house. Her other jobs are in Birmingham, 50 miles away. She is organist and choir director at the Messiah Lutheran and First SDA churches and also has charge of elementary music and choirs at Brakeworth SDA School.

David Arthur Myers, '64, is business manager at Yuchi Pines Institute in Seale, Alabama.

Margaret Tetz, '65, married John William Neal, Jr., in 1973. She is assistant professor of nursing at the University of Maryland, and has been teaching psychiatric nursing and community health. She is a doctoral candidate in higher education and will be taking sabbatical leave this coming year for full-time study. Her husband is a scientist at the Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Maryland. His current entomological research is with woody ornamental trees and shrubs. They spend summer weekends at the Delaware shore.

John Newbern, '66, pastors the Miami Springs Church and chairs the board of Greater Miami Academy. He and his wife, Anne, have a son, Matthew Simon, almost 2.

Ronald L. Numbers, '63, and his wife, Janet, are temporarily in Topeka, Kansas. He is a fellow in interdisciplinary studies at the Menninger Foundation. Usually he lives in Madison, Wisconsin, where he is professor of history of medicine and history of science at the University of Wisconsin. Currently he is writing a history of 'scientific creationism,' supported by a fellowship from the Guggenheim Foundation and a Scholar's Award from the National Science Foundation. Janet received her Ph.D. in clinical psychology last year and is now a postdoctoral fellow at the Menninger Foundation.

Patricia (Mathers) Orange, '62, is a secretary at the General Conference. Her bosses are Elder Joseph Espinosa and Elder Arturo Schmidt. She is happily married to Thomas Orange, and 'still trying to get my husband to move south.' Their son, Tommy, is 15, and daughter Carin is 6.

Vera B. Parker, '64, a retired church school teacher, lives in Nelson, Nebraska. Widowed in 1973, with no children, she lives alone in Elk Creek Manor. She says, 'I'm doing what I can to be a blessing to others through poetry, letters, etc.'

A. Stephen Patrick, '68, has taught at Forest Lake Academy in Florida for the past 11 years. As teacher of history and Spanish, he just took his classes to Mexico for the seventh time. His wife, Linda, student '65 to '68, has been teaching at Forest Lake Elementary Educational Center for 11 years.

Wesley Paul, '62, is semi-retired from business management. Now he works as a self-supporting lay evangelistic assistant to the bilingual evangelist in the North Pacific Union. His wife, Bertha, works with him. Their daughter is married, has two sons, and lives in Seattle. Their son, 19, is at home, attending college and working for a local health food store.

Phyllis Elaine (Caster) Peck, student '60, lives in Oswego, New York, and manages Fulton Health Food Store. Son Kevin is 20, daughter Keryn, 16.

M. Leon Peck, '68, is an auditor with the Department of Defense Inspector General and lives in Seoul, Korea. In 1980 he married Eun-Hee Kim, a nursing teacher at Korean Union College.

Galen Pettey, '62, and his wife, Anne, '59, live in Eureka, California. He is a physical therapist in private practice, and also a church elder and Sabbath School superintendent for the local church. Anne is choir director, homemaker, and substitute elementary teacher. Their son, Galen Wayne, attends the local university. Alisa is in Boston, accepted into New England Conservatory for violin. Susan attends community college.

Frederick Petty, Ph.D., M.D., '65, recently completed the requisite examinations to become a diplomate of the American Academy of Psychiatry and Neurology. He is chief of the Psychiatric Consultation Service at the V.A. Medical Center, Iowa City, and also director of neuroscience research for the department of psychiatry, University of Iowa. This summer he is presenting research findings at international neuropharmacology meetings in Florence, Italy, and London and Oxford, England. He writes that he is getting his second divorce and is planning his third marriage.

L. Edgel Phillips, '65, is at Andrews University completing requirements for a Ph.D. in religious education with emphasis in family life. His wife, Lorraine (Ynung), former student, is a housewife and collections secretary for AU. Their children are Krista, 18, and Alex, 14.

Judy (Henderson) Phillips, '63, is married to Richard Phillips, a public school principal. She is a homemaker with sons 14 and 8.

Tul DeVere Pitman, '65, is pastor and Bible teacher at Bass Memorial Academy. They live in Purvis, Mississippi. He married Faye Ellen Heath and they have two boys, Sean, 14, and Shannon, 12.

Virginia (Wilson) Pitts, Ed.D., '60, recently received her doctorate at the University of Southern Mississippi. She is director of developmental education at Pearl River Junior College in Poplarville. She and her husband, Harley S. Pitts, live in Purvis, Mississippi. He is a professor of special education. Their daughter, Cheri Darlene Pitts, is a nursing student at SC.

Don Platt, '67, and his wife, Gwen, '66, moved from Calhoun, Georgia, to Pecos, Texas, in April. He is now vice president of Reeves County Hospital, an Adventist Health System Unbelt facility.

Robert Leslie Potts, '66, is general counselor for the University of Alabama System. He writes, 'Wife, Irene, and children, Julia Anna, 14, and Les, 11, are doing well, and have survived our recent move from Florence to Tuscaloosa.'

Floyd Powell, '68, has been secretary of the Florida Conference Association since 1981 and is also director of trust services. Lorie, 21, is married to Mike Saladins and lives in Marathon, Florida. Cathy, 19, is an SC student, taking the two-year nursing program on the Orlando campus. Kevin, 17, plays the trombone at Forest Lake Academy, where he will be a senior.

Steve Powers, '66, and his wife, Sylvia (Allen), '64, reside in Jacksonville, Florida. He has been professor of mathematics at Florida Junior College for 17 years, and just retired from 15 years of Pathfinder leadership. He runs the YMCA summer swim team. She works as a part-time nurse at a local hospital, and they both play on YMCA competitive tennis teams.

Sharon (DeRosia) Quinn, '68, works as a part-time clinical dietitian at Paradise Valley Hospital near San Diego, California. Daughter Holly is 5.

Gary E. Randolph, '64, is married to former student, Karen Foote, and they live in Berrien Springs, Michigan. He is associate director of education for the Lake Union Conference. Kelly, 19, is a college student. Kevin, Kent, and Krista will be in academy next year, and Karsten will be in 6th grade. They enjoy mountain hiking, traveling, and group sports.

Ed Reid, '67, is on study leave from the Georgia-Cumberland Conference while completing a law degree at Georgia State University. He and his wife, Kathy (Randolph), student '65 to '67, lead out in health education programs in the Calhoun Church in Georgia. Andrew, 12, and Melissa, 8, enjoy life and attend Academy Elementary School.

Ila May Respass, '64, is enjoying retirement after teaching more than 30 years. She gardens and grows lots of flowers at her Walhalla, South Carolina, home.

Gordon L. Retzer, '68, is executive secretary for the Rocky Mountain Conference. His wife, Cheryl, student '66 to '68, directs the conference child evangelism center. They live in Littleton, Colorado, with their children, Caris, 12, and Tim, 10.

Lindley B. Richert, '63, is vice president and chief market analyst at McCarthy, Crisanti, & Maffei, Inc., a New York City bond research firm. His wife, Charlene (Villeneuve), student '61 to '63, is treasurer of Air Filters, Inc., in Newton, New Jersey. They live in Andover, New Jersey. Their oldest son, Arlin, will be a senior at SC, and Rick plans to come in the fall as a freshman. Michael will be finishing eighth grade.

Gerald (Jerry) Rickaby, '69, lives in Bremerton, Washington, and is principal and 7th and 8th grade teacher at Kitsap SDA School, a three-church consolidated school. His wife, Linda (Hallock), '70, does daycare so she can stay home with their boys, Marc, 6, and Matthew 4. Their daughter, Cara Lee, died in June, 1983, of a rare cancer. She was 7.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Brenda (Botts) Riley, '63, teaches psychiatric nursing for Troy State University, Troy, Alabama. Her husband, Dean, teaches sociology for the same university.

John M. Robbins, Sr., '63, is pastor of the Woodbridge Church. He and his wife, Mary, live in Springfield, Virginia. Earlier, he pastored for seven years in the Georgia-Cumberland Conference and 10 years in the Pennsylvania Conference. Daughter Linda is a nurse and married. Sandi is a teacher and married in June. John, Jr., attended SC for two years.

Audrey Denise (Yow)Roney, student '64 and '68, works for Jefferson Pilot Broadcasting as assistant manager of building and grounds. They have two children, Shain, 14, and Sheila, 12, and live on an acreage near Midland, North Carolina, with a cow, calf, 40 chickens, two dogs, a cat, and a bird.

Raymond Ruckle, '69, and Shirley (Schneider) Ruckle, '71, reside in Tujunga, California, with their two children: Matt, age 10, and Susie, age 7. Ray is the minister of music at the Vallejo Church in Glendale, and Shirley is the part-time director of health education and human services at the same church.

Mark A. Sagert, '70, and his wife, Reba (Hall), '68, live in Orlando. He is director of patients' business services at Florida Hospital and she directs medical record services. Their daughters, 13 and 9, are doing well in school, and all are spending their spare time finishing their new house and helping with church music activities.

Glenda (Starkey) Salsberry, '65, is 'chauffeur and appointment secretary' for Leola Castle Starkey, former teacher residing in Collegedale. Daughter Rebecca will be entering Collegedale Academy in the fall.

H. Lane Schmidt, '60, has been teaching music at Orlando Junior Academy for seven years, and last year added P.E. teaching to his load. His wife, Darlene (Peterson), student '59 to '60, teaches kindergarten at OJA. Son Rick is in college, and sons Robin and Roger were at Forest Lake Academy last year.

Bettie Lynn (Ballard) Seamount, student '65 to '66, lives in Montrose, Colorado, where she is assistant office manager for a dentist. Married, she has two children, Eric, 16, and Erin, 10.

John Phillip Shadwick, '69, teaches auto mechanics and drafting at Takoma Academy. His wife, Patricia (Gamblin), is administrative assistant in the General Conference Treasury. They live in Laurel, Maryland.

Edward C. Shaffer, student '63 to '65, passed away on July 16, 1981. He was living in the Collegedale area.

Donald C. Shaw, '69, is pastor of the Reading Hampden Heights Church and lives in Boyertown, Pennsylvania.

Don Shelton, '69, and his wife, Anita, are involved in evangelism for the Rocky Mountain Conference. They live in Loveland, Colorado. Their children are Todd, 11, and Angel, 5. Don recently headed a ministerial tour to Israel. Bob and Bunny Hunter and Bob and Ruthie Self were in the group.

Glenn Curtis Sherrill, student '62 to '65, sells aerial photography for Skypix, Inc. He and his wife, Donna (Turk), live in Jefferson, Texas. Son Duane is taking nursing and Dale is 13.

Shirley (Gunter) Smith, '60, lives in Phoenix, Arizona.

Velma Sommerville, student '68, is an elementary teacher in Scottsburg, Indiana. She lives in New Albany.

Steve Sowder, '68, and his wife, Marilyn (Starr), live in Keene, Texas. He has been data processing director at Southwestern Adventist College for three years. Marilyn works as a checker at La Loma Foods. Their sons are 7 and 11.

Anna Lee (Thomas) Sowers, student '65, is a housewife, mother, and aide in the SDA school at Vero Beach, Florida. Her husband, John R. Sowers, teaches grades 1 to 8 at the school. Their girls are: Leona, 13; Leanna, 12; Leta, 8; and LeEtta, 7.

Melvin Stanaway, '61, says he's 'laid back in the Tropics,' as he is supervisor of anesthesia service at Gorgas U.S. Army Hospital in Panama.

Vicky J. Stastny, student '65, is an elementary school teacher living in New Albany, Indiana.

Ennis F. Steele, '67, and his wife, Elizabeth (Holmes), '66, live in Calhoun, Georgia. Dennis is a dentist and participates in several church committees. Libby is a homemaker, corporate secretary, and primary Sabbath School leader. With their children, Dennis, Jr., 12, David, 10, and Darlene, 7, they enjoy camping, music, farming, and swimming.

Alton M. Steen, '69, owns and operates a mobile ultrasound and nuclear medicine business in and around the Chattanooga area. He and his wife, Faye (Melendy), live in Dayton, Tennessee, and have two sons, Reggie, 12, and Jason, 9.

Sharon (Cooke) Stewart, student '66 to '68, is employed by Signal Knitting. She lives in Daisy, Tennessee. Children are Ken, 15, and Laurel, 12, and all are active in church and school affairs.

Virginia L. (Caldwell) Stiles, '63, directs nursing services for the Tennessee Valley Authority, a federal agency. Married, she lives in Hixson, Tennessee.

Kenneth E. Straw, '62, has been elected president of Little Creek Sanitarium and School, replacing Leland Straw, who was president since 1940. Kenneth has been treasurer since 1962. He and his wife, Sharon (Beck), have two children, Heidi, 9, and Kristi, 5.

Ruth (Tyler) Streffling, '60, has retired from the medical profession. She married Michael Streffling, a doctor of internal medicine, in January, 1983. They now raise geese on their farm in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and enjoy the warmth of the Menominee Church. Mike helps with the Five-Day Plan to Stop Smoking clinics. They plan to come to her alumni reunion in 1985.

Joseph T. Strock, Sr., '67, is a literature evangelist living in Louisville, Tennessee. He and his wife, Delia, are parents of Joe, Jr., 17, a senior at Georgia-Cumberland Academy, Jonathan, 13, and Eleanor, 14, students at Knoxville SDA School.

William (Bill) L. Strong, '69, and his wife, Dixie Lee (Halvorsen), '69, both teach upper grades at Louisville Junior Academy, where he is principal. Their daughters are Sheri, 12, and Karin, 10. They also have a well-trained golden retriever named Chelsea.

Shirley (Colls) Suffridge, '64, is secretary to three physicians in a multi-specialty clinic. She and her husband, a mechanic, have lived in Texarkana, Texas, since 1970. Their boys were born in 1968 and 1972. One attends Ozark Academy and the other, the Texarkana church school. They are active in the Pathfinder Club.

Bill Swafford, '65, and his wife, Betty, '65, have both been teaching at Memphis Junior Academy for the last six years. Son Mark just graduated from Highland Academy, and Philip is 9.

Winford (Bill) N. Tate, '60, is a certified registered nurse anesthetist working at Woods Memorial Hospital, Etowah, Tennessee. Two of his three children are married. The youngest attends Collegedale Academy. (His large garden includes watermelons and is located in Ooltewah!)

Don R. Taylor, '71, and his wife, Charlotte (McKee), '67, live in Fletcher, North Carolina. He is a certified registered nurse anesthetist at Fletcher Hospital and she is loving being a homemaker. Their children are Ron, 14, and Renee, 12.

Linda P. (Paterostro) Terranova, '62, is office manager for the inpatient psychiatric unit of Tulane Medical Center in New Orleans. She is divorced and has two children, John, 11, and Gina, 10.

Richard Terrell, '64, is controller for the Wisconsin Conference. His wife, Sharon (Randolph), student '61 to '64, is assistant business manager at Wisconsin Academy in Columbus, where they live. Son Rick, 19, is in college, and daughter Kara, 18, just graduated from Wisconsin Academy.

James E. Thurmon, '66, is minister of the Memphis First Church. He and his wife, Judy (Conner), have four children, up to age 10. They are Lara, Stephen, Amber, and Jonathan. They live in Eads, Tennessee.

Dale Thomas, student '65 to '68, is publishing director for the Africa-Indian Ocean Division and lives in Ivory Coast, Africa. He was ordained into the ministry in 1981. He and his wife, Annette (Vetter), former student, have three boys: Mark, 15; Kent, 14; and John, 9.

Paula E. Thum, '67, is a captain in the United States Air Force. An OB/GYN nurse practitioner, she anticipates receiving her master's in maternity in December, 1984. She is studying in San Antonio, Texas. Her husband, David Bramigk, preceded her to new duty at Moody Air Force Base in Valdosta, Georgia, in July. She looks forward to following in December, and is pleased to be assigned in the Southeast where she hopes to see some classmates again.

Lee Edward Townsend, student '67 to '68, is a builder and developer in Baton Rouge, Louisiana. He and his wife, Kathleen (Esteb), have two sons, Anthony Lee, 12, and Jefferey Clayton, 3.

Donald G. Trawick, '67, and Lynda (Maxey), '68, live in Midlothian, Virginia. He is a dentist in private practice. Lynda has her M.S. in nursing, but is currently a homemaker and mother to Amy, 7, and Scott, 4.

James A. Tucker, Ph.D., '62, left public service in 1979 to head Educational Directions Incorporated, an educational consulting firm specializing in the evaluation of programs for the handicapped in school systems. EDI also provides inservice training in the area of assessing abilities of handicapped students. His wife, Priscilla, is vice president of the company and manages its division.

River City Publishing Company. The outdoors is another focus for the family. They work with the American Birding Association, and also publish a monthly newsletter called 'Outdoor Ministry.' Jim speaks at churches and camps and he and his wife enjoyed writing the 1984 youth devotional book. They live on a small farm near Austin, Texas. Their five children are ages 3 to 21.

Esther Tyler, '60, provides technical services at the James White Library, Andrews University. She has been there since 1964. She looks forward to seeing classmates at the alumni reunion in 1985.

Margie (Littell) Ulrich, '67, is a clinical audiologist at Chattanooga Speech and Hearing Center. Her husband, Mike, has returned to college. They live in 'Treetops,' a garage apartment near her folks in Dayton, Tennessee.

Bonnie J. (Schwerlin) Verbrigghe, '68, is a homemaker and substitute secretary at the local elementary school in Skandia, Michigan. She serves on the advisory committee to the school board. She writes, 'Living in the country with children 9, 7, 3, and 2 plus a large garden keeps me busy.'

Paul Elvis Vlar, '67, has been teaching biology at Forest Lake Academy since 1968. His wife, Sue, is enjoying being a full-time mommy. Their son, Jeff, is 14, and Angela is 3. Family genealogy has been an interest the last four years.

Ron Vincent, '68, and his wife, Cecilia, '70, live in Douglasville, Georgia. For the last five years he has been teaching grades 5 and 6 at Cascade Adventist Elementary School. He teaches physical education to grades 5 through 8. Cecilia is employed at Douglasville General Hospital. Their children are: Julie, 12; Todd, 10; and Shane, 7.

Sandra Vinson, '62, is a certified public accountant living in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. She is a partner with Hall, Davidson & Associates.

Stephen L. Wallace, student '65 to '66, lives in Billings, Montana, and is still single. He is advisor for the Office of Hearings and Appeals, Social Security Administration. His personal concerns include civil liberties and environmental issues. His brother, Stan, former student, is located in Bellingham, Washington.

Vivian (Lester) Wallar, '68, and her husband, Don, live in Cerritos, California, with their boys, ages 7 and 13. Next year Don will be principal and she will teach at a new school in West Covina.

Lanier Watson, '64, is principal and teacher of Mayfield SDA School in Omaha, Nebraska. The school offers grades 1 through 9. His wife, Becky (Beeler), former student, is secretary to the corporate secretary of Con Agra Corporation. Their sons, Mike and Tim, attend Platte Valley Academy.

Leslie Weaver, M.D., '69, is a pathologist at Gordon Hospital in Calhoun, Georgia.

Josef Weiss, '63, and his wife, Violet, '60, live in Dahlonega, Georgia, site of the first gold rush in America. Joe teaches at North Hall High School and has an automotive paint and body business on the side. Vi is assistant principal at the Lumpkin Elementary School (enrollment 850 in grades K-5). In her spare time last year she wrote materials for a Versa Tiles Library Skills Lab which has been published by Educational Teaching Aids. Her part-time job in the SC library sparked her interest in this area. 'Our little church in Cleveland enjoys the contribution students visiting from the college make to our services,' she writes.

Bobbi (Suggs) Whidden, '67, and her husband, Alton, teach in Canon City, Colorado. She has grades 1 to 4 and he is principal and teaches grades 5 to 8. They both have master's degrees and are enjoying denominational teaching. They also enjoy 'the fantastic skiing in Colorado' and say, 'Come see us!' Daughter Andrea, 5, is growing up fast.

Woody Whidden, '67, is a pastor in the Elmira-Corning district of the New York Conference. His wife, Peggy, is organist, music teacher, and choir director. Their children are: Jamie, 13; Jonathan, 10; and Laurel, 7.

Kingsley Whitsett, '65, pastors the Frederick Church in Maryland. His wife, Nancy (Wendell), '65, is doing private duty nursing in the Washington, D.C., area. Children are Eddie, 10, and Teddy, 8.

Alice (Genton) Whitt, '64, is a homemaker in Athens, Alabama. Her husband has a TV repair service. Larry is 12 and Kristie, 4.

Rick Lee Wilkin, Jr., '68, is a minister in Tappahannock, Virginia, and currently is working on his dissertation for a doctorate in marriage and family therapy. His wife, Ginger, is studying business administration. They and their children, Richie, 8, and Romeka, 5, are enjoying living in a 100-year-old farm house on eight acres near Hustle, Virginia.

Charles H. Wilson, '64, is vice president and general manager for McKee Baking Company in Gentry, Arkansas. He and his wife, Dovie, have a daughter, Dawn, married to Brent Barrow; a son, David, working for McKee Baking Company in Collegedale; and a daughter, Tiffany, attending Collegedale Academy.

Sharon (Hurtig) Wilson, student '63 to '64, is a housewife with children ages 11, 9, and 2. Her husband, Jeff Wilson, joined Faith For Today as director of public relations last November. They live in Newbury Park, California.

Bailey Winsted, '64, and his wife, Beverly, '65, live in Kernersville, North Carolina. He is administrator of two family-owned rest homes. Bev is completing a two-year program as a physician's assistant in August and then will be connected with the rest homes also.

Bill Wolcott, '69, has been boys' dean and gymnastics team coach at Mount Pisgah Academy, Candler, North Carolina, for nine years. His wife, Sharon (Roberts), is school secretary at the elementary school. Sons Bill, Jr., and Todd will both be in academy next year, and daughter Kelley will be a sophomore at SC.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Jim Wolcott, '66, and his wife, Linda (Comer), '66, live in Albuquerque, New Mexico. Jim is an analytical chemist at Sandia National Laboratories, and Linda is an office nurse. Daughter Tonda, 18, is studying court reporting in Albuquerque and son Jimmy, 16, attends Mount Pisgah Academy. Jim is still building their passive solar adobe house and caring for a large garden and 21 fruit trees.

Chester Leon Woods, student '65, is a firefighter in Bangor, Maine. His wife, Carol (Lewis), '67, is a registered nurse working part time in an allergist's office. Daughter Bethany, 14, will leave home this fall to attend Pine Tree Academy. Son Keith, 12, has two more years in Bangor's one-room church school.

Ken Worrow, '69, is with Allstate Insurance sales in Orlando, Florida. He and his wife, Mary, have two girls and another child on the way.

Marva Jean (Shugars) Young Johnson, '68, teaches grade 6 in Niles, Michigan. Her husband, Edward Johnson, is a service engineer for Sullair Corporation, Michigan City, Indiana. They live in South Bend. Her son William Young, Jr., is a student at SC.

Ruth Zoerb, '65, has retired in Union, South Carolina, with her husband, Everett, former student. Their mothers are both in their 90's. Everett preaches in the small church there and works toward getting doctors to move to the area. Construction of a new church building is beginning. Ruth still does a little painting and teaches an art class at home.

1970's

Ronald L. Adams, '72, is vice principal at Mount Pisgah Academy. His wife, Sharon, is an R.N. at St. Joseph's Hospital in nearby Asheville, North Carolina. Their daughter, Lori, '83, and son-in-law, Michael Abbott, '83, are at Mount Vernon Academy in Ohio. He is boys' dean and she teaches business education. Another daughter, Teresa, '83, is continuing at SC toward her B.S. in nursing. Their son Steven was a senior at Mount Pisgah Academy.

Michael Kevin Ahlfeld, '75, lives in Dalton, Georgia, at present.

Randy Allen, '77, and his wife, Vickie (Avery), '75, headed west after four years of teaching junior high in Michigan. Randy teaches math and auto body at Weimar Institute in California. Their boys are Jeremy, 7, and Zachary, 3.

Dennis Altrogge, '78, lives in Spring, Texas, and pastors the Conroe and Cleveland churches north of Houston. Children are Rebekah, 6, and Benjamin, 2.

Gayla (Gardner) Ambler, '71, lives in Andrews, North Carolina, with her dentist husband. Their son, Stirling, will be in grade 2 at the church school there. Gayla is secretary for the Andrews United Methodist Church.

George D. Amos, '77, and his wife, Judy (Luttman), '73, moved to Beeville, Texas, from Boulder, Colorado, last fall. George is controller at Beeville Memorial Hospital and Judy is a legal secretary for Morrill & Patton, attorneys at law. Their children are Timothy, 4, and Jodie, 2.

Lonnie Andersun, '75, and his wife, Becky (Hayward), '75, have two children, Jimmy born in August, 1981, and Kristy born in May, 1983. Lonnie is a builder. They live in Snellville, Georgia.

William C. (Bill) Arnold, Jr., '77, married Pamela Sue Tucker on June 17, 1984. He will continue teaching at Georgia-Cumberland Academy next year and Pam will continue her nurses training at Dalton Junior College.

Alan S. Ashcraft, '77, is chief accountant for Adventist Living Centers and lives in Hinsdale, Illinois. Before November, 1982, he was employed with the General Conference Auditing Service. He got his C.P.A. certificate in June, 1982. He and his wife, Donna (Lewis), '78, have two children, Mason Emory, 3, and Marcia Elaine, 1.

Fed-Leon Audain, student '75 to '76, is a mortgage and real estate broker in Miami, Florida. He is married to Virginia (Ashley) and they expect a child in September.

V. Keith Aufderhar, former student, and his wife, Rebecca (Stirk), '72, live in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky. They are actively involved in the Lawrenceburg Church. Keith works for Kentucky State University in heating and air conditioning, and Rebecca works at home. Their daughter, Julie, 9, is wearing a back brace as a result of an auto accident in November, 1982.

Diane (Simmons) Avant, '70, is the wife of C. Edward Avant, '68, and mother of Michael, 12, and Teri and Tami, 10. Diane just graduated from Cleveland State Community College with an A.S. degree in nursing. They live in Ooltewah, Tennessee.

Marjorie (Cook) Babcock, '70, lives in Marvell, Arkansas, where she is a housewife and mother of a son, Kenneth Russell, 2.

Tim Bainum, M.D., '70, is a solo family physician, happily married and living one block from the Atlantic in Ocean City, Maryland. He is a deputy coroner and secretary-treasurer of the county medical society.

Timothy Bair, '78, teaches science for grades 7 and 8 at J. N. Andrews School. Nanci (Morgan) Bair, '77, is an ICU nurse at Washington Adventist Hospital. They live in Hyattsville, Maryland, with Julie, 5, and Todd, 2.

Darrell and Karen Baker, both '78, are nurses at Madison Hospital, he in critical care, and she in OB. She writes, 'I work as little as I have to and Darrell works as much as he needs to. The family runs smoother with me at home.' The family includes Pam, 12, Connie, 10, and Monica, 5. They are all learning to play the piano, and the two older ones, the violin.

Ruth (Wilson) Baker, '74, taught grade 1 in the Savannah, Georgia, public schools for six weeks after her graduation and marriage, then retired from her career in elementary education. Since then she's been teaching piano at home and being a full-time wife to Carroll Baker, an electronic engineer and computer programmer, and mother to their boys, ages 6, 4, and under 1. They still live in Savannah.

Teresa Barton, '73, is doing recovery room nursing in Shrewsbury, Massachusetts. She married Dr. Michael Fedder in 1976, but is now divorced. She attends the Lancaster Church.

Bryan Bassler, '74, and his wife, Jeri (Carr), '72, live in the Cleveland, Tennessee, area. Besides working at Cleveland Body and Fender, Bryan is currently building a house on a 70-acre woodland along Cohulla Creek. Their girls are Rochelle, 4, and Emily, 2.

Cynthia Bata, '79, went to Loma Linda and received her M.P.H. degree in nutrition and health education there. Now she is a registered dietitian at Madison Hospital, Tennessee.

David Beardsley, '69 and his wife, Donnalene (Gerald), '71, live in Cleveland, Tennessee. He is working with development and acquisition for Life Care Affiliates, a subsidiary of Life Care Centers of America. Their two children are Doug, 14, and Stacey, 2.

Robert deWayne Beers, C.P.A., '77, is a civilian auditor for an Army department, is single, and has been living in San Antonio, Texas, for four years since completing his M.B.A. at the University of Tennessee-Knoxville.

Janet (George) Beltz, '76, lives in Bennett, Colorado. She quit her nursing job at Porter Memorial Hospital three years ago so that she could be home with the children, Zachary, 3, and Crystal, 2.

Mark Bergvall, student '78 to '79, is a sales representative in Irvine, California. He married Lori in 1981 and their daughter, Erica, was born in 1983.

Beverly Benchina, '78, married Andrew Brett, a graduate student in marriage and family therapy, on June 17. She also graduated in June with an M.A. in English from the Loma Linda University Graduate School. She has been employed full time as a secretary in the Graduate School admissions and records office at LLU.

Pamela (Haney) Benson, student '78 to '79, takes care of Jeremy, 3, and James, 1, while her husband works at Rockwell International as a gear engineer. They live in Fletcher, North Carolina.

Daniel Kenneth Berry, '76, received his doctor of osteopathy degree in Kansas City on May 20, 1984. He already had a master's of science in biomathematics from Loma Linda University and a Ph.D. from California Western University. His wife, Pamela (Lund), also attended SC. They will be in Tulsa, Oklahoma, for his one-year internship.

Steve Berry, '78, and his wife, Candy (Hickman), '78, live in the country near Sanford, Florida. They have two horses, a dog, and a cat. He is a mortgage banker with International Mortgage Company. Candy is a patient care coordinator for the Visiting Nurse Association. They enjoy the beach and, in summer, the North Carolina mountains.

Harry D. Best, '75, hopes to finish a master's of education in special education (gifted emphasis) in 1986. He has been attending UTC part time, but anticipates being a full-time student this fall. He lives in Ringgold, Georgia.

Edwin Bigham, student '74 and '75, lives in Biglerville, Pennsylvania, just east of Gettysburg. He is married to Gwendolyn (Williams), former student. He supervises raw fruit receiving for a major apple processing company.

Linda M. (Rutter) Bilby, student '76, is a typist at home in Toledo, Ohio, for a court reporting service. Her husband, David, is a prosthetist. Daughter Christine is a year old.

Nancy C. (Graver) Billington, student '75 to '76, married Brad Billington in 1981. She got her M.S. degree in 1982 and they moved to Post Falls, Idaho, the same year. She is a counselor and guidance director for Coeur d'Alene Valley Hospital.

Fred Bischoff, '72, lives in Colton, California, and is a physician in preventive medicine, working in executive, employee, and student health.

Clarence Blanchard, '77, and his wife, Nancy (Draper), '78, live in Sarasota, Florida. He has been a carpenter at John Ringling Museum of Art for two years. His sidelines are beekeeping and blue grass guitar. Nancy has been a secretary at Florida Power and Light Company for about four years. She also sews and embroiders. They enjoy biking and helping with Pathfinders.

Gary Blinn, '77 and '81, and his wife, Laurey (Wilcox), '77, live in Collegedale and both practice in the area as certified registered nurse anesthetists. Their son, Justin Alan, was born in August, 1983.

Rick Blondo, '79, and his wife, Janet (Davies), '77, are living in Beltsville, Maryland. Rick is archivist at the Maryland State Archives in Annapolis. Janet is medical social worker for Adventist Home Health Services in Hyattsville. She earned her M.S.W. degree in 1982, and Rick is close to completing a joint master's program in history and library science. They recently bought their first house.

Terry Blough, '73, does accounting and hospital administration and his wife is a surgical nurse. They live in Tappahannock, Virginia, and have a daughter, Jennifer, 8.

Rick Blythe, '79, pastors the Evansville and New Harmony churches in Indiana and is a member of the Indiana Conference evangelism committee. He and his wife, Ginger, have three daughters: Carissa, 9; Melanie, 6; and Marion, 1.

Ronald W. Boatright, '77, is a lieutenant in the Nurse Corps of the U.S. Navy. He is living in Summerville, South Carolina, with his wife, Marian, and two boys, Christopher, 7, and Jamie, 5.

Marcel Bodtker, '79, is an accountant and office manager for S. R. Studebaker, C.P.A.'s, in Asheville, North Carolina. She recently completed the setup and programming of an in-house computer system. She loves the weather, scenery, and friendly people in Asheville.

Susan (McDonald) Boggs, '78, teaches a one-room school in Coolidge, Georgia. In 1981 she got her M.A. in educational administration leadership from Loma Linda University. Her husband, Gary, does drywall work. They live in Moultrie, Georgia.

Don Bohannon, '71, is senior vice president of Florida Hospital in Orlando. He and his wife, Carolyn (Harold), student '71 to '72, have two sons, Michael, 4, and David, 2.

Hans-Peter Boksberger, M.D., '75, is taking a surgical residency and lives in Pasadena, California. Children are Jonathan, 5, and Jessica, 2.

Rhonda (Huffaker) Bolton, '73, and her family live on an acreage near Vancouver, Washington. In February she began working part time as a patient educator at Riverview Medical Clinic, teaching classes on food allergies and digestion. She and her husband, Bob, are parents of Rochelle, 7, and Ryan, 5. Bob is in the computer field. They enjoy bird-watching, camping, and friends.

Carla M. Boothby, student '73 to '75, lives in Gobles, Michigan, but works as a social worker designee/admissions clerk in a Kalamazoo nursing home. She is still single.

Susan Bossenberry, '75, lives in Asheville, North Carolina, and teaches grades 1 and 2 in the church school. She also sponsors the yearbook.

Bernard Lanier Bowers, '70, is self-employed as a building contractor in Franklin, Tennessee. His wife, Judy, is an OB nurse at Williamson City Hospital. Their son, Chip, is 11, and their daughter, Spring, is 8.

David N. Bowers, '75, is a physician in physical medicine and rehabilitation at Reading Rehabilitation Hospital. He and his wife, Michaelan, live in Birdsboro, Pennsylvania, and have two children, David Michael, 4, and Kristina Renee, 2.

Merle R. Bradley, '77, has been dean of boys at Sunnydale Academy, Centralia, Missouri, since 1982. He hopes to soon finish his master's in secondary education administration. He and his wife Lei, have three children, all born in January: Jonathan Sterling, 7; Trina Christine, 4; and Lisa Colleen, 2.

Lynn Brainerd, '79, is teaching grades 1 and 2 at the church school in Keene, Texas. She's been there two years after three years in Corpus Christi.

Nellie Compton-Branscum, '77, married Glen Branscum, an Ozark craftsman and musician. They make music and craft tours on local and nationwide campuses. They perform regularly at the Jimmie Driftwood Barn in Mountain View, Arkansas, and live in Newnata. Their son, Robin Glen, was born in January, 1983.

Joe Branson, '73, teaches grade 2 at Beltsville Adventist School in Maryland. He completed the master's degree in elementary education at Andrews University.

Debbie (Willett) Brendel, '79, lives in Dayton, Ohio.

Sherry (Whitman) Briley, student '75 to '77, is head of the programming department and also typesetter for Wilks Publications at Highland Academy, Portland, Tennessee. She married Billy Briley in 1978.

Lisa (Argo) Brimmer, '79, lives in Marietta, Georgia, and is an R.N. in labor and delivery at Kennestone Hospital. She and her husband, John F. Brimmer, have two children, Andrea, 5, and Matthew, 1.

Karen (Cansler) Butterfield, '74, works part time at the University of California, San Diego. Her area is neonatal ICU and newborn. Her husband, Bob, is an engineer at IVAC Corporation. Their children are Alica, 5, and Michael, almost 1.

Guy Bush, student '78, is a self-employed farmer in Damascus, Pennsylvania. He describes himself as 'single and happy.'

William C. (Cris) Cannon, '77, is pastor of the Loves Creek Baptist Church. He lives in Siler City, North Carolina, and is working on the doctor of ministry degree.

Dennis Canther, '78, has been associate pastor of the Downey Church, but is now production manager and associate producer of The Quiet Hour. His wife, Kristi, '78, is an R.N. in ICU pediatrics at Loma Linda University Medical Center. They live in Colton, California.

David E. Capps, student '72, is president of Capps Rent-a-Car, Inc., in Dallas, Texas. He is single and lives alone.

John (Jack) Carey, '70, is principal of Beltsville Adventist School, near Washington, D.C. His wife, Carol, student '63, works as a secretary in trust services at the General Conference. Their children are Chris, 15, 'into computers' and a student at Takoma Academy, and Mike, 12, a student at Beltsville. They live in Laurel, Maryland.

Richard Carey, '75, and his wife, Susan, '76, live in Marietta, Georgia. They moved from Silver Spring, Maryland, in June, 1983. Ric is vice president of development and acquisitions for a health care company in Atlanta and Susan directs a social services department at Scottish Rite Children's Hospital.

Janice (Williams) Carlson, '76, and her husband, Gary, are at Little Creek Academy in Knoxville. She works two nights a week as charge nurse in a small nursing home. Gary is farm manager. Their daughter is almost 2.

Wendell Carlton, '76, is teacher and principal at Montgomery SDA School in Alabama. His wife, Cathy (Robertson), former student, cares for their son, Paul, 3.

Dennis E. Child student '72, and his wife, Linda Mae (Gerald), student '72 to '73, live in Brunswick, Maine. He is chief of the cardiopulmonary department at Parkview Memorial Hospital. Their children are Matthew, 3, and Alica, 1. Linda has an accounting job at home. The family enjoys cross-country skiing and snowmobiling in winter, boating and water skiing in the summer.

Ken Chispens, '75, is a manager for Electrolux in charge of hiring and training. He lives in Johnstown, Pennsylvania. Son Ethan Mychael is 5.

Dennis A. Clark, '72, is pastor of the Alma-Baxley, Georgia, district. His wife, Shirley (Ledbetter), '72, works part time as an L.P.N. at the local hospital in Basley. Their children are Scott, 11, and Bowen, 2.

Rebecca L. Collver, '76, does private duty and staff relief nursing for Kelly Health Care in South Bend, Indiana. She is still single. She writes that her sister, Merry (Collver) Gottschall, student '75 to '76, has a baby girl, Meghan Lee Dierdre Gottschall, born in April.

Edwin E. Cook, '72, is convalescing in Allegan, Michigan, from being nearly killed in an auto accident in September, 1981. His family includes children, Lisa 12, and Erin, 7. They live on 30 country acres.

Russell Cooper, '78, and his wife, Gloria (Medford), '78, live in Elizabeth City, North Carolina. He pastors the church there and also the Plymouth Church, and is chaplain of Winslow Memorial Nursing Home. He was ordained in June at the Carolina camp meeting. Gloria is a housewife and nurse. Daughter Gillian is 3, and another child is expected in October.

Lindora (Redding) Costello, student '78, plans to be back in Collegedale this fall, as her husband will be seeking his nursing degree. She married Richard E. Costello in March, 1982. Their son, Reuben Justin, was born six weeks prematurely, November 30, 1982, and spent time in the neonatal ICU in Hershey Medical Center. They have been living in Moab, Utah.

Jeannie Cotham, student '75 to '77, is a medical assistant with Associates of Internal Medicine, Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Ann Couillard, '78, has been an ICU nurse in Houston, Texas, but plans to start anesthesia school in Chattanooga this fall.

Michael Couillard, '77 taught in the Carolina Conference for five years and now teaches high school English, history, and biology. He is also an R.N. His wife Marty (Karapondo), former student, is art director for a local printing firm, rides horses, and bodybuilds. They live in Travelers Rest, South Carolina.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Sam L. Couillard, '76, and his family are in Chattanooga, where he heads the School of Nurse Anesthesia.

James R. Cox, '72, assumed new duties as stewardship director of the Rocky Mountain Conference in June. His wife, Carol, is a licensed practical nurse. Son Jim is a rehabilitation technician, and son Mike will be a junior at Mile High Academy.

Kevin W. Crawford, '79, is a certified registered nurse anesthetist for two hospitals in Greeneville, Tennessee. His wife, Janice (Nedley), '78, is an R.N. but not employed at this time. They also have 'no children at this time—just a dog!'

James A. Cress, '71, and his wife, Sharon (Wyatt), student '68 to '71, live in Lincoln, Nebraska. He is ministerial secretary for the Mid-America Union and Sharon is a credentialed Bible worker. They teach classes in soulwinning for pastors and their wives and are responsible for continuing education for pastors.

Milford G. Crist, '71, is assistant director of public relations at Florida Hospital. Media services are his area of responsibility. His wife, Nancy, teaches nursing on the Orlando Campus. Their boys are Sean, 9, and Bryan, 7.

Bill Crofton, '70, directs youth ministries for the Forest Lake Church. He and his wife, Jane, live in Apopka, Florida. She is supervisor on the 3-11 shift at Florida Hospital. They have three sons: Mark, 14; Matthew, 10; and Jonathan, 2.

Tim Crosby, '77, and his wife, Carol, '78, live in Knoxville, Tennessee. He pastors the Grace Church. Carol is an R.N. at Park West Hospital.

Gerald M. Cross, M.D., '72, is a physician in Hinesville, Georgia, and chief of the department of primary care and community medicine, also chief of the family practice department. He and his wife, Barbara, have a daughter, Laura.

Melanee Lynn (Snowden) Davis, '79, is administrative secretary to the chairman of orthopedic surgery, Gray School of Medicine, Wake Forest University, in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Her husband, Dr. Terry L. Davis, is an optometrist at his own North Point Eye Clinic.

Janis (Bell) Dawson, '77, is an R.N. at Erlanger Hospital, Chattanooga, working in labor and delivery. She is married to Allan Dawson and their address is in McDonald. Their boys are Allan, 11, 5, and William, 3 in August.

Ana Maria Defendini, student '78 to '79, is opening her private practice as a doctor in odontology. She lives in Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico.

Sheri (Thompson) DeGrave, '76, is a homemaker and mother of three: daughters Jackie, 7, and Jamie, 3, and son Jerry, 5. She draws house plans and decorates the houses her contractor husband, Kelly, builds. She also does the bookkeeping. They live in Collegedale.

Richard Deindoerfer, '79, is finishing his anesthesia study at Madison Hospital in August. His wife, Terri (Barrera), '74, works as an IV therapist at the hospital. They have daughters Jodi, 8, and Carri, 5.

George DeLand, '78, completed medical school in May, 1983, and is a pediatric resident at Loma Linda University Medical Center. He and his wife, Susan, have a son, Robbie, 2, and another child on the way. Susan has been working part time as a physical therapist. They have a 'small but fun garden' at their home in San Bernardino, California.

Lorna Rae Dever, '80, returned in July from two years of teaching missionary children at Malamulo in Malawi. Before going to Africa, she had taught in Tennessee.

Jordan Dicken, student '74 to '76, writes, 'I'm sure my colleagues are married, with professions, lovely homes and children. Me? What am I doing? Tromping around in the jungles of Venezuela having a blast!' He is employed by Santa Fe Drilling and works as a diesel mechanic and electrical technician as foreman in Venezuela. He's unmarried.

Randall Dodd, '71, teaches grades 1 to 8 at the church school in Cookeville, Tennessee. His wife, Deborah (Wagner), just got her B.S. in nursing. Their children are Matthew, 10, and Hope, 8.

Dorenda (Moore) Dodge, '72, teaches business education to persons with disabilities at the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center. Her husband, Bill, is a Ph.D. chemist with the DuPont Company in Waynesboro, Virginia. Their first child was due in June.

Lois (Miller) Doherty, '78, lives in Collegedale and is in charge of the SDA Room in McKee Library. She enjoyed the January visit of her daughter, Barbara Rendalen, and granddaughter, Christin. The Rendalens live near Oslo, Norway. Barbara has a busy musical life there.

Gordon Doneskey, '77, graduated from Loma Linda University School of Medicine in June. In July he started a family practice residency in Scottsdale, Arizona. He married Terry Carter last December.

Shawna (Graham) Downs, '76, lives in Glendale, California. Last year she married David Downs, just finishing medical school at USC. Shawna is an operating room nurse. When she wrote, she was looking forward to a summer missionary trip to Honduras with the Pathfinders.

Robert DuBose, Jr., '75, and his wife, Judith (Dean), '71, are at Madison, Tennessee, where he teaches history and is library media specialist at the academy. Judith teaches academy and preschool music. Their children are Robert, III, 5, and Rebecca, 9.

Rolf Coster Duvall, student '79, from Salem,

Virginia, is currently in the U.S. Navy.

Gary Edgmon, D.D.S., '76, has a general practice in Calhoun, Georgia. He is current president of the southern chapter of the National Association of SDA Dentists. His wife, Janice (McPherson), is taking a few years off from secretarial duties to enjoy being with Lisa, 5, and Lori, 3. Gary is a church elder and Sabbath School superintendent and Janice leads the kindergarten department.

Randy Elkins, '73, and his wife, Yolanda, '72, live in Minden, Louisiana. He is an attorney. Their children are Adrienne, 9, Hilary, 5, and Jonathan, 2.

Jonathan W. Fish, '72, lives in McDonald, Tennessee.

Anne (Gust) Fitzgerald, '73, lives in DePere Wisconsin, where her husband is a dairy farmer. Their children are Erin, 5, and Stephen, 2.

Douglas Foley, '71, pastors the Markham Woods Church in Longwood, Florida. His wife, Gayle (Cartabianca), has been teaching preschool and is expecting their second child in October. Dougie is almost 5.

Jude (Wade) Forbes, '76, has been teaching at Mount Pisgah Academy in North Carolina for eight years. She is married to Lee Forbes, former student, who owns and operates Forbes Custom Exteriors. Children are: Nikki, 9; Danny, 8; Emilee, 2, and Christa-Lee, almost 1. Lee is investment leader at Sabbath School, so everyone in the family has a project, even the baby.

Barbara S. Foster, '76, lives in Harrison, Tennessee.

Beverly (Chase) Foster, '71, and her husband, Bill, are on the staff at Little Creek Academy, Knoxville.

Evelyn (Folger) Fowler, '74, and her husband, James, live in Greenbelt, Maryland. She is assistant head nurse on a medical-surgical unit at Washington Adventist Hospital. Their children are Jimmy, 7, and Janelle, 2.

Ronald V. Fowler, '72, is a dentist in Spartanburg, South Carolina. He and his wife, Lynda R. (Eadie), '72, are parents of Bryan Ashley, 9, Nicholas Scott, 3, and Mindy Brooke, 2.

Louella (Graves) Freeman, student '72, is a supervisor of labor, delivery, and maternity at the Loma Linda University Hospital in California. She received her M.A. from Loma Linda in 1980 and married Tim Freeman the same year.

Wanda (Weikum) Freitas, '74, is an R.N. working for a registry. Her job takes her to medical-surgical floors at various hospitals in the Sacramento, California, area. She has been married since December, 1982, to Robert Freitas, who works at Sacramento Union Academy.

Susan (Altman) Fritts, '75, works as an R.N. in a progressive care unit at Spartanburg General Hospital. She married Jim Fritts in 1976 and their son, Tony, is almost 4. They live in Hendersonville, North Carolina.

Roberta (Bainum) Froom, student '67 to '70, is in Orlando, where her husband, Fenton Froom, is a radiologist. They have boys Eric, 7, and Ryan, 4, and another one was due in June.

Marsha (Tuttle) Frost, '78, pastors the Arlington and Fairfax churches in the Potomac Conferences. Her husband, James Howard Frost, is also a minister. Marsha graduated from Andrews University in 1982 with a master's of divinity, magna cum laude.

Terence and Arlene Fletcher, '70, live in Shreveport, Louisiana, and welcome visits of friends. Terence is secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas-Louisiana Conference. Arlene teaches pediatric and medical-surgical nursing at Northwestern State University. Their children are David, a 9th-grader, and Christy, who will be in grade 6. They have four hens and a 'melodic rooster.'

Bradley Galambos, '71, and his wife, Janice, moved recently to the Florida Conference where he pastors the New Port Richey Church. Previously they were in the Alabama-Mississippi Conference for five years. Their Connie is 6.

Steven A. Gambrel, student '76, is an alcoholism and chemical dependency counselor in Indianapolis. He is married and has a daughter, 5, and a son, 4.

Roberta (Noel) Gardner, student '67 to '70, graduated from dentistry in 1975 and has been in general practice in Hesperia, California, since 1976. Her husband, Floyd Gardner, is branch manager for a savings and loan. They have two children, Margaret, 4, and Daniel, 2.

Jordan W. (Lou) Gaspard, student '68 to '71, is a nursing home administrator. Married, he has three children and lives in Slidell, Louisiana.

Dick Gates, '77, has just returned from another term of mission service in Peru where he was pastor-pilot-nurse at the SDA airbase in the jungles. Currently he is self-employed in Apison, Tennessee, and his wife Meraldie, former student, is a public health nurse for Bradley County.

Diana (Adams) Hartfield, '73, and her husband, Anthony, own a steel truss manufacturing business. She works one day a week in the office and handles payroll. Diana is active in lay ministry at the University of Arkansas and helps with fair booths in a four state area. She also conducts seminars to help women have a better prayer life. The Hartfields have a daughter, almost 4, named Anna Faith. She has survived two open-heart surgeries and a serious automobile accident. They give God the glory that she is now the picture of health.

Harry Haviland, '78, and his wife, Bonnie (Erickson), '74, live in Sandersville, Georgia. After a Revelation Seminar, there is a new church in their formerly dark county, and they are both active in it. Harry teaches high school math. Bonnie is conducting nutrition and cooking classes for new members. Their daughter, Sally, is almost 6.

Jim and Sandy Hawkins, '74, are in Marion, Ohio. He pastors the Marion and Bucyrus churches. Their daughters are Karen Denise, 6, and Andrea Jeannine, 1.

Bill Hay, '75, and Cherie (Baize), have two girls, Lorelei, almost 4, and Julie, almost 2. Bill manages the Adventist Book Center in Collegedale, and Cherie is a full-time mother and wife. She is also organist for a Methodist church in Chattanooga.

David Haynes, '75, is band director and instrumental teacher at Hinsdale Junior Academy in Illinois. His wife, Sandi (Knowles), former student, helps direct the hot lunch program there. Timothy, 6, and Malia, 5, were born while they were at Hawaiian Mission Academy in Honolulu. They have been at HJA five years. Larisa is 3, and Marinda, 2. David got his master's at Andrews in 1976.

Gerald (Mitch) Hazekamp, '74, is a minister in Murphy, North Carolina.

Evelyn (Wireman) Heath, '73, has a state-approved home school for her daughter, Stephanie Rae, almost 8. Son Charles Robert is 5. Her husband, Steven D. Heath, drives for North American Van Lines, transport freight. He is a deacon, and she has a number of offices in the Morehead, Kentucky, church. They live in West Liberty.

Laura Hedden, '72, is still working as executive secretary to a vice president of Loma Linda University Medical Center. She also belongs to a soccer team that plays in the Riverside Women's Soccer League.

Linda L. (Taylor) Helm, '75, is a nurse in a small town hospital. She and her husband, Herb, live in Monticello, Arkansas. He is doing a doctoral internship in school psychology. They raise tropical birds and sheep dogs.

Anita Henderson, '79, has started her second year of coursework on her master's of science in biology degree at Andrews University. She taught elementary school for two years in Banner Elk, North Carolina, and a year in Orlando.

Vanessa (Greenleaf) Henson, '79, is living in Loma Linda, California.

Wilson Horsley, M.D. '72, married Jean Kegley in 1982. He practices ophthalmology at New England Memorial Hospital and lives in North Reading, Massachusetts.

H. Richard (Rick) Hunt, Jr., '78, is in mortgage banking as office manager and supervisor of brokers, living in Laguna Beach, California. His sister, Bonnie Jeanne, is married to a third-year dental student, Kevin Cockrell, at Loma Linda University.

Bob Hunter, '70, and his wife, Bunny, '68, live in Stone Mountain, Georgia, where he pastors. Bunny is a part-time public health nurse for Fulton County. Children are Rob, 12, Billy, 8, and David, 6.

Tom Hunter, '83, and his wife, Melinda (Carlton), '77, live in Collegedale. Tom is employed by McKee Baking Company in the training department. Melinda is an R.N. in the SICU at Memorial Hospital, Chattanooga. Their children are Christopher, almost 5, and Erin, 1.

John Huskins, '74, pastors the Banner Elk, Valle Crucis district in North Carolina. He and his wife, Sherry, have a son, John Randall, 3, and expected a second child in May.

Lynn Hutchinson, '79, owns her own home on Lake Lanier, Dawsonville, Georgia. She is customer service manager at the NISCO Division of Baltimore Business Forms Hospitality Division.

C. Mark Hynum, '77, is a senior medical student at Loma Linda University in California.

Avery D. Iles, '77, owns and operates Dale's True Value Hardware in Collegedale. He and his wife, Jan, have sons, Jeremy, 5, and Joshua Dale, 1.

James C. Ingersoll, '73, teaches health and religion at Fletcher Academy. He is also work coordinator. His wife, Becky, is school nurse and assistant girls' dean. Carlyle is 12 and Heidi, 7.

Kathryn (Ippisch) Irizarry, '72, just finished her family practice residency in Shreveport, Louisiana. Her husband, Carlos Irizarry, is also a family practice doctor.

Robert L. Ivey, student '74 to '75, lives in Monticello, Wisconsin, where he works with furniture warehouse retailing and antique flea market auction sales. He married Grace Roopehand in 1977, and they have a daughter, Dannielle Lee, 5.

Maria M. Iznaga, '79, teaches lower grades at First Austin SDA Church School in Austin, Texas.

Melvin Pat Jackson, '74, maintains an apartment complex in Madison, Tennessee. He and his wife have daughters 4, and under 1.

Richard G. Jacques, D.D.S., '76, graduated in 1980 from the LLU School of Dentistry and now is in private practice general dentistry in Greenville, South Carolina. He is currently building a new office. His wife, Mary Jane (Gibert), '74, is a housewife at present. Daughter Lauren is 2 and another baby was due in May. Both Richard and Mary Jane are active in the local dental society and other community and civic organizations.

Kerri Denise Jones, student '74, is an AHSU-nbelt computer analyst and lives in Longwood, Florida.

LaMar J. Jones, '76, is stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, in the U.S. Army. Special Forces. He is single.

Linda (Chapman) Kaog, '70, lives in Longwood, Florida. Her husband is an emergency room physician, currently president of his group which covers three hospitals in the Orlando area. Linda's main responsibilities consist of taking care of her home and family, which includes two boys and a girl, ages 12, 10, and 3.

Bruce Kaufmann, '79, and his wife, Cindy (Allen), '78, are moving from California to Jacksonville, Florida, now that he is finished with dental school and a residency. Their son, Joshua Allen, is 1.

Irdene Kay, '78, works for Dale's Hardware in Collegedale, but home for he and Barbara (Norton), '78, is a small farm on Sand Mountain, Bryant, Alabama. Their children are Trytta, 4, and Luis, 1. They welcome friends from college days to visit!

Ellis G. Keevert, '78, pastors a new congregation just formed in Columbia, South Carolina. His wife just graduated this spring with a degree in psychology. Their children are 14 and 12.

Lester Keizer, '76, and his wife, Sheila, former student, live in Louisville, Kentucky, where he pastors the St. Matthews Church. He is also working on his doctorate at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Sheila directs the church day care center. Melodie Joy is 6 and Jason is 2. 'The weather in Louisville reminds us so much of Collegedale—rain, rain, rain!'

Clyde Lindsay Leeds, '71, pastors the Lawrenceburg-Pulaski churches. He lives in Etchridge, Tennessee. In May he completed the M.P.H. degree from Loma Linda University.

Del Leeds, '76, and his wife, Suzanne, '77, live in Winston, Georgia. He is principal of the Douglasville SDA School, and Suzanne is kindergarten teacher. Their blue-eyed daughter, Christy, 5, is one who benefits from this arrangement!

Connie (Ryals) Leggett, '77, lives in Springfield, Virginia, and is a part-time staff nurse at Fairfax Hospital, labor and delivery department. Her husband, Dennis, is a systems engineer. Their daughter, Ellen Selena, is 2.

Lowell W. (Skip) Lemon, '81, is a dental laboratory technologist and manages production. He is single and lives in Clarkston, Washington.

Those Who Walked These Halls

William Leyva, '78, received his M.D. degree from Loma Linda University, has finished a year's internal medicine residency, and has just begun a pathology residency at St. Louis University in Missouri. His wife, Jane (Kennedy), '76, finished an M.N. at the University of California-LA, and is now working as a certified family nurse practitioner at a Family Care Center in St. Louis.

Amanda (Brown) Lewis, student '72, is working in Loma Linda, California, and living in Highland. She has a daughter named Valerie.

Rick E. Lewis, '79, is a cardio-vascular perfusionist at the Sanger Clinic in Charlotte, North Carolina. His wife, Karen (Lewis), is in nursing school at Central Piedmont Community College. Their first child was expected in June.

R. Lindsay Lilly, Jr., '70, is a staff neurosurgeon at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Oakland, California.

Chris C. Lindsey, '76, is associate director of community relations at Porter Memorial Hospital, Denver, Colorado. His wife, Penny (Anderson), is home with their two children, Nathan Vaughn, 3, and Tiffany Christine, 2. They live in Littleton.

Nathan Lindsey, '77, is a medical illustrator for textbooks and journals in Loma Linda. He is still single.

Re Nae (Schultz) Matthews, '74, has taught senior high home economics, math, and English at an inner city school for seven years. She lives in Ocoee, Florida, and plans to start her third and fourth degrees in September, 1985, in nursing and junior high science.

Paul Douglas McAlister, student '76, and his wife, Pennie, have been married since 1980. Their children are Cassie Jo, almost 3, and Paul Douglas, Jr., 1. They live in Gratz, Kentucky. Doug was in nursing, but has been under a doctor's care now for three years.

Phyllis J. McCluskey, '74, is an independent quality assurance contractor for Riverside County Mental Health Department. She hopes to begin an independent nursing practice in the future. Her husband, B.J., is writing church music. They live in Corona, California.

Audrey (Norman) McDarty, '79, is a staff nurse on a medical special care unit. She and her husband, Olney, are proud parents of Audrey Ann, born last October. They reside in Jacksonville, Florida.

Fred McDonald, '77, is assistant head nurse on a medical-surgical unit at Takoma Adventist Hospital, Greeneville, Tennessee. His wife, Nancy, is a C.C.R.N. working in the ICU at Takoma. They have a daughter, Stacey, 3, and expect another child this summer.

Wesley Owen McDonald, student '71 to '73, is running for the Tennessee House of Representatives, District 30. He is an R.N. employed as charge nurse on the orthopedic-neurosurgery floor at Hamilton Medical Center, Dalton, Georgia. His wife, Linda (Anderson), '73, is art director and layout artist at the College Press at SC. She's worked there for eight years. Their daughter, Sabra Shevon, is 4.

Renita (Mitchell) McDougal, '77, teaches in the Maryville, Tennessee, SDA Church School and writes in the education field. In June she graduated with high honors from the University of Tennessee-Knoxville with a Ph.D. in elementary education. She was recently honored by the University Women's Commission for leadership and academic excellence.

Tony H. Mobley, student '70's, is an employee of the U.S. Postal Service. He works with the new optical character reader. He and his wife, Lee, a new SDA, both help in the Sabbath School. Their daughter, Amy, is 3, and son David is almost 2. They live in Ohio.

Walter Mobley, student '77, and his wife, Brenda Herman, also a former student, live in Pikeville, Tennessee. Walter has temporarily driven a truck until Brenda graduated in June. Their son is 6.

Rhonda (Ferree) Monroe, '79, teaches church school in Dearborn, Michigan. She lives in Belleville.

Nancy L. (Hughes) Montgomery, '74, teaches at Asher Memorial SDA School, Adamsville, Tennessee. She has grades 1 to 8, as well as choir and piano teaching. Her husband drives a county school bus and is on the volunteer fire department and rescue squad. Their son is 2 and her step-son is 9.

Kay (Bullock) Moore, '71, married Jack Moore from Atlanta. They live in Marietta, Georgia, and have a son, Justin, almost 2, who keeps them entertained and on their toes. She considers herself a retired R.N. at present.

Lucretia Moore, '78, spent four years working in the medical-surgery ICU at Loma Linda University before going back to school. She's in the nurse anesthesia program there and lives in Redlands, California.

Kevin Luke Morgan, student '75 to '77, and his brother, Dale, are both attending SC and their sister, DeeDee, plans to join them at SC in the fall. They live in Ooltewah.

Michael Patterson, '76, is farm manager and teacher at the SDA Indian School in Holbrook, Arizona. He and his wife, Pam (Bleich), '76, and '79, have two daughters, Amy, 4, and Amber, almost 1. Pam was a student missionary nurse to Nicaragua in 1976-77.

LaVeta M. Payne, student '66 to '77, writes that she and her parents live a very quiet, retired life and are fast becoming 'proper Texans.' They live near Cleburne, Texas.

Rebecca Lois (Mauler) Payne, '78, is an R.N. at the V.A. Hospital in Columbia, Missouri. She works as evening charge nurse on a general surgery floor. Her husband is employed at the University of Missouri, and they have a little boy, almost 2, who keeps her busy at home.

Mary 'Wilene' (Johns) Peden, student '74 to '75, is in Cleveland, Tennessee. Her husband has owned a dental laboratory for six years. They have one child, Stephanie, almost 3.

Robert Peeke, '71, and his wife, Sandra (Welch), '83, moved to Knoxville last September. He is associate pastor of the Knoxville Church and directs the Adventist Student Center at UTK. Their daughter, Jill, arrived in January. Her brothers are Justin, 9, and Julian, 6.

Donna Elaine Petty, student '78, is finishing a dental assisting course in August. She has been working at Florida Hospital—Altamonte in the dietary department.

Cynthia (Hagerman) Phibbs, '78, has been an IV therapist at East Ridge Community Hospital, Chattanooga, for five years. Her husband, Lynn, is a shipping supervisor at McKee Baking Company. Curtis, Jr., was born while she was in Orlando and is now almost 8. Christina Marie is almost 6. They live in Collegedale.

Charles Pierce, '72, is senior installation director for SMS of Somerset, New Jersey. He lives in Hackettstown.

Charles Alan Piercy, '77, is director of maintenance for the Mark Twain Manor Nursing Home in St. Louis, Missouri. He married Vicky Diane (Morgen) in 1980. She works at St. Mary's Health Center as an L.P.N.

Sharon (Weaver) Pittman, student '73, is married to John Pittman, a pilot. They both work at the airport in Laramie, Wyoming, and are active in the SDA church there.

Richard Pomeroy, '73, teaches industrial arts at Forest Lake Academy, Florida. He has been there for seven years. His wife, Meredith, is working on her R.N. Their daughters are Christy, 8, and Kimberly, 5.

Gregory Scott Porter, '77, married Mary Kay Anderson in 1975. They live in St. Paul, Minnesota, where he is principal of the SDA elementary school. Their daughters are: Summer, 6; Brooke, 5; and Amber, 2.

Harold Roddy, '80, and his wife, Donna (Henderson), '77, live in Obion, Tennessee, where he farms and she is assistant head nurse in medical-surgery. They have a son, Matthew, 3.

Helen (Seiden) Rodrigue, student '75 to '76, is a homemaker in Houghton, Louisiana. Her husband is an automotive painter. Their children are John, 3, and Kristy, 1.

Alexander Rojas, '76, is a graphic artist living in Maitland, Florida.

David L. Rose, '69 and '72, is surgical assistant at Madison Hospital. His wife, Claudia, '72, is career director working with continuing education at Madison Hospital. They live in Goodlettsville, Tennessee. Their son, Derek, is 2.

Tammy (Naus) Rosenberger, '78, and her husband are building a home out in the country near Whitehouse, Ohio, for their sons, 4 and 1. She has been doing some substitute teaching.

Ginger (Arthur) Rozner, student '77, lives in Charlotte, North Carolina, and works part time with Emery Airfreight. She and her husband, Ronald Scott Rozner, have sons Richard Scott, 3, and Robert Steven, 1.

William Ruby, '77, and his wife, Velda, '72, live in Avon Park, Florida. Their twins, Heather and Chad, are 3. William is principal of the junior academy in Avon Park. Velda teaches kindergarten in the same school.

Barbara (de Pena) Russell, '78, is a part-time graduate student pursuing a performance music master's at UTC. She teaches piano at home and mothers Sabrina, 2. She enjoys aerobics and weight training as a hobby. Her husband, Lee, plays the organ for their church, Tracy City, Tennessee, Episcopal.

Margaret R. (Pierce), '71, spent the last eight years in the Oregon Conference with her husband, Gary, who is a minister. In May they moved to Madison, Tennessee, where he is pastor of the Madison Campus Church. Their children are Gary Bryan, 7, and Cherise, 5.

Rene Ruttimann, '75, is a doctoral student finishing up his dissertation, 'Early Christianity in Its Contact With the Hellenistic World of Healing Religions in Asia Minor and Syria—Especially With the Asklepios Cult.' He also is teaching at Harvard. He lives in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Marilyn Jo (Cuodiff) Sliger, '74, has devoted the last five years to loving and instructing children as kindergarten teacher and day care director. She lives in Collegedale and attended UTC night classes for four years. She completed a first M.Ed. in curriculum and instruction, and second certification in administration and supervision including principalship.

Clarence and Ginger (Fardulis) Small, both '70, live in Carrington, North Dakota. Clarence pastors a three-church district. Ginger is church bulletin secretary and also edits Parson's Partner, a conference newsletter. Chris, 10, is enjoying school; Loren is 3, and 'tries to keep up with big brother.'

Jerry Small, '74, and his wife, Linda, '73, live in Cooperstown, Pennsylvania. Jerry pastors the Seneca and Warren churches and Linda is a nurse at a family planning clinic. Their children are Dustin Leallan, 3, and Misty Leanne, under 1.

Leslie Smart, '73, ministers to two churches in North Carolina. He and his wife, Connie (Beck), '74, have a child, Ashley, 4. They live in Lucama.

Linda (Stevens) Spady, '77, is clinical educator in spiritual care for the nursing division, Loma Linda University Medical Center. She married Robert Spady, a junior medical student, in June, 1983. They enjoy camping in the San Bernardino mountains with their dogs, and working with earl-teens.

David and Daina (Mitchell) Spears, both '78, live in Tomball, Texas. Daina is an R.N. at Houston N.W. Medical Center in the nursery. David is an accountant at Challenger Minerals. Rochelle Lynn was born in 1981 and Megan Anne, in May, 1983.

Robert B. Sperrazza, former student, and Jackie (Liles), '77, live in Colton, California, with their cat, Marmalade. Jackie is an R.N. at Dialysis and Robert is beginning his anesthesiology residency at Loma Linda University. He graduated from medical school in June. They plan on eventually moving back to Florida.

Rose M. Stampfli, '70, teaches at Swiss Memorial School in Gruetli-Laager, Tennessee.

Barbara C. Stanaway, '70, has been teaching at Spalding School in Collegedale. Her children are all SC graduates. She comments, 'Praise to God for their Christian education and mates.' David and Amy (Stanaway) Hack have been living in Collegedale. David and Gay (Stanaway) Knapp live in Crossville, Tennessee, and have a son, David Roy, born last November. Ian and Cindy (Charles) Stanaway live in Maceo, Kentucky.

Dennis Starkey, '79, is doing general dentistry in Glendale, Arizona. He graduated from Loma Linda University in 1983. His wife, Tamara (Clapper), '79, works full time as an R.N. at Phoenix General Hospital. They recently moved into a new home.

Kay S. (Kinder) Starkey, student '77 to '78, works part time at Kettering Medical Center in Ohio as an R.N. on the surgical floor. She married David Starkey in August, 1979. Son Darin was born in February, 1983.

L. Thomas Sterndale, student '72, is on the teaching and maintenance staff of Thunderbird Academy. He and his wife, Joan (Hedges), SC graduate, have two girls, 7 and 4. They were at Maplewood Academy for five years before going to TA.

Robin (Miller) Tallant, '79, is a nursing supervisor at East Tennessee Baptist Hospital on a cardiac monitored floor. She married Ralph E. Tallant, Jr., in July, 1983, in Canada. He is an attorney and partner with Baker, Worthington, Crossley, Stansberry, and Woolf. They live in Seymour, Tennessee.

Doug Tallman, '77, is chaplain and Bible teacher at Mount Pisgah Academy, Candler, North Carolina. He assists with the gymnastics team and sponsors the ski club and search and rescue. His wife, Sandy, expects their first child in October.

Dennis and Joan Taylor, both '72, are medical doctors living in Littleton, North Carolina. Dennis is regional director for Community Physicians, a group that provides emergency physicians in the East. Joan is busy with three children (Jill, 4, and twins a year old) and church, especially bell choir. She works as an emergency

Robert K. Thomas, student '79, works in Houston, Texas, as a carpenter, cook, and bartender.

Amada (Hinton) Thompson, '79, is a homemaker and mother of Benjamin, 3, and baby Jonathan. Her husband, Tim, just graduated from SC in May.

Susan Elizabeth (Mills) Van Cleve, '74, lives in Shelbyville, Indiana. Her husband, Stephan, is an optometrist. Their daughter, Shelby, is 3. Susan teaches private voice and piano lessons, directs a choral singing group, is pianist and musical director for the SDA church there, as well as VBS leader, Sabbath School superintendent, and youth class instructor.

Dorsey L. Van Horn, '75, is a dentist practicing family dentistry in Calhoun, Georgia. He and his wife, Mary Ellen (Bristen), have two children, Elizabeth Renee, 6, and Michelle Rae, 3.

Susonya (Galutia) Vigh, '73, is currently a physician about once a month. 'It's like a vacation after the kids. However, I wouldn't know what to do without them.' Dennis flies his own plane to his work which takes him from Ohio to Florida.

Theodore A. Teeters, '68, and his wife, Mary, '70, live in Monmouth, Illinois, with their children, Rachelle, 13, Rebecca, 12, and Carolyn, 7. Mary works as an R.N. in the CCU at Cottage Hospital in Galesburg. Theodore teaches grades 1 to 8 at Prairie View School.

Judith M. (Bennett) Thames, '75, is a full-time medical secretary in the physical therapy department of a large Miami hospital. She is a member of the Miami Temple Church.

David W. Thomas, '79, is an R.N. at Florida Hospital. He is completing a B.S. in business administration.

homemaker enjoying Jonathan, 6, and Andrea, 5. Her husband, Alexander Vigh, is a busy OB/GYN physician in solo practice in Lexington, Kentucky.

Douglas Von Krieglstein, '75, lives in Bryn Mawr, California, and is a general contractor. Occasionally he builds schools in Haiti.

Byron and Denise Voorhels, both '78, live in Columbus, Mississippi. Byron pastors the three churches in the Tupelo district, and Denise is an R.N. working full time in a pediatrician's office and part time in critical care.

Bob Wade, '71, and his wife, Paula, '74, are in Ridge Manor, Florida. Bob is president of East Pasco Medical Center and Paula is a homemaker. Lacey is 3, and Robby was born March 30.

Glenn R. Walte, M.D., M.P.H., student '69 to

Those Who Walked These Halls

'72, is resident physician at the University of Maryland department of preventive cardiology. He lives in Baltimore.

Betty (Thomsen) Wallace, '73, teaches at West Carroll Primary, McLemoresville, in the resource room, and lives in Huntingdon, Tennessee. She received her master's in 1980 from UTM. She and her husband, Paul E. Wallace, have a son, Adam, 6, and a daughter, Jennifer, 3.

1980's

Michael and Lori Abbott, both '83, are in Ohio. Mickey is boys' dean at Mount Vernon Academy and Lori teaches business classes.

Kent Adams, student '82 to '83, is currently a student at Loma Linda University in California.

Angela Addison, '80, is a peds nurse at Loma Linda Hospital and just completed her M.P.H. degree at LLU. She lives in Colton, California.

Daniel Adels, student '77 to '80, lives in Salem, Oregon. He graduated in October, 1982, from the physical therapy division at Loma Linda University. He practices in Stayton, near the Cascade Mountains, and greatly enjoys the Northwest though he misses Collegedale. His brother, Duane, '81, and his wife, Ida (Richards), live in Porterville, California.

Joan Marie Andrew, student '83, has been attending Newbold College in England, working on a degree in psychology, sociology, and criminal justice. Her home is in Mason City, Iowa.

Gary Andrus, '82, lives in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where he is media producer for Mark Leonard Market, producing radio and TV spots and print ads. Lisa, his wife, is attending LSU.

Luane Armstrong, student '82, is a feeder at McKee Baking Company and is currently taking nursing classes for her R.N.

Tamelia Armstrong, student '81 to '82, is still in Collegedale, working for Angelica Healthcare Systems.

Catherine L. Arnold, '80, and both her daughters have B.S.N. degrees from SC. She works on a medical floor at Florida Hospital. Kay (Arnold) Jorgensen, '77, is nursing part time, has a daughter 3, and lives in Hendersonville, North Carolina. Kerry and Robert Burns, both '79, have two boys and live in Florida where he is a pastor.

Robin Diane (Hamaker) Atkins, '81, is an R.N. employed at the Children's Hospital, infant oddler unit, in Birmingham, Alabama. She and her husband have a baby, Erin Marie. They plan to work on B.S. nursing degrees this fall at a local university.

Dawn Austin, '83, is single, lives in Troy, Michigan, and works as assistant auditor for Peat, Marwick, and Mitchell, in Detroit.

Scott Aycok, '83, is contract piano teacher and choral accompanist at Thunderbird Adventist Academy. He has no family news but is still searching! Any references may be mailed to 3858 W. Montebello, Phoenix, AZ 85019.

Clark R. Bonilla, '83, married Carol Jean Odell, former student, and they have been living in Collegedale. In the fall he will attend the University of Tennessee-Knoxville, for an M.A. in history.

David, '84, and Cheryl Brannon, '82, are heading off to Loma Linda University where David will study medicine. Cheryl has been working as secretary to a urology group in Chattanooga.

Dale Breece, '84, and his wife, Kathy Wuerstlin, '82, moved to Silver Spring, Maryland, after graduation. Kathy writes that her sister, Janice (Wuerstlin) Mayberry, '77, is a 20-cent stamp away at: 9 Nimitz Drive, Nimitz Hill Estates, Piti, Guam 96910, and hopes to hear from classmates.

Mark Bresse, '80, pastors the Spencer and McMinnville, Tennessee, churches, 105 members between them. Sharon (Gulley), '81, is his wife of three years. She is a public health nurse in the Warren County health department. A recent Revelation Seminar brought together 25 non-Adventists. So far, the family includes Mandy, a golden retriever, and Muffin, a cat.

Evan M. Chesney, '83, is choral and vocal teacher at Mount Pisgah Academy, Candler, North Carolina. He also teaches Bible and sponsors the senior class.

Cheryl (Rice) Clark, '79 and '81, is an R.N. on the progressive care unit at Florida Hospital. She married Tom Clark May 1, 1983. He is a full-time community college student.

Connie Coble, '83, is an office manager in Phoenix, Arizona. She lives in nearby Glendale.

Lawrence F. Cole, '80 lives in Gambrells, Maryland, and pastors the Bell Branch and Waldorf churches. A Cole son was born February 6, 1981.

Verna (Knecht) Coggeshall, student '79 to '80, is assistant treasurer of the Chesapeake Conference, in charge of conference association accounting and programming. Her husband, Greg, is a programmer at Columbia Union College. They live in Takoma Park.

Roy Cole, '82, is layout and design artist for Classic Chevy Club, International. His wife, Roberta (Snyder), '79, works every other weekend at Florida Hospital as an R.N. in labor and delivery. Other days Bert stays home to raise Benjamin, 2. They're renting in Apopka because they hope to soon return to Tennessee.

Crawford Compton, '80's student, is married to Kathy Mulholland, '83. He has been studying accounting at Chattanooga State Tech. They live in Collegedale.

Mary Comston, '82, works as an R.N. in a coronary care unit in Decatur, Alabama.

Martha Dann (Dannenberger), '78, '80, is an emergency room staff nurse at Tidewater Memorial Hospital, Tappahannock, Virginia. She worked at Monument Valley, Utah, Hospital from 1980-82. She would love to hear from friends.

Gary Davenport, '81, has been teaching in a one-room school in Tunkhannock, Pennsylvania, for three years. Next year he will be principal at the Master's Memorial School in Daytona, Florida. His wife, Della (Wilson), '81, is an R.N. currently caring for Shawna Lisa, 2, and Daniel Richard, 1. They enjoy church, Pathfinder, and community activities, and long for Jesus' soon return.

Terry L. Davis, '83, is a doctor of optometry in Winston-Salem, North Carolina. He owns and operates North Point Eye Clinic. His wife, Melanee (Snowden), '79, is administrative secretary, orthopedic surgery, at Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

David Dennis, '83, is a hospital engineer living in Naylor, Georgia, responsible for preventive and casualty maintenance, and records management. He is engaged to marry Lori Hodges, '83, on November 11 in Orlando.

Delores (Foreman) Dever, Dec '82, teaches grades 1 and 2 at Pewee Valley Junior Academy in Louisville, Kentucky. Since leaving SC, she married Michael Dever. He has a year of respiratory therapy school left to go.

Pamela Dickman, '83, is very much enjoying teaching home economics classes at Cedar Lake Academy and being assistant girls' dean. Thanks, Southern, for the great Christian education!

Dennis Dodd, '83, anticipated finishing a second degree at SC in May, then heading to Loma Linda for a master's in marriage and family therapy.

Myron Donesky, '82, is enrolled at the Loma Linda University School of Dentistry. His home is in Lake Placid, Florida.

Sharon Flemmer, student '79 to '80, is working for Shawnee Mission Medical Center in the billing department. She is 'still playing the field,' has lived in Kansas for three years, and loves it there. She finished her secretarial associate degree from a community college.

Anna Fletcher, student '78 to '80, works in medical records at Walker Memorial Hospital in Avon Park, Florida.

Dean Flint, '82, is principal and teacher at the Raleigh SDA School in North Carolina.

Patricia (Tighe) Ford, '83, is an executive secretary. She married Jeff Ford, former student, and they have a son, J. Adam, born October 21, 1983. Jeff is registered supervisor in respiratory therapy at the community hospital in Springfield, Ohio.

Deborah Jean Gagnon, '81, is a nursing instructor at Atlantic Union College. She also works part time as training coordinator for Kelly Health Care, and is completing a double-major master's degree in patient education and nursing management.

Rita D. Giebel, '83, is office manager for her parents, both physicians, in Ukiah, California. An exciting outreach program is with diet and nutrition therapy. 'Since Dr. Grundset got me interested in birds, I've travelled a number of places in the U.S. chasing those critters down—it's been a great outlet.' Rita graduated from California State University-Sacramento with a biological sciences degree, subspecialty in biological conservation, including wildlife management. 'As earliteen Sabbath School leader and Pathfinder counselor I'm using that aspect of managing wildlife!'

Lucia Gilkes, '81, just finished a B.S. in behavioral science (anthropology and family studies emphasis) at Loma Linda University and plans to get her M.P.H. in international health. She has been working as an emergency room nurse at LLU Medical Center.

Heidi J. (Surdahl) Glantz, '82, is an R.N. at Porter Memorial Hospital. She married Perry Glantz, student '82, on July 25, 1982. Son Mark William was born January 13, 1984. Perry expected to graduate from Denver University undergraduate school this June.

Cindy (Harris) Glass, '81 and '83, is a registered nurse working in an emergency room. She and her husband, Roger Glass, live in Chattanooga. He is director of administrative representatives in an area hospital and working on his B.S. in nursing at SC.

Laurena K. (Greve) Glass, '82, is an R.N. at Erlanger Medical Center, labor and delivery department, in Chattanooga. She married in June, 1983, and her husband attends UTC. They have a new daughter.

Lisa (Longley) Godfrey, '80 and '82, is assistant head nurse for a 10-bed coronary care unit. Her husband, John, is a computer programmer for Harris Corporation. They live in Melbourne, Florida. John is working on his B.S. and Lisa starts her M.S. in September.

Diana L. (Dodd) Goff, '82, is a social service assistant at Walker Memorial Hospital. She married John B. Goff in an outdoor wedding on August 14, 1983. He works with the Avon Park, Florida, correctional institution and the sheriff's department.

Joyce Arlene Gohde, '81, lives in the same house as Linda Dickinson (her SC roommate) and her mother in Murfreesboro, Tennessee. Joyce is governess and housekeeper for a family with three children under 12.

Heide Gustafson, '83, is continuing study at SC for her B.S. in nursing. Meanwhile she is an R.N. on a medical-surgical floor at Tri-County Hospital in Ft. Oglethorpe.

Kris Hackleman, '80, just finished an M.A. in art at Marshall University, Huntington, West Virginia, in May.

Jeanine V. Hahling, '83, married Gregory K. Ellis, '84 class president, on May 20. They are in Sandersville, Georgia, for the summer, and will be at the seminary at Andrews University for the next two and a half years.

R. Harvey Habenicht, III, '82, is a propagator of tropical fruit trees at Zill Nursery. He is single and lives in Boynton Beach, Florida.

Linda (Wheeler) Hale, '84, is an R.N. presently a homemaker. She and her husband, Scott Hale, former student, have two daughters, Ashley Erin, 3, and Olivia Marie, under 1. Scott works at McKee Baking Company in Collegedale.

Ruth (Happner) Hale, '81, is an R.N. working as operating room circulator. She and her husband, Richard, a medical technologist, are enjoying country living near Dover, Arkansas.

John Henson, IV, '80, and his wife, Vanessa (Greenleaf), '79, are at Loma Linda University. He graduated from the School of Medicine in June, will complete a year of internal medicine at the LLU Medical Center, then take a neurology residency at Vanderbilt University in Nashville beginning in June, 1985. They are pleased to be going to Vanderbilt 'not only because of it being a fine school, but also because it is only three hours from a majority of family and friends.' Vanessa is administrative secretary for the School of Nursing, undergraduate division, at LLU.

Chuck Hess, '80, lives in Greenbelt, Maryland, and works as accountant for a private dining club in the Georgetown section of Washington, D.C. Debbie (Kijak) Hess, '79, plans to complete her M.A.T. at Andrews University in August, 1984.

Cindy Hodges, '82, married William James

Taitano on July 22. They will live in Orlando for awhile. Cindy is a computer operator working for a large real estate company there.

Janette Hofer, '81, is working and studying at Loma Linda University, planning to go on to graduate school. She is from Englewood, Colorado.

Timothy B. Holbrook, '81, and his wife, Dawn (Lindquist), '82, live in San Bernardino, California. Tim was just finishing an A.S. degree in engineering, and Dawn is working as assistant charge nurse in the pulmonary ICU at Loma Linda University Medical Center. They are both pilots and own a plane.

Jeff Joiner, '80, is an R.N. in the emergency room at Huguley Hospital in Texas. His wife, Judy, former student, graduated this year with a word processing degree. Jeff is taking a B.S.N. program at Keene. Their daughter, Shauna, is 2.

Penny Jones, '80's student, is taking business management in Michigan. Her father, William E. Jones, '52, is loss control director and ASI secretary for the Lake Union.

Richard Jopling, student '80, is a paint subcontractor in Orlando.

Maxine Kay, '81, is teaching grades 1 to 4 at the Brakeworth School in Birmingham, Alabama. She lives in Hoover and is still single.

Stephen D. Kelley, '83, is a law student at the University of Georgia. He lives in Stone Mountain and is single.

Ronn S. Kelly, '80, directs patient finance at Hialeah Hospital and is a graduate student at Florida International University. He lives in Miami Lakes, Florida.

Dale L. Kimbro, student '80, got married in April, 1983. He is studying accounting and working at Florida Hospital in engineering.

Jeffrey King, '80, anticipated graduating from medical school at Loma Linda University in June of this year.

Daniel K. Kittle, '82, is teaching religion and history at Highland Academy. He married Vonda Harr, former student, in Collegedale on June 10.

Deborah Kaye (Snyder) Lilly, student '80, is a nurse aide at Carillon Nursing Home. She married Kevin Michael Lilly on April 10, 1983, and their Christian home is on Long Island in Greenlawn, New York.

Keith O. Lipscomb, student '81 to '83, married Patricia Holder, former student, on March 11, 1984, in Takoma Park, Maryland. They live in Laurel.

Tonna (Hardin) Logan, former student, is office manager for a C.P.A. partnership. She and her husband of almost seven years, Bruce Logan, live in Water Valley, Mississippi. Their daughter, Casey, is 4.

Laura Lynn Luke, student '79 to '80, died in June, 1982, in Sweden following a tragic auto accident. She had graduated from the Sorbonne in Paris with her master's degree and was scheduled to teach in the language area at SC the 1982-83 year.

David Markoff, '82, is a medical student at Loma Linda University.

Cheryl Macri, student '79 to '82, graduated from the dental hygiene program at Northwestern University in Chicago in June and is marrying Vincent Manchow, from Niles, Michigan, in August.

Bobby Steven Martin, '82, plans to get his B.S.N. in December from Jacksonville State University in Alabama. He lives in Talladega.

Dave Mathewson, Jr., '83, began duties as nature director at Camp Kulaqua in the Florida Conference as of April 1. His wife, Carol (Houck), is a former SC student.

Those Who Walked These Halls

W. Dale Mayes, '80, is production manager for Angelica Healthcare Services Group in Collegedale. He is single.

Iris Mayden, '81, is secretary to the vice president for production at the Review and Herald Publishing Association in Hagerstown, Maryland. She worked a year at Hong Kong Adventist Hospital, returning to the U.S. in December, 1982.

Samuel Austin McBride, '81, is music director of WSMC-FM and contract teacher at SC for Audio Productions I and II. His wife, Deborah Faye (Redden), '83, is an R.N. at Diagnostic Hospital in Chattanooga.

Frankie Lynn (Bradshaw) Nichols, student '82, is an interior decorator, married to an insurance executive. They live in Harrodsburg, Kentucky.

Timothy D. Nichols, '83, is a junior accountant with Brent Ross C.P.A. in Jacksonville, Florida. He married Kristel Gudmestad, '83, on April 29, 1984, at the Cohutta Church in Georgia.

William F. Noel, '80, is public relations editorial assistant at Faith For Today in Newbury Park, California.

Bruce Norman, '81, just began his second year of the M.Div. program at Andrews University in June. His wife, Chris, was an SC student '78 to '79. For two years they were in Williamsburg, Virginia, where Bruce pastored.

Raymond (Bud) Norton, '80, is self-employed as a commercial fisherman in Alaska during the salmon season, May to August. He captains a fishing vessel. He and his wife, Jeannie, live in Clackamas, Oregon. Their first child was expected the end of April.

Mark S. Offenback, '80, graduated from the University of Tennessee College of Dentistry in June, and plans to practice family dentistry in Orlando. He married Cindy (Krenrich), '80, in July, 1981.

Rebecca Sue Oliver, student '80 to '81, is at Nosoca Pines Ranch, the Carolina Conference camp, doing everything from housekeeping, farming, gardening, to horseback riding and having fun.

Mary E. (Hernandez) Osborn, '83, teaches in a one-room school in Lenoir, Tennessee.

Dixie (Knecht) Owens, '81, is teaching grades 4, 5, and 6 and directing the choir at Calhoun Elementary. She married Greg Owens, '82, on June 26, 1983. He teaches auto body at Georgia-Cumberland Academy and works for Polymer Products, Inc.

Larry Paden, student '77 to '81, is a foreman at Thunderbird Furniture and his wife, Lora (Smith), '81, is a secretary at Boy Scouts of America. They live in Glendale, Arizona. Amanda Renee was born last November 2.

Claudia (James) Parker, '81, is an R.N. working as director of nurses at Life Care Center of Collegedale. Children are Tyson, Stephanie, Jennifer, and Shannon.

Ronald R. Pickell, '80, pastors the Elizabethtown and Whiteville churches in North Carolina. Ryan Christopher was born October 8, 1983.

Kevin Pires, former student, is an R.N. working at Tri-County Hospital in ICU. He and his wife, Beth (Holbrook), '77 and '81, live in Apison, Tennessee. Their home was blessed May 3, 1983, by the birth of Shellie Marie.

Victor Pohle, '80, is budget director and reimbursement specialist for Shady Grove Adventist Hospital in Rockville, Maryland. He just finished his M.B.A. and was traveling to Zaire in May to accompany his sister, Candace, former student, back to the States, with a tour of Europe en route home. He enjoys New England skiing.

Karla Michaelis-Pope, '82, is an eligibility social worker for the Tennessee Department of Human Services, Public Assistance, in Chattanooga. When her husband, Michael, graduates from SC, they plan to head either to Alaska or New England. They were married in 1983.

Karen Raitz, student '80, graduated in Nebraska in May with a business administration major and certification in fashion and interior merchandising. She planned to find work in Atlanta.

Burnham Rand, '82, pastors three churches and a branch Sabbath School in the Goodland, Kansas, district of the Kansas-Nebraska Conference. His wife, Jan, former student, is working on her B.S.N. degree. Their daughter, Ginger, is 5.

Joseph Reversion, student '78 to '80, is living in Holbrook, New York, working as a quality control inspector at Cybex division of Lumex. He is interested in teaching industrial arts in Argentina. is 'single and available.'

Penni Reynolds, student '80 to '82, is secretary to the food manager of the Adventist Book Center in the Southern New England Conference. She lives in Hudson, Massachusetts.

Loren Rieseberg, '81, completed his M.S. in botany at UT-Knoxville this spring, and plans to begin doctoral work in botany at Washington State University in the fall. He is still single.

Fred Stephens, '80, is a personnel assistant at Florida Hospital and does employment interviews. He is working on his M.B.A. at Rollins College, is still single, and enjoys the outdoor lifestyle of Florida.

Lisa Sterling, student '81 to '82, is currently in Michigan earning her B.S. in speech pathology. She says she's 'honored to be considered an alumnus of SC' though she didn't graduate there.

Dawn Steve, student '77 to '80, graduated in May with a B.S.E.D. in special education from Western Carolina University, Cullowhee. Her daughter, Rianne, is 3. They are moving to eastern North Carolina this summer so that she can begin teaching severely emotionally handicapped children.

Mike Stone, '81, has been working as a field engineer for a copy machine company in Louisville, Kentucky, but was seeking means of self-employment when he wrote. He is assistant minister of music and co-leader of the singles club at church in Louisville. He shares an apartment with his brother, Terry, and would like to correspond with friends (especially female) that know and knew him at SC. (825 Applegate Lane, 88, Jeffersonville IN 47130)

Debra Wickman, '82, is working on a master's of science degree in parent-child nursing at Loma Linda University. She expects to graduate in June, 1985. She is employed in the LLU Medical Center neonatal intensive care unit, and lives in Colton, California.

Calvin Wiese, '82, is special projects manager for the finance department at Adventist Health System/Unbelt. He married Tami Goodall, student '79 to '82, on December 18, 1982. A baby, Cecil Benjamin, joined the family in Orlando on February 21, 1984.

Becky Susan Wooley, '80, is an R.N. in an acute care psychiatric facility in the Chattanooga area, Valley Hospital.

Thomas Rodney Worley, '80, is administrator of a nursing home in Kernersville, North Carolina, a suburb of Winston-Salem. Hillhaven, the second largest nursing home chain in the U.S., is the corporation employing him. His wife, Lori (Tullock), former student, is office manager in another nursing home in the area. Rod is working on his M.B.A. degree. They attend the Winston-Salem Church.

Terri (Ball) Wuttke, student '78 to '80, teaches grade 4 at Captain Gilmer Elementary School in Fletcher, North Carolina. She completed her degree at Warren Wilson College in Swannanoa, North Carolina.

Kimberly R. Wygal, '80, is working on her master's of accountancy with an emphasis in taxation at the University of Oklahoma. She and Tim Arellano, '82, plan to be married this summer, and both will graduate in December. he from law school.

Deborah Wynn, '81, is a staff nurse at Loma Linda Medical Center on the trauma medical-surgery intensive care unit. She lives in Grand Terrace, California.

Randy Wynn, '82, is a carpenter in Chattanooga, and plans to go to physical therapy school soon. He is marrying Janeen Jenkins this summer.

Donna Young, '81, is an administrative secretary at Hinsdale Hospital near Chicago, Illinois.

Philip D. Young, '81, pastors the Benton and Malvern district in Arkansas.

Donna (Lee) Zackrisson, '80, has been working as an R.N. on a pediatric floor, often in charge of the 3-11 shift. She married David Zackrisson, former student, in 1981. They have been living in Berrien Springs, Michigan. David graduated in June with a bachelor of technology degree in agriculture.

Kathy Zelmer, student '69 and '82, is teaching English at Enterprise Academy. Her son, Joseph Cory, is 8.

There's More To Come

If your news item was left out in this issue, look for it in the next! Due to space limitations, we will continue "Those Who Walked These Halls" in the October edition.

Deafness no handicap for Suzanne

by Doris Burdick

She never heard a word her teachers said. She never once spoke up in class. When Suzanne Whitley received a B.A. in International Studies this spring at SC, she didn't hear one word of congratulations.

Deaf from birth, Suzanne has but eight percent of normal hearing, enough to discern the slamming of a door. But Suzanne concentrates on opening doors.

Having attended the Tennessee School for the Deaf at Knoxville through high school, her sign language and lip-reading skills were already honed when she came to Southern College. But for a deaf person, English as we know it is almost a foreign language, Dr. Robert Morrison, her major professor, points out.

Suzanne's interdisciplinary degree in the humanities meshed with her interest in languages and books, since it had a Spanish emphasis. She also studied French for two years and worked on a library science minor.

"Her major gives her a broad cultural background for whatever career she chooses," says Dr. Morrison. "Suzanne's pervading motive is to be of service in the Lord's vineyard. She really has a desire to tell other deaf about Jesus, perhaps even where Spanish or French is spoken. She hopes to counter the bitterness and the questioning of God's existence sometimes found in the deaf community." Defective hearing is the most common physical disability in the U.S.

Last fall another deaf student, Joan Holowach, transferred to SC as a junior from Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C. Gallaudet is the only liberal arts college in the world for the deaf. She lives with a family in the Collegedale community and plans to continue her studies next year. In the college cafeteria a growing number of students ate and signed together, enlarging Suzanne's world of friends. Her roommate last semester, Shelly Harrison, already knew sign language when she came to campus. The teachers have also been very helpful and kind, according to Suzanne. "Now they are more aware of the special needs the hearing impaired have than the first year when I was here.

Amid a standing ovation from the audience, Suzanne Whitley receives diploma from Dr. John Wagner during graduation ceremonies.

"I wanted to prove to everybody including me that I could make it through Southern College even though the college had no experience in working with the deaf," says Suzanne.

How did she manage to do that? "Persistence," says Dr. Morrison.

"Actually, working with someone with her kind of determination and goals, relatively few concessions to her handicap were called for."

The Tennessee State Education Department through its Division of Vocational Rehabilitation provided interpreters to accompany Suzanne to class.

Darwin Ayscue, a religion graduate in 1983, was one of the interpreters the state hired. John Urso, a student in 1982, and Carol Krouse Fegarido, student '61-'64, from the Collegedale community also interpreted for her. Signing for her science class was one of the toughest assignments, as terminology often had to be spelled out.

From Suzanne's viewpoint, she confronted several difficulties. Understanding the English language, especially concepts, is often perplexing even for those with perfect hearing. Lip-reading had its limitations, for some people are very difficult to lip-read. And sometimes it was hard to find an interpreter for a certain event.

"I was raised to face challenges and fight with them." Suzanne printed in clear, quick script when asked how she viewed her struggles at Southern College.

Her family members, who live in Maryville, Tennessee, gave her every encouragement. Just before graduation, however, Suzanne faced the grief of a death in the family.

Next year she plans to work in a library or as a secretary, as well as take some computer-related courses.

"Suzanne has a keen sense of compassion," asserts Dr. Morrison. "She loves animals. She doesn't like to see suffering of any kind. She also has a creative streak. She writes poetry and loves music."

One of Suzanne's dreams is to learn to play some kind of music. "I always dreamed that I'd play the violin or piano someday," Suzanne wrote. "I want to do something that people think the hearing impaired can't do."

With her spirit, doors are sure to keep opening to her.

Congratulations, Suzanne! ■

Those who walk with the Lord shall meet with presidents and kings."

Throughout his life, this popular Christian saying has held true for Eugene A. Anderson, long-time Southern College supporter, and founder and chief executive officer of the Atlanta-based Southern Saw Service, Inc. In March of this year, Anderson was invited to the White House for a briefing on economic and defense matters. During the two-day meeting, he had the chance to hear speeches from top administration officials and to meet President Reagan.

Anderson has also gone on trade missions for the United States Department of Commerce. During trips to such places as Europe, Africa, South America, Australia, and the Far East, he stayed at the homes of presidents, was entertained at U.S. ambassadors' homes, and received the red carpet treatment from foreign officials.

Despite all of Anderson's dealings with power and wealth, he has a refreshing sincerity and simpleness about him. Anderson has not forgotten his heritage and credits his background with much of his success.

"I believe in the Adventist way of life and the Seventh-day Adventist Church," he emphasizes. Eugene Anderson has also transferred this caring, Christian philosophy into his company. "People make all the difference in a business," he says. "We want to be family-like at Southern Saw Service without being paternalistic." It is obvious that Anderson has succeeded in his goal. The employees have worked hard for the success of the company and the results have been phenomenal. Southern Saw Service has evolved from a small machine shop with two employees to a globe-encircling industry with customers in 87 countries. The company is a recognized leader in the manufacture of saws, blades, grinder plates, and knives for commercial use in stores, supermarkets, and restaurants.

Anderson himself has led his company to revolutionize the saw industry. During his visits to Europe and other research centers of the world, he has made use of the latest technology in steel finishing to achieve blades and saws that are

BOARD PROFILE:

E. A. ANDERSON, CHRISTIAN BUSINESSMAN

by Ken Rozell

sharper and longer-lasting than any others. Of the more than 20 patents the company holds, Anderson holds eight of them personally, having researched and developed much of the company's original equipment.

For his accomplishments as an entrepreneur and his dedication to the private enterprise system, Anderson was awarded the Entrepreneur of the Year Award by the Georgia Business and Industry Association in 1977. But the accolades don't stop there. He has also received the Distinguished President Award from the Atlanta Optimist Club and the coveted Optimist of the Year Award. In 1969 he was granted an honorary doctor of humanities degree from Columbia Union College, his alma mater. These tributes recognize Anderson's years of volunteer service to church, civic, and government organizations. He has held leadership and advisory positions with the Boy Scouts of America, YMCA, Visiting Nurses Association, Julius Schneider Medical Foundation, Fulton County Department of Family and Children's Services, and has taken part in college and hospital boards.

Anderson has not forgotten those who have contributed to his success. Over the past few years, he has been transferring ownership in Southern Saw Service to the employees. "I want to reward those who have helped build the company," he says. "They have been very honest, loyal, and willing to serve their fellow-man." The transfer plan is set up as an employee stock ownership trust. Each year 15 percent of the payroll is put into the trust, which buys the stock for the employees. Each employee's share of stock is based on his or her salary and tenure with the firm. Presently, 62 percent of the company is owned by the employees.

Anderson is also a strong believer in Christian education. He has served on Southern College's Board of Trustees for 19 years and has generously supported Southern College as a charter member of the Committee of 100. In addition, both he and his wife, the late Florence Oliver Anderson, set up funds to benefit the college. The E. A. Anderson Fund underwrites the Anderson Lecture Series, summer workshops for denominational personnel, and the Eugene Anderson Scholarships for business majors. The Florence Oliver Anderson Fund underwrites nursing seminars and scholarships.

"Look for the best in employees, prospects, customers, everyone you meet. When you look for the best in people, the best comes back to you."

The Andersons set up these funds because they wanted to broaden the educational horizons of students at Southern College. "One of the keys to success is to find out what you like and then pursue it," Anderson says. But he feels that success is also an attitude of the mind. "Many people in the business work hard, but in addition to hard work, you need to believe in people. People have a lot of good in them," he emphasizes. "Look for the best in employees, prospects, customers, everyone you meet. When you look for the best in people, the best comes back to you."

Bill Richards and his achievements—it's a way of life.

Bill Richards

Building credentials and inspiring students

by Doris Burdick

Some people collect coins. Others accumulate salt shakers. Bill Richards collects certificates. And he does it the old-fashioned way—he earns them.

E. Williams Richards, Jr., Ph.D., C.P.A., C.M.A., C.I.A., C.D.P., C.C.P., C.C.A., is professor of business administration at Southern College. An alumnus, he returned to the campus in 1977.

His latest accolade comes as an award of excellence from the Institute for Certification of Computer Professionals as a top scorer in the 1983 Certificate in Data Processing (C.D.P.) Examination. Dr. Richards tied with three other candidates for top score in the management section of the five-section test. This achievement is not without personal precedent.

As top scorer in the nation among those taking the Certificate in Management Accounting Exam (C.M.A.) in June, 1980, he was presented the Gold Medal Award at a ceremony in Hawaii the following summer. Others of his certificates represent proficiency in public accounting, internal auditing, computer programming, and cost analysis.

He seeks these certificates not for themselves. His motivation goes even beyond the knowledge they represent. He feels that if a teacher obtains these certificates, his students might well be inspired to aim for measurable professional attainments. At the same time, knowing what the exams are like, he can incorporate material into his classes that will prepare his students to do well on the exams as well as in the job market. Predictably, he has had the pleasure of seeing more than one SC graduate pass the C.M.A. and C.I.A. (Certificate in Internal Auditing) exams with flying colors.

Turning down financially attractive positions elsewhere, Dr. Richards' philosophy is simple: He believes in setting himself a challenging goal and striving for it. He encourages students to do the same, providing a few "challenges" for them in the process.

It's not all books and no play for Bill Richards. Sabbath afternoon hikes with students, camping trips, Friday evening worship with the house full of students ("Dr. Bill" at the piano) are samplings of other activities he enjoys. This summer may be remembered for the blisters involved in building a new house, as he is doing much of the construction himself. Christmas 1982 stands out for another characteristic Richards achievement—going for the top in the Tetons. He and his climbing party made the first winter ascent of the South Couloir of the Middle Teton on Christmas Eve. Their base camp for five nights was a cozy snow cave they hollowed out.

No doubt his wife, Evonne (also an achiever, having just earned an Ed.D. after her name), will continue decorating walls with certificates in weeks to come. ■

With top honors, Peggy Brandenburg graduates as SC's first 'Southern Scholar'

*by Wendy Ripley
and Doris Burdick*

Peggy Brandenburg graduated in May from Southern College as the firstfruits of the special Southern Scholars honors program. She completed a B.A. degree in English and psychology with a French minor. Peggy graduated summa cum laude, the highest honor possible, which requires a grade point average of at least 3.90.

The Southern scholars honors program, in operation for two years, is designed for students who bring to their baccalaureate studies a high degree of motivation and curiosity. Special projects, interdisciplinary studies, and designated honors courses provide an intellectually stimulating educational experience. Degrees of depth and breadth are attained in this program beyond those normally attained in regular baccalaureate studies.

An honors committee, chaired by Dr. Art Richert, professor of mathematics, administers the program and advises and monitors students admitted into the program. Students invited to become Southern Scholars are either freshmen with a high school G.P.A. of 3.70 or higher, or other students who have completed 31 to 62 semester hours with a cumulative G.P.A. of 3.50 or higher. "It's an enjoyable group to work with," says, Dr. Richert. "I'm happy to see academic performance rewarded."

Peggy Brandenburg

After successfully completing one year in the honors program, a Southern Scholar may audit one class of his choice per semester without charge. As an upper division student with at least a year's participation in the program, a Southern Scholar receives a tuition reduction equivalent to the cost of one three-hour class per semester. This credit, an academic scholarship in effect, went to 14 scholars last semester. There were 46 enrolled in the honors program this past year.

Peggy, the first graduating Southern Scholar, is from Nicholasville, Kentucky. She attended the University of Kentucky before transferring to SC for her junior and senior years. Hilda Fern Remley, admissions advisor, visited with Peggy several times and helped her negotiate the switch.

"Many friends who are interested in the things I'm interested in, friends who do things I want to do, friends who believe as I do," is Peggy's definition of the biggest advantage at SC. "If I had not come here, even though I might still have been an Adventist, I would not have formed the lifelong friendships I now have." Peggy was social vice president of the Student Association during her senior year.

Scholastically, she has appreciated the smaller classes, the individual attention. "Though course selection might be wider at a larger school, I have enjoyed the greater flexibility available at SC because the teachers know you individually."

Peggy plans to attend Georgetown University School of Law, Washington, D.C., in the fall. ■

SOUTHERN PEOPLE

Tony Edney Jeffrey Basham

■ Two SC nursing graduates landed in Cape Town June 11 for a volunteer stint in African hospitals.

A philanthropic foundation in Wisconsin paid the fares for Tony Edney and Jeffrey Basham to serve in this way. The SC Development Office made the contact which initially established the $10,000 fund providing round-trip transportation for nursing students to work six months to a year in Africa.

Edney graduated in May with an A.S. degree and Basham, already an R.N., is a junior going after his B.S. degree. Visa restrictions made it necessary to send nursing graduates rather than students still in their first two years of nursing study.

The two male nurses expect to spend two months at Maluti Hospital in Lesotho, and the remainder of their African stay at Heri Hospital in Tanzania, East Africa.

Their nursing skills will be applied at outlying clinics as well, some of which are reached by four-wheel drive vehicles.

If all goes well, two other SC nursing graduates will head for Heri in September. Two more now laying plans to depart for Africa in January are Deanna Wolosuk and Roxanne Klocko.

"They need to be prepared for rigorous conditions," writes Dr. Allan Handysides, director of health and temperance for the Eastern Africa Division. "We promise no rose garden, but a real life of experiences close to people who desperately need help, love, and the Lord. This will not be a holiday. Hard work is the order of the day."

The program is being coordinated through chaplain Jim Herman's office and the General Conference Secretariat as part of the student missionary outreach on SDA campuses.

Hilda Fern Remley

■ Hilda Fern Remley retired as Southern College's admissions recruiter July 30. Miss Remley began her career in 1938 teaching elementary school at Valley Grande Academy. After receiving a B.A. in English in 1946, she went to Sunnysdale Academy as girls' dean and English and P.E. teacher. In 1952, Miss Remley moved to Union College to become dean of women, a position she held for 23 years. She then came to Collegedale in 1975 and has since worked for seven years full time and two years part time as an admissions recruiter, focusing much of her time on high school students and students in the Kentucky/Tennessee Conference.

Merlin Wittenberg

■ Merlin Wittenberg has joined the Southern College staff as admissions advisor to Dr. Ron Barrow, vice president for admissions and college relations. Wittenberg will be working in recruitment, admissions, counseling, and as high school guidance liaison. He received a B.S. in elementary education from SMC and a master's in administration and supervision from the University of Arkansas.

Wittenberg's position was made possible by a friend of the college who believes that intensified recruiting efforts will make a difference in the number of students attending SC. This anonymous benefactor is paying for Wittenberg's entire salary.

For the past seven years, Wittenberg has taught sixth grade at Spalding Elementary. Prior to his teaching experience in Collegedale, he taught for 11 years in Florida. Wittenberg also served as assistant dean of men at SMC from 1969-1970.

Wittenberg's wife, Jan, works in the accounting department at Southern College. They have one daughter, Tami, who works at McKee Baking Company and attends cosmetology school.

■ Vinita Sauder, public relations director of Southern College, accepted the national Gold Quill Award of Excellence at the annual conference of the International Association of Business Communicators in Montreal in June.

Mrs. Sauder won this award for editing the hospital newspaper Caring for Kettering Medical Center in Dayton, Ohio, where she worked in the public relations office.

In addition to the Gold Quill, Mrs. Sauder has won 10 other awards for excellence in design, newspaper writing, and editing for the Ohio hospital, including several awards from the Virginia and Ohio Societies for Hospital Public Relations.

Catherine Knarr

■ Catherine Knarr has assumed the post of chairman of the Division of Nursing. Mrs. Knarr, who has taught in the Division of Nursing since 1974, graduated from Columbia Union College with a B.S. in nursing, and from the University of Tennessee with her master's in science. Prior to teaching at Southern College, she worked as a nursing supervisor in Florida, California, and Maryland.

Mrs. Knarr has three daughters. Jody is 18 and will be a freshman at SC next year. Both Cheryl, 16, and Jill, 14 will attend Collegedale Academy next year.

SOUTHERN PEOPLE

Jeff Kraft, sophomore accounting major, tooted his own horn and got $300 for it. Sheila Elwin, journalism junior, did just as well on the clarinet; John Krum, math senior, likewise on the violin.

These three students were recipients of college scholarships presented at the annual SC Symphony Orchestra Dinner Concert on April 22.

Teddy Ashton, entering Collegedale Academy this fall, represented the Suzuki feeder program at Spalding Elementary School as recipient of a $100 scholarship. A cellist, Teddy joined the SC Symphony Orchestra this past year, though he began playing the violin at age four and the cello when he was six. Music is basic with his family: his mother also plays the cello in the orchestra, his older brother plays 2nd violin, and his sister and dad play the violin. (Dr. Bruce Ashton is a professor of music at SC.)

Scholarships were awarded on the basis of musical ability, service to the orchestra, future potential, and need.

Evie VandeVere was the 1983-84 president of the Symphony Guild, which sponsored the third annual dinner concert and the four scholarships. Other officers were Pat Elliott, Patricia Kuhlman, Ellen Herman, and Virginia Hagen. Peg Knecht assumes the Guild presidency for 1984-85.

The Guild now has over 40 members with the common goal of providing scholarships and helping promote the orchestra. New members are sought.

Valerie Forbes, nursing student, has been chosen to receive the first Ellen Gilbert Fellowship Award. The $1,500 fellowship was established by Diagnostic Hospital and North Park Hospital in honor of Ellen Gilbert, former chairman of the Division of Nursing who resigned in May.

Valerie is participating in the two-plus-two nursing program pioneered by Mrs. Gilbert that allows nurses with a two-year associate degree to return to school, and in two additional years of study, graduate with a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

In a joint statement by the administrators of the two hospitals, the positive impact that Southern College makes on health care in Chattanooga was recognized. "Without farsighted institutions and leaders such as Southern College and Ellen Gilbert, the health care delivery system would be at a severe disadvantage as we face the financial and technological changes of the near future. To our knowledge this is the only award of its kind available in this area; we hope that in some small way it recognizes and repays the benefits we have received by being associated with Southern College in the past."

In addition to the fellowship, the Ellen J. Gilbert Nursing Achievement Award has been established by the faculty and friends of Mrs. Gilbert to be given to one A.S. and one B.S. nursing student each year who demonstrates leadership and motivation. This past year, A.S. senior Roxanne Anderson and B.S. senior Craig Peterson received the award.

John Kendall

John Kendall, assistant director of computer services at Southern College, recently won an award from the Hewlett-Packard 3000 International Users Group for writing the software program "JSPOOK." The program is a recovery program for use after system failure and is now part of the software library at Hewlett-Packard. The award was presented at the group's international conference in Montreal.

Southern College will have two new division chairmen for the 1984-85 school year. Robert Moore will head the Division of Mathematical Sciences. He received a B.A. in math from SMC in 1975 and went on to the University of North Carolina for a M.A. in math. Moore replaces Art Richert who resigned as division chairman, but who will continue teaching at Southern College.

Robert Kamieneski is the new chairman of the Division of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation. He received a B.S. from La Sierra College, a M.Ed. from Boston University, and an Ed.D. from Brigham Young University. Dr. Kamieneski joined the college staff in 1980.

The SC Symphony Guild awarded four scholarships last semester. Left to right: Wilma McClarty, Jeff Kraft, Sheila Elwin, Teddy Ashton, John Krum, Evie VandeVere.

Southern Update

Joe Hodges presents historical Graysville documents to McKee Library.

Madison-Nashville Chapter Elects Officers

The central Tennessee alumni organized as an alumni chapter on April 17.

Jim Closser, '79, was elected president of the Madison-Nashville Alumni Chapter. Dwight Hildebrandt, '63, is vice president, and Cindi Whitehead Young, '78, secretary.

"The Mission of the College" was delineated by Dr. John Wagner, SC president, at the organizational buffet dinner in Madison.

William Taylor, assistant to the president, served as master of ceremonies, and Dr. Jack McClarty, vice president for development and alumni relations, gave a progress report.

"The food and fellowship were very enjoyable," commented a guest.

Hodges Donates Rare Graysville Documents to SC

Joe Hodges, a 1968 graduate who owns and operates Graysville Nursing Home in Graysville, Tennessee, recently presented McKee Library with a rare collection of notebooks containing board and faculty meeting minutes dated from 1901 to 1919.

Hodges received the books in 1969 while teaching at the Graysville Elementary School. A woman, Mrs. Frank Washburn, whose husband was an elder of the Seventh-day Adventist Church in Graysville, had salvaged the books years previously from a trash barrel. Since Hodges was a teacher at Graysville and had lived there most of his life, she entrusted them to him shortly after her husband's death.

At the time these minutes were written, Southern College was named Southern Training School and was located in Graysville. The books contain many interesting pieces of information, ranging from discussions as to whether a teacher's salary should be raised to $12 a week, to what disciplinary action should be taken with delinquent students.

Although the people of Graysville would have very much liked to retain the books as a beginning of Heritage Room there, Hodges felt that they should be at the college where they can be kept the vault and preserved a historical setting.

SC Freshmen Tell Academy Seniors About College Life

Southern College's Admissions office began a new student recruitment program in May. The Ambassador Program provided an opportunity for two SC freshmen to return to the academy they attended and tell about life on a college campus. The students spent about one week on the campus of their alma mater, speaking at worships, tutoring students, and participating in athletic and social events.

Because of a one-day training seminar, the 16 SC students who were involved in the Ambassador Program at the eight participating Southern Union academies were able to give not only their first-hand accounts of college life, but also information on college admission policies, school standards, and financial arrangements.

Dr. Ron Barrow, vice president for admissions and college relations, is pleased with the results for the first year of the Ambassador Program. "We are encouraged by the response from the academy students and faculty and hope to see the program grow and include all of the academies in the Southern Union."

New Building Named Richard Brock Hall

The Board of Trustees of Southern College has announced that the new humanities building, the second structure of the new fine arts complex, will be named Richard Brock Hall in honor of Richard A. Brock, president of the Schmar Company, Inc. Working with O.D. McKee, chairman of the board for McKee Baking Company and general campaign chairman for Project '80, Brock raised over $1 million from foundations, corporations, and individuals in the Chattanooga area, making possible the construction of the fine arts complex. The total raised for the project was $3.1 million. The announcement of the Board of Trustees was made at a private luncheon for Mr. and Mrs. Brock, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. McKee. Other guests included Dr. John Wagner, college president; Dr. Jack McClarty, college vice president for development; and William Taylor, assistant to the president.

An official public announcement was made at the graduation ceremonies of the college Sunday, May 6, with Brock present for the conferral of the diplomas.

The formal opening ceremony for Brock Hall will be held in the fall, at which time the building will be dedicated. The three-story brick and glass structure is currently nearing construction and will house the departments of communication, English, art, history, business and office administration, instructional media, and the WSMC-FM radio station.

Residents of Lookout Mountain, Mr. and Mrs. Brock have lived in the Chattanooga area most of their lives. They have one daughter, Candy Brock, M.D., who practices in Scottsdale, Arizona.

Richard A. Brock

The new Richard Brock Hall.

Southern Update

Students Rewarded for Academic Achievement

At the annual awards chapel, Dr. Cyril Futch, vice-president for academic administration, told the students that the award presentations were a way to emphasize the importance of academic achievement in college. "Today we want to honor those students who have worked hard to achieve academic excellence. By these awards, we want to recognize students who have reached high goals and inspire other students to aim for these goals."

Over 100 students were honored by the college's 10 academic divisions.

Frances Andrews, representing the communication department, presented a $100 scholarship to Southern Accent Editor Maureen Mayden and writing awards to Joe Denny, Gert Curtis, and Mary Gilbert. Communication awards for excellence in journalism were given to Ken Rozell and Doug Walter.

Dr. Robert Morrison announced the newest members of the National Foreign Language Society and presented the $250 Harold Moody Scholarship to Chris Hale.

Eleven students received typing pins from the office administration department, including Janet Loudin for 90 words per minute.

Carol Loree and Nancy Schneidewind received awards for shorthand speed (110 wpm with 95 percent accuracy) and both Carol Loree and Becky Everett won $300 scholarships from the department.

Dan Turk and Magdalena Guraat each received $100 from the behavioral science department. Cyril Roe, representing the education department, presented awards or scholarships to four students: Kent Greve, Chris Hale, Argenta LeBlanc, and Sandra Schiau.

Three $200 gift certificates were awarded by the Division of Industrial Education. Wayne Janzen presented the award in auto body to Stirling Smedley, the construction technology award to Bob Wells, and the award for the four-year B.S. program to David Hendrick.

Dr. Ray Hefferlin presented the general physics award to Kevin Rice and Won Huh while the Division of Music awarded a $1,000 scholarship to Donna Lynn.

The Division of Natural Science gave six awards. Malinda McKee received $200 scholarship in biology. Chris Jordon received the $1,000 John Christensen Scholarship in chemistry.

Five theology/religion majors received awards: Lonnie Kerbs for outstanding achievement; Bob Mountain for excellence in preaching; Mark Goldstein for achievement in Biblical studies; Greg Ellis for his work with the Student Ministerial Association; and Dale Tunnel won a $4,750 scholarship for outstanding Christian leadership.

Theology major Greg Ellis accepts award from professor Jerry Gladson for his outstanding work with the Student Ministerial Association.

Physics Students Co-author International Reports

Physics students at SC are contributing to the forefront of science. Between 1960 and the end of 1983, 32 students have co-authored oral presentations at state, area, national, and international conferences; in many cases they gave the reports themselves. In addition, 13 students have co-authored articles in scientific journals of archival reference; and an article co-authored by two more is currently in press at the European Printing Establishment in Ireland.

The physics department has a proven record of achieving quality instruction with economic Research has been funded in part by such sources as the National Science Foundation, the Southern Regional Educational Board, and the American Astronomical Society. Interested individuals have also contributed voluntarily.

Internationally, there has been recent expression of considerable interest in the research carried on by the physics department. It is hoped that this interest will make it easier to find the outside research funding being sought at this time.

At Rest

J. Franklin Ashlock

ELDER J. FRANK ASHLOCK, '25, died at the home of his son Thomas, '50, in Adelphi, Maryland, on Father's Day, June 17. A week later, a memorial service was held in the Ooltewah church for friends in the area.

Elder Ashlock pastored the campus church and was a Bible teacher at SMC from 1943 to 1947, after he was called back from India during the years of World War II. Before that he served his first term in India beginning in 1928. In 1935 he opened the Adventist work in northern India in Shillong, Assam. That field now is headquarters for the large Northeast India Union.

After his term of teaching, he returned to India in 1950 as Southern Asia Division secretary. From 1954 to 1958, he served as Missionary Volunteer leader for the Indian field and was responsible for the successful efforts which brought thousands of Indian young people to attend Adventist schools. From 1962 to 1966 he was assigned by the General Conference to be division field secretary. In fulfilling his responsibilities he traveled throughout Southern Asia to help where needed.

When he returned to the States in 1966 he became active in starting the Ooltewah church as a branch of the Collegedale community. As one friend commented, "The impact of his godly life cannot be measured by his fellow men."

His wife Marcella (Klock) Ashlock is a member of the first graduating four-year class at Southern Missionary College in 1945. His three children have all attended Collegedale schools. They are Thomas M. Ashlock, Sabbath School department, General Conference; Eva Lynne Herdman, nurse at Washington Adventist Hospital; James Ashlock, Pacific Press Publishing Association, Mountain View, California.

As a memorial gift in memory of Elder Ashlock, the family suggests that contributions be made to the Seventh-day Adventist Church and sent to Mrs. Marcella Ashlock, P.O. Box 23, Collegedale, TN 37315. They plan to open new work in Mandipur, Nagaland, in India, under the direction of the General Conference. Alumni who wish to do so are encouraged to contact Mrs. Ashlock.

In addition, a special plaque to honor Elder Ashlock will be placed in SC's new So-Ju-Conian Religion Center. Memorial gifts are also welcome to help finish the conversion of Miller Hall to comfortably house the Division of Religion.

George B. Dean

GEORGE B. DEAN, science teacher at Southern College from 1937 to 1953, passed away on May 25, 1984. Burial was in Collegedale.

Born in Kansas, he graduated from the University of Wichita in 1928 with a chemistry major.

Through the reading of Adventist literature and the influence of his mother, Dean became a church member in 1929. At the time of his death he was reading his Bible through for the twentieth time.

In 1937 he married Olivia Brickman and they came to Graysville, Tennessee, where he taught science the last year the school was there. Then they moved with the school to its present campus. In 1947 he received a master's degree in biology from George Peabody College in Nashville. "Professor Dean" taught continuously at SMC until 1953. "All our premeds (and most students) had him as a teacher in those days," commented J. W. Henson, who was among that group. From 1953 until retirement in 1972, Dean taught high school science in Dalton, Georgia.

Mr. Dean was a member of the Committee of 100 and a charter member of the Professional Businessmen's Association. Over the years, he and his wife provided room and board for six coeds so they could attend college in preparation for lives of Christian service. The Deans also endowed a scholarship at SC to be awarded annually to an elementary education major. Memorial contributions are enlarging this scholarship fund.

"He was a caring person," according to Charles Fleming, Jr., his next-door neighbor for 16 years. "I never saw him upset, unhappy, or critical. His relationship with his Saviour was one of peace and joy. This lifted George above the annoyances and trials of this life."

Celia Marsh Ledford

CELIA MARSH LEDFORD, a former teacher in business administration, died May 2, 1984, at the age of 94. Her 30 years of teaching for the college began in 1917.

Though born in Michigan, she lived in Collegedale most of her long life. Recently she had made her home with her son, Maurice, in Dunlap, Tennessee. Her daughter, Louise Roddenberry, lives in Alma, Georgia.

Her husband, Carter Ledford, who predeceased her six years ago, was in charge of the college farm and dairy for a number of years. Together they canned thousands of quarts of fruit and vegetables for the college, recalls L. O. Coon, who officiated at the graveside service in Collegedale. He had been her pastor at the Apison church. "That little lady never missed a church service—mighty loyal."

Announcing GATEWAY TO EUROPE

Enrich your college experience and travel to Europe free!

Southern College of Seventh-day Adventists, in cooperation with KLM Royal Dutch Airlines, announces an exciting new travel program for college students. In order to broaden and enrich students' learning experiences while in college, Southern College students can now travel free to Europe by participating in the Gateway to Europe program.

With Gateway to Europe, students enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours are eligible to accumulate travel credit toward free travel to Europe. Credit is accumulated for each hour enrolled according to class standing and grade point average. Students who pull higher grades can earn a round-trip ticket to Europe faster!

After enough credit is earned, students may "cash in" their credit by applying through Southern College for a round-trip ticket to Amsterdam on KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

For more information about Southern College and the Gateway to Europe program, write the Office of Admissions, Southern College, P.O. Box 370, Collegedale, Tennessee 37315.

Southern College
OF SEVENTH-DAY
ADVENTISTS

